VON MACKENSEN PUTS ALLIED FOE TO ROUT

GERMANS WIN BIG VICTORY

Smash Rumanian and Russian Resistance in Dobruja Fighting.

VANQUISHED FLEE IN MUCH DISORDER

British Are Once More Striking Hard on the Somme Front.

Today's War News Given in Summary

The tide of the great battle in the Rumanian province of Dobruja, has again turned, this time in favor of the central powers, according to Berlin today. Field Marshal von Mackensen has succeeded in breaking the Rumanian and Russian resistance, the German office reports, executing an encircling movement, which compelled the entente forces to retreat in disorder.

It was only last night that an official announcement from Bucharest declared that the battle, which has been in progress for six days, had ended Wednesday with the defeat of the Germans, Bulgarians and Turks, who were retiring southward, burning villages as they went. If the German victory turns out to be a decisive one, the situation promises to develop seriously for the Rumanians and Russians, who have been fighting to protect the railroad running from Constantza, on the Black sea, to Tchernavoda on the Danube. The battle was fought not more than twenty miles south of the railroad and its loss would mean the cutting of the convenient water route of communication between Russia and Rumania, by way of Constantza. Through Tchernavoda, in addition, lies the route to interior Rumania over the only bridge spanning the Danube along the entire Dobruja front.

In the fighting in the Carpathians the Russians have taken the mountain peak of Smotret, which already had changed hands several times. Elsewhere along the rugged front the Russians have been attacking heavily, but according to Berlin were beaten off.

The British are again striking hard on the Somme front. Their latest thrust, delivered last night, netted them two lines of German trenches on a line about a mile long, between Fleres and Martinpuich, London announces today. It is at this point that the British have pushed farthest toward Bapaume, which is but little more than three miles distant from Fleres. Last night's advance straightened out the former bend in the line from Martinpuich to Fleres, which now runs almost directly east and west.

The French, for their part of the Somme fighting, have had another series of German attacks to cope with. Strong forces advanced in waves this morning against positions recently captured by the French between Rancourt and Priez farm. According to Paris the Germans did not reach the French lines, being forced back to their trenches with heavy losses by the fire of the French guns.

Berlin, Sept. 22.—The Bulgarian and German troops under Field Marshal von Mackensen have driven back the Russians and Rumanians in Dobruja in disorder, the war office announced today. The victory was gained by means of an encircling counter attack.

Desperate fighting between the Austro-Germans and Russians in the Carpathians continues. The summit of Smotret, which has changed hands several times, has again been captured from the Germans by the Russians.

WAGE ADVANCE FOR WINDOW GLASS MEN

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 22.—Substantial increases in wages for workers in the hand window glass factories of the country were decided upon early today at a conference held in Cleveland between the wage committee of the National Window Glass Workers association and representatives of the factories, according to official advice received here. The new scale becomes operative Oct. 25 when the factories are to resume operations after the summer shutdown and provides for an increase of 20 per cent for single strength, plus 10 per cent for single double strength only. The increase for double strength is 10 per cent. The advance is to apply on the 1915-1916 brackets, the standard set for work in the year just closed. The new scale will affect approximately 5,000 men in Ohio, Indiana and other states.

WILSON TO DISCUSS BRITISH BLACKLIST

President Arranges to Confer With Ambassador Page on Subject.

Long Branch, Sept. 22.—President Wilson has arranged to confer later with Walter Hines Page, ambassador to Great Britain. It is understood that the British blacklisting of some American firms and interference with American mails are to be discussed. Ambassador Page has been in this country several weeks but the president has been too busy to discuss details of the work being done by the American embassy at London. Before Mr. Wilson left Washington, Mr. Page had lunch with him, but business was not mentioned. The ambassador will remain at Shadow Lawn over night.

The president also had an engagement to see Assistant Secretary Sweet of the department of commerce, a candidate for governor of Michigan. Democratic politics in the middle west will be discussed. Arrangements were made today for throwing open the gates of Shadow Lawn to admit the general public at the reception the president will give tomorrow afternoon to New Jersey business men. The president will speak from the same platform on which he delivered his notification address.

TWO BRITISH SUBJECTS SLAIN BY MEX. BANDITS

Taken from Home and Shot for Sheltering Carranza Officers.

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 22.—Two British subjects were taken from their home and shot and thirty-six of a party of thirty-eight Carranza soldiers were killed in a raid Sept. 16 on an Aquila, near Tuxpan, by bandits calling themselves Villistas, according to a report brought here today by the steamer Topila, from Tampico.

The Carranzistas put up a hard fight, it was said, but were outnumbered and overpowered. Two of their officers took refuge in the house of the Englishmen. They were discovered and put to death and the Englishmen killed for having given them shelter, the report adds.

REGISTRATION DAY IS NEXT IMPORTANT EVENT

Registration day, on October 9 in Allen county, as elsewhere throughout the state, is now attracting attention of all political parties. The registration polls will be opened at 6 o'clock in the morning and remain open until 9 o'clock at night. Those absent from home at this time or who will be away on October 9, can register by affidavit, as can be prepared at this time if the voter so desires. The affidavits must be filed with the inspector on registration day. Voters who by reason of sickness or other causes, cannot visit the registration places, can qualify to vote, by affidavit.

TO PUT CURB ON VIOLENCE

New York City Prepares to Deal With Mob Outbreaks in Strike.

FATEFUL DECISION IS EXPECTED TODAY

Trades Union Leaders to Determine on Calling Out 700,000 Men.

New York, Sept. 22.—Repeated threats of a general strike to help a striking car employees caused all branches of the city government charged with enforcing the laws to prepare today for outbreaks of mob violence. Mayor Mitchell's notice that he stood ready to invoke all the civil and military power at his command to suppress disorder was followed by greater police activity and a warning that persons convicted of engaging in strike riots would receive heavy punishment. The police department told the traction companies that they could re-establish night service as soon as they were ready under assurance of adequate police protection. Thus far 6,700 policemen have been disposed at strategic points. This police guard includes a patrol of fifty automobiles and 100 motorcycleists along the most exposed car routes.

The architects have begun the work of drawing the complete plans at once and expect to have them finished by the first of next year, at which time it is planned to award the contract. Work will be begun as early as possible next spring.

MAKES MANY SHORT STOPS

OLD CANNON BOOMS ANDERSON WELCOME

Candidate Switches to the Tariff as Keynote of Day's Talks.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 22.—Charles E. Hughes' second day in Indiana was a day of many short stops, whisking into towns and out, with station crowds, brass bands, brief near platform addresses and handshaking. Into the day's program were crowded twelve short speeches. The thirteenth will be delivered at South Bend tonight.

At Newcastle, the first stop, Mr. Hughes spoke briefly on the tariff. At Anderson, where the special was switched over to another railroad line, the nominee left the train and made a short talk at the court house.

Garfield Cannon Resurrected.

Republican enthusiasts had brought to town an old cannon that saw campaign service in the days of Garfield, and this boomed out a deafening salute as the train stopped. The front of the court house yesterday had been plastered with Wilson and Marshall posters, but they were all torn down early this morning and when the nominee arrived the front of the building was covered with Hughes posters.

Raymond Robins, who was chairman of the progressive national convention, spoke to the crowd to tell them that Mr. Hughes' voice was poor and that he would better not speak in the open air. The crowd wanted to hear Hughes, however, and shouted for him. The nominee spoke for ten minutes, disregarding signals from members of his party to sit down.

At Muncie another crowd greeted him. Mr. Hughes confined his short talks mostly to the tariff.

GETS AN EARLY START.

Candidate's Special Leaves Richmond at 7:30 O'clock.

Richmond, Ind., Sept. 22.—Charles E. Hughes, republican nominee for the presidency, left here at 7:30 o'clock this morning for the busiest day of his second presidential campaign trip. The nominee had thirteen addresses on his program, concluding with a speech at South Bend, where he will spend the night. The program of today's addresses, in order, follows: Newcastle, Anderson, Muncie, Elwood, Tipton, Frankfort, Kokomo, Marion, North Manchester, Warsaw, Goshen, Elkhart, South Bend.

The trip includes the use of six railroad systems. The longest stop of the day was scheduled at Marion, where Mr. Hughes will remain forty-five minutes—from 2:45 to 3:30 p. m. The shortest stop was at Elwood, where he is to stop only ten minutes. Most of the stops were of fifteen and twenty minutes duration, with two—at Anderson and Frankfort—of twenty-five minutes.

Mr. Hughes will spend tomorrow morning in South Bend.

SAYS THEY ARE CRAZY COMBINE

Court Declares Edward Tombaugh and Whisky Must Be Put Away.

SENTENCES HIM TO STATE'S PRISON

Is Convicted of Assaulting Carrie Connors With Intent to Kill.

Edward Tombaugh, 42, was sentenced to a term of from two to fourteen years in the state prison and fined $500 by Judge John W. Eggeman in circuit court Friday morning for the attempt made by Tombaugh to kill Carrie Connors, 38, a month ago.

Tombaugh shot the woman three times, gave her poison, threw acid in her face and beat her over the head with the butt of his revolver in the most brutal murder attempt enacted in Fort Wayne in many months.

"You and whisky are a crazy combination and must be put away," Judge Eggeman declared in sentencing Tombaugh. After the testimony had been completed he took little time for deliberation.

Mrs. Connors took the stand and furnished most of the evidence which convicted Tombaugh Friday morning. She has almost recovered from the three bullet wounds, two of which penetrated her breast. Her story of her frantic effort to save her life, as she fought with the drink-crazed man in her little room on North Clinton street, was dramatic in the extreme.

Three times she lapsed into unconsciousness during the bloody encounter.

POSTPONE ARGUMENTS IN JAMISON CASE

Attorneys Unable to Appear in Suit Against Fort Wayne Police.

(Special to The Sentinel.) Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 22.—Judge Eichorn granted indefinite postponement or arguments in the case of Emory Jamison, of Winchester, against Police Chief Lenz and other Fort Wayne policemen, and the Rurde dry goods store, Thursday afternoon. Attorneys on both sides of the case announced that they would not be able to appear in court Friday morning because of conflicting cases.

The jury in the case, in which Jamison asked $10,000 damages for false imprisonment, granted Jamison $400. Attorneys for the defense petitioned Judge Eichorn to set aside the verdict because the twelve men answered all questions put to them in favor of the defense. Attorneys on both sides will argue merits of the situation before Judge Eichorn.

WILL EASILY MEET AFTER-WAR SHOCK

Hamlin Says Reserve Bank System Will Aid the Business Man.

New York, Sept. 22.—American business men, aided by the reserve bank system, will be able successfully to withstand the shock of European competition after the war, in the opinion of Charles Hamlin, member and former governor of the federal reserve board. His views were expressed at the annual dinner of the institute of accounts last night. He said in part:

"It estimates that the wealth of the United States has increased during the last two years by $40,000,000,000. Bank deposits have increased between $8,000,000,000 and $7,000,000,000 and the stock of gold has increased more than $700,000,000. Since the first of the year the importations of gold have amounted to $400,000,000."

"No nation in the world has ever enjoyed the prosperity that this country now enjoys."

Mr. Hamlin said he felt that this time was one in which American business men ought to be conservative in order to prepare for the inevitable reaction. Commending the federal reserve system he said that in the future no business man who deserves credit will fail to get it.

JURY OUT IN CITY

Case at Decatur Technical Delays Hold Up Arguments Until Friday Afternoon.

(Special to The Sentinel.) Decatur, Ind., Sept. 22.—Special conferences and interrupting court matters delayed the delivery of attorneys' pleas in the case of Andrew J. Langhor against the city of Fort Wayne. Pleas were made Friday afternoon and the jury took the case at 3 o'clock.

Evidence in the case in which Langhor asks $5,000 because of injuries sustained when he was knocked from a wagon by a cable breaking on a dredge machine, a year ago, was all in Thursday afternoon. Judge Smith, who is hearing the case, ordered pleas postponed until Friday afternoon in order that he might dispose of several local cases.

Langhor claims the breaking of the cable was due to carelessness on the part of the city and damages are due him. Attorneys R. B. Dreilbeiss and Louis Plost, of Fort Wayne, and John Moran, of Decatur, are presenting the Langhor claims.

The defense points out that Langhor was given warning not to approach the corner of Dayton street and Broadway, where the dredge stood and that breaking of a cable was not due to carelessness. City Attorney Guy Colerick and Patrick Parrish, of Decatur, represented the defense. Charles Steiss, secretary of the park board, and Fort Wayne City Forester Getz have been in the city throughout the trial of the case.

John Hiron, 2225 Harrison street, son-in-law of Langhor, who was riding on the wagon with Langhor, was thrown to the curb, when the cable struck the vehicle, has introduced a like suit against the city of Fort Wayne in Auburn. It is reported that settlement will be made in his case.

WOMAN WHO ANNOYS MR. PERKINS IS ARRESTED

New York, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Helen Hurdell, of Brooklyn, after several visits to his office, sent George W. Perkins a postcard on Sept. 4 last, saying: "Get your watchdogs out of my residence, especially the O. O. with the sevier voice. Mrs. Hurdell. You know my address."

She was arrested today and paroled until Monday.

Mrs. Hurdell, the police say, has annoyed a number of prominent men with complaints that she was being hounded. She described herself as an author and announced that she had written a book, "The Decline of the New Nationalism, of Mrs. Went's Bologna Sausage," in satire on Col. Roosevelt's volume, "The New Nationalism."

The "O. O." mentioned in her postcard, she said, meant the "old one," one of the four men she insisted had been annoying her.

CIGARS ARE GOING UP.

Increase in Price Announced by New York Manufacturers.

New York, Sept. 22.—An increase in the price of cigars was announced here today by several manufacturers and members of the tobacco trade said that advances would soon begin. Higher cost of raw material and better wages for cigar makers are being asked by the consumers.

BAKER DOUBTS ITS ACCURACY

BASED ON RUMORS REACHING EL PASO

Declines to Discuss Possible Effect on Movements of Pershing's Men.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—Secretary Baker let it be known today that the war department was not disposed to accept as accurate the report of Villa's raid on Chihuahua City last Saturday as transmitted by Brigadier General Bell yesterday on the strength of information that had reached him in El Paso.

"We have no military information as to renewed Villista activities," Mr. Baker said, indicating that it was assumed that General Bell's account was based upon rumors and reports current in border towns and not facts obtained through army channels in Mexico. He declined to discuss in any way what effect the reappearance of Villa, if it were confirmed, might have on the movement of American troops in Mexico.

So far as it is known the war department has made no effort to learn from General Bell the sources of his information. General Funston is expected to transmit promptly without additional instructions any authentic news of the activities of the bandits upon which any change in plan involving General Pershing's expedition might be founded.

Version in Bell Report.

The report transmitted by General Bell states that Villa, after establishing his camp twenty miles from Chihuahua City, sent a letter to General Trevino saying he would enter the city at 3 o'clock on the following day, "to shake hands with him," and asked that something good to eat be provided in advance for his arrival. Villa, true to his word, entered the city, was seen by many there, and made a speech to the populace and the Carranza troops from the main balcony of the governor's palace, shouting "Viva Mexico, you do not have your liberty!"

According to General Bell's report, Villa was received with open arms and no shots fired by the Carranzistas, disturbed his visit during his stay.

Gen. Trevino Assails Version Credited to Gen. Bell.

Chihuahua City, Mex., Sept. 22.—Commenting upon the reports in American newspapers attributed to Gen. Bell, Jr., at El Paso, of the Villa raid upon this city last Saturday, Gen. Jacinto Trevino, commanding the Carranza army of this city, said:

TWO YOUTHS EXPLAIN OWNERSHIP OF RACER

"Well, er—, you see it belongs to the boss," was the way Carl McKee and A. W. Jackson, two Bluffton youths, explained how they happened to be scudding along Fort Wayne streets in the big racing car owned by William Doty, of Bluffton, known as "Wild Bill Doty" in the auto racing game.

Doty drove to Fort Wayne, Thursday night, and dropped into the Lyric theater. He left his racer outside. When he stepped out into the glare again his car was gone. He telephoned the police. All patrolmen were given the license number of the machine.

Twenty minutes later Officer Elmer Coulter found the car roaring past the high school building. He halted the party. McKee and Jackson, with two girls, were in the machine.

Doty, who had taken an interurban car home, was called and admitted the boys worked for him. He told them to drive the machine home. They had passed the theater and seeing the familiar auto had gone for a joyride, they said.

ANOTHER PRIVATE BANK GOES SMASH

Chicago, Sept. 22.—The private bank of Campbell, Dubie & Company, the tenth to fail in Chicago within the last month, closed its doors today. Creditors filed a petition of involuntary bankruptcy against the institution, which was operated in the former quarters under the name of the Industrial Savings Bank.

The petition gives the liabilities of the bank as $800,000 and states that the assets given as $600,000. The bank was organized in 1914 and had a capital of $1,000,000.

SAYS NEW REPRISALS ACT CAN BE ENFORCED

Lansing Holds Violation of Treaty Rights Gives Power to Act.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Secretary Lansing yesterday specifically denied that part of the retaliatory legislation aimed at Great Britain passed by congress in the new revenue law is unenforceable and part of it of doubtful legality, conflicting with existing treaty rights.

When congress first considered the passage of retaliatory legislation the possibility that such legislation would violate treaty rights was discussed. It was declared with emphasis at the time by state department officials that the measures against which the retaliatory legislation is directed are in clear violation of treaties, conventions, and in some instances of the clear precepts of international law.

Holds Britain to Blame.
Senator Thomas, of Colorado, author of one of the retaliatory measures against blacklisting of American firms and goods by Great Britain, while admitting that the allies may be right in their contention that some features of the law may be in violation of certain treaty rights, nevertheless believes that Great Britain herself is responsible for whatever congress felt called upon to do in taking steps to protect American merchants and manufacturers from unjust discrimination on the part of England.

"No doubt the diplomatic representatives of the allied countries in the United States," said Senator Thomas yesterday in discussing the matter, "have made a careful study of the application of some of our treaty obligations in so far as they are affected by the retaliatory legislation passed by congress. But the allied countries themselves provoked this legislation. The act of Great Britain in blacklisting American firms is all right, in my judgment, but when she goes further and prevents neutral ships from taking goods to neutral countries, then Great Britain has violated at least the spirit of the trade treaties between the United States and herself."

Can Bar Ships From U. S.
"It may be true that the United States cannot prevent the issuance of clearance papers to any ship which refuses to carry American goods, but it is likewise true that she can prevent that ship from returning to our shores. This is quite as effective as ordering the detention of such a ship in this country."

"Every belligerent has a right to say what goods shall be shipped to her own territory, but Great Britain has no right to dictate what commerce shall go to other countries. England is bringing pressure to bear on the owners of foreign bottoms to refuse to carry the commerce of the United States and I cannot see why that country has any just cause for complaint."

WIFE'S PLEADING SECURES FREEDOM

Conditions in the Home Cause Judge to Release John Hemmerle.

Pleadings of Mrs. John Hemmerle, 1204 Huron street, that she needed her husband to support her, secured freedom for the man after he was convicted of petit larceny in police court Friday morning, but Mrs. Hemmerle was not able to obtain suspension of sentence on her father, Jerry Lehey, convicted of the same crime, on the plaintive grounds that he has "rheumatiz."

Hemmerle, 38, and Lehey, 54, were found guilty of removing several candy buckets from a Nickel Plate freight car. They took the candy home and stored it in a shed back of the house. When boys, who had watched them take the candy, told officers, the men became frightened. They told Mrs. Hemmerle, "My God, haint we had trouble enough?" she asked, and she referred to the death of their child three days before.

The men started to take the candy back, but abandoned their project near the car. Their wheelbarrow, loaded with the candy buckets was found. All goods have been restored. The men confessed their guilt in police court. Mrs. Hemmerle pleaded with Judge Kerr, saying she was sure that her husband intended to return the property and that he "didn't think," and besides the rent was not paid and she needed him at home.

"It is only on your account that I suspend sentence on this man," Kerr said after some thought. He directed the statement to the little woman who stood before him heavily veiled. Her token of sorrow bears a deeper meaning because she has lost four children in as many years.

"I fine both men $5 and costs. Jail sentence of fifteen days I will suspend in case of John Hemmerle. Jerry Lehey must serve fifteen days in the county jail," Kerr said.

There was silence for a minute. Mrs. Hemmerle spoke again.

"I hate to have father go to jail because he has 'rheumatiz' so," she said. "That is no excuse," Kerr said, and closed the case.

Ukalele Owner Jailed.
Paul Harding, 19, will have no chance to wring plaintive strains from his ukulele, the Hawaiian instrument he purchased some time ago and which he said had taken his money and caused him to neglect his wife. The wily strings will be untouched for thirty days.

Judge Kerr made no allowance for having the instrument transferred to the county jail with Harding when he fined the youth $10 and costs and sentenced him to a month in the county prison, on a charge of wife desertion, Friday.

Harding had been given a chance to furnish $200 bond since Wednesday, and had failed to secure the amount.

He has not provided for his young wife for a month.

Had Turned in Fire Alarm.
Thomas North, 46, was caught by police early Friday morning when he ran west on Superior street to find who had turned in a false fire alarm at the corner of Superior and Calhoun streets. North admitted that he had registered the fake call, police say. He was in police court charged with public intoxication.

The case is held over until Monday and North will be held in jail meanwhile. He has been suffering from attacks due to heavy drinking, since in the jail, police say. If he is held on the charge of turning in the fire alarm a heavy fine and jail sentence will follow.

Other Police Court Cases.
Frank Warner, who said he had been drinking because his wife was sick, and who was arrested Wednesday night, was fined $1 and costs.

Orville Sanders, who gave Butler as his home was released after pleading guilty to a drunk charge. William Crison will be tried on a similar charge Saturday. Fred Marshall, charged with loitering, was released.

SEPTEMBER IS BEST LAWN REPAIR MONTH

Improving Greenswards is Best Done Now, Say U. S. Experts.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The work of lawn repair, like that of making a new lawn, declare specialists of the United States department of agriculture, is the best performed in early September in the central states.

To improve an old lawn that has run down is often more difficult than to make a new one, but if reasonably good turf exists, it can be bettered materially by reseeding and fertilizing. If the lawn is patchy, the small areas should be scratched with a steel rake, dressed with loam or compost and the seed sown on this. If large areas of lawn have a thin covering of turf, it will be advantageous to use a disc seeder. After seeding, a second dressing of loam or compost should be applied and the areas rolled lightly.

Lawns Need Constant Care.
Careful attention is necessary if a lawn is to be kept in good condition. Most lawns need an occasional application of some good fertilizer regardless of the kind of soil on which they exist. Thoroughly rotted stable manure is excellent for this purpose. Another good dressing is a mixture of manure well sifted before using.

It is desirable that the material be applied in such condition that there is nothing to rake off. Course humus dressing should never be used as the grass is almost invariably killed in small patches beneath the lumps. The humus dressings should be applied in the autumn or winter and again in the spring. Bone meal is one of the best commercial fertilizers for the lawn.

When used it should be applied in the late winter or early spring at a rate of ten to fifteen pounds to the thousand square feet.

Frequent Clipping Best.
Lawns are benefited by frequent clipping. During the rapid growing season mowings twice a week are not too frequent. It usually makes little difference whether the clipped grass is removed or allowed to remain on the lawn. It is coming to be considered the best practice to remove it, however. It is neither necessary nor advisable to roll lawns during the summer.

Lawns should be well watered during dry periods and should be soaked thoroughly twice or three times a week rather than lightly sprinkled at more frequent intervals. Later afternoon or night is the best time for watering on bright, hot days. Weeds are troublesome in all lawns throughout the growing season, but particularly so from the latter part of June until frost. Pulling or cutting these plant pests from the turf is the most satisfactory way of ridding a lawn of them.

Revering Out the Weeds.
The autumn is the best time for pulling weeds and grasses from the lawn.

desirable grasses can best be accomplished by raking prior to mowing, the intruders thus being raised so that the mower blades clip them.

The use of chemical sprays on lawn weeds has not given very satisfactory results. On the whole, the weed problem can best be solved by making the conditions as favorable as possible for the turf grasses and maintaining a strict watch at all times to remove troublesome weeds as they appear.

A grass seed mixture rich in red fescue will grow better in shady places probably than any other mixtures. By thorough watering and the liberal use of fertilizers and lime, however, the evil effects of shade on the growth of all lawn grasses largely can be overcome in many cases.

WILL OUTLINE PLAN TO MEET CRISIS AFTER WAR

Wilson to Submit Program to Business Men in Address Tomorrow.

Asbury Park, N. J., Sept. 22.—What the Wilson administration has done in anticipation of a business and financial crisis following the great European war is to be made one of the principal points of President Wilson's address before a delegation of New Jersey business men who are to call upon him at Shadow Lawn on Saturday.

Until today it was expected the president would make an explanation of the eight hour law the principal feature of his address. His managers being convinced, however, that the railroad legislation needs no defense, the president is expected to dwell more particularly on the plans he has in mind for the business rehabilitation of the country following the settlement of the war.

Attacks made on the eight hour law by Mr. Hughes, the republican candidate, are to be answered, if the presidential managers' predictions are true, by Mr. Wilson in terms calculated to put the president's opponent on the defensive.

Armer with figures and facts, the president will show the eight hour law is merely one step in his elaborate plan for a solution of railroad labor difficulties, which, when completed, will preclude the possibility not only of strikes among the railroad men, but disgruntlement from railroad stockholders.

Critics of the railroad eight hour law are confined largely, the president's opponents say, to grain shippers throughout the country, who feel that they will be compelled to bear the burden of the additional millions that are to be charged as a result of the president's having forced through congress the legislation.

As a consequence great import is attached to the speech Mr. Wilson is to make before the Grain Dealers' association at Baltimore on Monday. That the president will convey, not only to the shippers of the country but the farmers as well, a message designed to disarm fear that the eight hour law means increased cost of shipment to them is the prediction being made by the president's campaign managers.

EUROPEAN WAR BOOMS MOTOR TRUCK INDUSTRY

Low Cost of Operating Vehicles Forces Change in Business World.

New York, Sept. 22.—What might have taken the automobile industry five or six years to develop, the European war has done in two years!

Moreover the introduction of the motor truck is forcing the most radical changes in the methods of industrial production and distribution.

There are now 500 different makes of trucks and 257 manufacturers in the United States. In 1915 this country exported 24,000 motor trucks while 74,000 other trucks were built here making the total production for the year nearly 100,000 cars—and not enough!

The advantages of the truck in warfare are many. It is used to carry shells to the front, transport ammunition and shells, carry wounded to the hospital bases, defend roads, break through entanglements, haul heavy guns, take the place of railroads in moving troops, etc.

Provided there is sufficient supply of fuel, the motor truck is incomparable as a transit facility to the army.

Chief among the advantages of the engine over the horse are speed, reliability and power. The motor truck travels from 10 to 15 miles an hour, drawing from 1,000 to 10,000 pounds. Compare that with the old express wagon drawn by a horse which might be induced to go at the rate of four or five miles an hour hauling 400 or 500 pounds, for eight hours of the day. The motor truck can go all day and all night.

Virtually every big concern has deserted the horse for the motor truck. Breweries, department stores, manufacturers, express companies, etc., all have adopted the truck. It must be economical in operation else the trucks would not be kept in use.

Even in the small business the truck is more economical although it requires a higher capital outlay than the horse and wagon equipment. One of the leading makers of trucks reports that eighty-six companies increased their truck fleets from fifty-one in 1910 to 2443 in 1916. The corporations using these cars were typical of every line of industry.

One of the decisive factors in the auto truck business is that of fuel cost. Ten per cent of the cost of operation goes into fuel charges. This is in turn dependent upon the capacity of the truck, for if it can carry a heavy and valuable freight the fuel cost will mean little, but if the cargo is cheap, then the fuel charges will be a serious matter.

For that reason the higher the fuel price goes, the fewer the number of businesses which can afford to use the truck. Suppose gasoline cost only 10 cents a gallon, it will readily be seen how much faster the auto truck would be introduced into many lines of trade which now utilize the horse or the push cart.

Motor trucks usually are built for specific duties such as hauling coal, groceries, machinery, etc. For that reason trucks are designed for good and bad roads, for light and heavy cargoes, for speed or for economy of operation. The prices vary between $500 and $5,000 per truck.

While the number of auto trucks made in one year is about 10 per cent of the total of cars, it is likely that this percentage will increase until the number of trucks produced equals the number of pleasure vehicles.

WOMEN SHOULD GET THIS HABIT AS WELL AS MEN

Don't eat bite of breakfast until you drink glass of hot water.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous, and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

OSBORNE WILL TELL OF WONDERFUL WORK

Recreation Congress
Program.

New York, Sept. 22.—Warden Mott Osborne, of Sing Sing prison, is to speak at the Recreation congress to be held at Grand Rapids, Mich., October 2 to 6. He will tell how he is reforming the most desperate, depraved men through recreation—which he is proving to be genuinely, what the work indicates, "recreation."

Representing the famous public schools of Gary, Ind., William A. Wirt, their superintendent and originator, will discuss the vital importance of recreational activities and the play instinct in education.

President Woodrow Wilson, Charles E. Hughes and Theodore Roosevelt have been given urgent personal invitations to address the Recreation congress. They have expressed their earnest interest and are expected to send special messages. To these and other leaders of American thought the Recreation congress has been presented as an opportunity to stimulate and guide all the college, school, park, city and town forces, throughout America, into unified, effective action for the development of vigor and efficiency among all the boys, girls, men and women of our country. For such "Preparedness" all parties can work together.

Expert leaders of national reputation in all the various lines of recreation and playgrounds will occupy the morning sessions of the congress in giving brief, practical answers to questions. Already, scores of searching questions—difficulties which local recreation movements encounter—have been sent in and assigned to the experts who are to answer them. There will be a live, open discussion in each case but fiery orations will be excluded and the congress will hold itself "down to brass tacks."

From the Playground and Recreation Association of America, 1 Madison avenue, New York City, information may be had without charge. Attendance upon the Recreation congress is open, free to all who are interested in the boys, girls, men and women who need opportunities for self development through wholesome use of leisure time.

3 And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.
4 Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up.

When Mr. Hughes Came

We think it fair to assume that hundreds of those who turned out to hear Hon. Charles E. Hughes, republican presidential nominee, when he made his appearance in Fort Wayne Thursday sincerely hoped to hear not only the allegations which constitute the indictment Mr. Hughes and his party are setting up against President Wilson and his administration, but definite explanation of what Mr. Hughes has to offer that he contends is better. They must have been grievously disappointed, for Mr. Hughes did nothing of that sort. The open-minded voter who prudently desires to know what his country is to get in the proposed exchange of policy and performance as urged by Mr. Hughes is left wholly in doubt on that score.

Mr. Hughes, as the titular head of a great political party, came to Fort Wayne in the only appearance he is scheduled to make in the Twelfth congressional district during the present campaign. He had here once more an excellent opportunity to make definite reply to the big question that has confronted him from the outset: What would you have done had you been in President Wilson's place; what do you purpose doing if you should be chosen to it? But Mr. Hughes declined here as elsewhere to be specific. He was destructive; not constructive. He tore down; he did not build up. He assailed in vigorous fashion the policy of the president and the performance of the administration, and held out in their stead nothing more definite or substantial than such generalities as "efficient Americanism," a "true and correct American policy," without deigning to explain precisely what he means by these and similar terms which are a part of the orator's stock in trade and which no man finds difficulty in adapting to his own particular conception of things, whether they chance to coincide with yours or not.

Mr. Hughes was plainly displeased with the Wilson administration from top to bottom, from start to finish. If in the past four years there has been a single act of the president or of the democratic party which has met Mr. Hughes' approval, he failed to mention it. He was specific enough in his criticism, but lamentably indefinite as to corrective agencies beyond the generalized contention that if you throw the other fellows out and put us in, things will be much better. The question of how or why is left wholly to faith that perhaps you won't get the worst of it if you make the trade.

Mr. Hughes is undoubtedly a big man, capable and brainy, and his personality is attractive, though it doesn't inspire the enthusiasm that has greeted other presidential candidates of his party before him. He is producing a prodigious quantity of ear-tickling oratory and fine-sounding phrase, but he is not supplying answers to questions which the people ask because they have a right to ask them and a right to expect an answer.

Just as the world is doing much marvelling at the "tanks" devised by the British as a new and terrible engine of war, along comes Germany with announcement of the development of the "flying whale"—a new type of airship built with a body like that of a fish that is said to be capable of much more effective work against the enemy than any of its predecessors in aerial war operations. There are really things new under the sun nowadays, and they are developing so rapidly that one finds it difficult to keep pace with them.

Colonel Roosevelt and Mr. Taft have each accepted invitations to attend a luncheon in honor of Mr. Hughes shortly. Purely in the interest of peace and to avoid the possibility of an unpleasant scene, we trust somebody will be thoughtful enough to admonish each of these distinguished ex-presidents regarding the necessity of perfect decorum even under the stress of personal feelings that are apt to be strained to the limit.

The fact that during the past two years the American people have contributed a total of nearly twenty-nine millions of dollars in war relief to sufferers in European nations is rather impressive, but it has not yet measured up to the need. It has recently been made very clear that necessity still exists for further relief, and we think America is big enough and fine enough and generous enough to do still more. And in the name of common humanity, it ought to do it.

Hardly has the kick of the druggists against the public use of the drugstore telephone died away before the National Dry Goods association rises to complain that many women keep gowns sent "on approval" until the styles change and then return them, thus creating an almost entirely dead loss to the dry goods man. We are beginning to suspect there are troubles in pretty nearly every business but ours.

It develops that the records of the board of elections in New York show that since 1910 Mr. Hughes has wholly neglected both to register and to vote—which may indicate that neither his political convictions nor his sense of civic duty were then so strong as now when he is a candidate himself.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

What the Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

C. M. Compere now makes his business trips over the city in a neat turnout.

A child of Frank Hover, of the east side, fell last evening and sustained a fracture of the bones of the left arm.

John Ferguson, the lumber dealer, is confined to his home on West Berry street from the effects of being overcome with the heat.

Jesse Young, the DeFiance jeweler, who will open a store in the Arcade, arrived in the city today. He formerly conducted a business on Calhoun street.

Last year the man with a few acres of potatoes felt haughty like a millionaire, but this year he feels like a pauper. Potatoes are so abundant in southern California that they can hardly be disposed of at any price.

A 6-year-old son of H. H. Hartwig, of Schiefer's shoe store, while climbing on a fence, fell and a picket caught him under the lower jaw, penetrating the flesh and tongue. Thus impaled the lad hung until rescued by his parents.

William Feinke, a laborer employed at the new Glasgow avenue sewer, near the soap works, was buried beneath a ton of dirt shortly before noon and received injuries which proved fatal soon afterward. The man was at the bottom of the excavation when the sides caved in upon him, burying him beneath the heavy mass.

At an early hour this morning five young men, Messrs. Louis and Theodore Seibold, William and John Blair and Ed Kohn, left on their bicycles for Hicksville, Ohio. From there they go to Farmers' City and Bryan and thence home. The route is about sixty miles through a lovely country. The wheelmen expect to return home next Tuesday.

As a result of a meeting of a special committee of the council with the county commissioners the board instructed the clerk to spread on record an order instructing the county and city attorneys to report an agreement between the city and county as to the construction of the proposed new court house. It is presumed that the new building will cost between $400,000 and $500,000, one-third of which the city is supposed to pay. It is expected that work on the new building will commence three years hence and that it will take three years to build it.

KNOCKING.

Knocking is a year round indoor, outdoor sport.

It is worked to a frazzle in political campaigns and bridge whist parties. The disease has a "full Nelson" on all politicians and a politician not affected with it is as rare as a movie actor with a haircut or a four-bit piece in a Sunday school contribution plate. Knocking consists of grabbing a hold of the mainstays of a fellow's character sweater and unraveling it, till he has no more reputation left than the meat on a hambone. If every knock is a boost, the president, a well known automobile and some baseball managers ought to be boosted so high by now that when they'd slant down at Mars it would look smaller than a restaurant porterhouse steak, if that is possible.

THE BUSY RAILROADS.

(Eric Dispatch.)

Railroad earnings for the month of July, as reported by the interstate commerce commission, strengthened the favorable impression created by the figures for the fiscal year ending June 30. For that year the principal railroads of the country were shown to have made net earnings of $306,000,000 greater than the previous year.

The figures for 166 of the larger roads indicate net earnings for July, 1916, $19,639,000 greater than those for July, 1915. This means a gain of nearly 24 per cent. Such a percentage of increase, continued throughout the year, would make a tremendous addition to the liberal increase of the past year, and place the railroads once more in a position of sound and unquestionable prosperity.

The small crops will, of course, tend to check the upward trend of profits. On the other hand, business in general is growing at so rapid a rate that the loss in crop haulage may be far more than met by gain in carrying general merchandise for domestic and foreign destination. The remarkable expansion of our already enormous export trade adds to the hopeful situation. No wonder there has been a strong demand lately for railroad stocks, with rising prices.

My Best Reason for Voting for Wilson.

Some Noted Americans Tell Why They Propose to Support the President at the Polls in November.

(By Irvin S. Cobb.)

(Noted American Writer and Author of "Judge Priest," Etc.)

My chief reason for intending to vote for the re-election of President Wilson is this:

He has preserved American rights without sacrificing American lives; he has won by diplomacy and statesmanship what heavy guns could not have won.

(By Frank P. Walsh.)

(Chairman of United States Industrial Relations Committee.)

I am going to vote for President Wilson because he has such a splendid conception of democracy.

His intelligence and bravery in the complex crisis of the past four years has inspired a renaissance of Americanism as interpreted and lived by Washington.

He has freed more slaves than Lincoln.

BY THOMAS A. EDISON.

(Famous American Inventor.)

I do not believe that there was ever a president who has had as many big questions to decide as President Wilson. His decisions haven't always pleased me just as I suppose they haven't always pleased other people, but when you look over the record it is so good that close to being nothing more than clean fault-finding. A fool or a coward would have had the United States in all sorts of trouble. As it is, we are at peace. The country never was more prosperous, and we have the strength that comes with honor and integrity of purpose. Wilson has won victories by diplomacy far more important to mankind than any victories that we could have won by war. I believe there are times when a nation has to fight. But war for the sake of war for the purposes of conquest, is horrible and unthinkable.

Wilson has now had about four years of experience, and I think he has earned faith and trust. I do not think it logical or sensible to chance to an inexperienced or untried man just for the sake of change.

BY JOHN BREED.

(Famous American Author and War Correspondent.)

I am for Wilson because, in the most difficult situation any American president since Lincoln has had to face, he has dared to stand for the rights of weak nations—in refusing to invade Mexico he has unflinchingly advocated the settlement of international disputes by peaceful means.

John Reed. John Reed has acted upon it to the best of his ability in the case of Germany and England; he has publicly opposed the doctrine of militarism, and in the case of the United States he has

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

MARRIED SECOND TIME.

Ceremonies Are Repeated to Satisfy Mother of the Bride.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 22.—The latest reports concerning the marriage of Miss Geraldine Dine and Charles Tabler, both of Fort Wayne, which was performed in this city, Wednesday, is that the young couple were married some three weeks ago by a justice of the peace. The young couple eloped, owing to the objection of the bride's mother and it is said the parents refused to let them come under the paternal roof until they had been married by a minister of the mother's faith. Hence the second marriage by Rev. W. T. Arnold of this city. It was necessary for them to obtain a second marriage license and they were granted one here by County Clerk Lesh. Mr. Tabler is a stock company artist in Fort Wayne and his "nom de plume" is Charles Franklin. Miss Dine's real name is Vivian Gladys Dine. Mr. Tabler has quite a following as a matinee idol in Fort Wayne and his many friends in theatrical circles, and out, wish the young couple much happiness, after bucking the marriage game twice in the same place.

HIT BY TREE.

Robert J. Pinkerton Killed in Accident Near Valparaiso.

Valparaiso, Ind., Sept. 22.—Robert J. Pinkerton, a bachelor living between Kouts and Wabasha, met instant death at 2 o'clock yesterday morning when a tree crashed through his tent in a camp along the Kankakee river, crushing his head to pulp.

Mr. Pinkerton, in company with August, Peter, Clevis and Paul Koselke, of Valparaiso, went to the river bank south of Kouts yesterday to spend a couple of days camping and fishing. They erected a tent near a large tree that had been half-blown over, the main trunk of which was hanging by silvers.

During the night their camp fire got low, and the air being chilly, one of the men got up to replenish the wood supply, and in cutting a few of the old limbs from the main trunk of the tree the silvers holding it gave way, and

DISAPPOINTED IN LOVE.

As a Result Miss Esther Hallabaugh, of Auburn, Goes Insane.

Auburn, Ind., Sept. 22.—Miss Esther Hallabaugh, of St. Joe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hallabaugh, has been declared insane and Deputy Clerk Oak Husselman has written to Richmond asking for her admission to the asylum at that place.

The case is a sad one brought on to some degree at least by disappointment in love. The insanity inquest held over her recently brings out the fact that she has no regard for personal propriety in dress or as to exposing nude her body in public. She refuses to keep properly clad and has no sense of shame.

The inquest report shows that she has the actions of a child such as picking up broken dishes and placing them on the mantel. She wears no shoes in the summer or winter. She also has a tendency to rip up her clothing, furs or wearing apparel and boil them.

BUE B. CASE DEAD!

Self-Inflicted Wounds of Wednesday, Sept. 13, Prove Fatal.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 22.—Bue B. Case, aged 63, prominent and highly respected farmer of Lagrange county for many years, who attempted suicide on Wednesday, Sept. 13, by shooting himself through the head with a thirty-two calibre revolver, died Wednesday evening at 10:30 o'clock at his home near South Milford. With a bullet hole through his brain and the leaden bullet lodged in the top of his skull it is remarkable he lived so long after the accident, being a week and some hours. Shortly after the accident attending physicians predicted he could live but a few hours and practically the entire time after the shooting he was unconscious. During the last forty-eight hours he weakened rapidly.

Dependancy over ill health, having

WEDDING AT OSSIAN.

Ossian, Ind., Sept. 22.—Miss Ruth Chalfant gave a miscellaneous shower at her home in honor of Miss Vile Somers, who is to be married next Sunday to Mr. Jack Stalter, of Craigville. The time was passed in a social way and Miss Somers received many pretty gifts of china, silver and linen. A delicious lunch was served in cafeteria style by the hostess. The guests were Misses Ida Kreigh, Augusta Yager, Mary Morton, Georgiana Hostetter, Annis and Alda Woodward, Imo Reiser, Laura Kreigh, Marie Fisher, Martha Fring, Ruby Quackenbush, Helen Roe, Phebe Summers and Mesdames Hazel Woodward, A. F. Roe and Augusta Resler.

HEAVY FINE IMPOSED.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 22.—John L. Benning, the "Milford terror," was fined $100 and sentenced to serve six months on the penal farm, when he changed his former plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to a charge of violating the liquor laws. Three months of his penal farm sentence was suspended during his good behavior. Benning was arraigned in court some time ago on the same charge and told the court that he was not guilty. The prisoner was taken back to jail to be held until a date for his trial could be set. While in jail he decided that he was guilty and asked that he be given a chance to tell the court of his decision.

FARMER GOES INSANE.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 22.—Nathaniel Prough, 36, well known farmer living one and one half miles north and two and a half miles west of Ossian, was brought to the county jail by Sheriff Johnston this morning and he will remain there until an inquest is held to determine his sanity. Prough is married and the father of six children. Spinal trouble is said to have caused the farmer's mind to become weak, but yesterday his condition became serious and he threatened the lives of members of his family. It is hoped that treatment will prove a benefit to him.

REVIVAL AT BUTLER.

Butler, Ind., Sept. 22.—Rev. Frank E. Lindgren, of Chicago, himself, an evangelist of ability, is here as an advance agent for Evangelist A. A. Fletcher, who was to hold a tabernacle meeting in Butler in October. When Mr. Lindgren arrived he found that there was so much opposition to the expense of a tabernacle meeting that that feature of it was called off, and it was arranged to hold the meeting in the opera house, beginning the first Sunday in October, or a week from Sunday.

DIES IN CALIFORNIA.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 22.—Mrs. Daniel Myers of this city received a telegram early Thursday morning bringing her the very sad news that her son, Christian D. Myers, had passed away at his home in Redlands, Cal., at 7:20 o'clock Wednesday morning. The telegram was from the wife of the decedent, who was formerly Miss Blanche Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Lawrence, of this city. The message stated the end came peacefully.

BOYS WALKED HOME.

Montpelier, Ind., Sept. 22.—Three Hartford City young men who attended the band concert in this city last evening and visited fair friends had a midnight walk home to the county seat. The three missed the last car and couldn't find any accommodating friends with automobiles, so there was nothing to do but walk, for, it is said, they didn't have the price to stay at a hotel. It is supposed they arrived home safely.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 22.—Superintendent A. R. Fleck reports an attendance of thirty-eight students in the Elias high school, twenty-five being freshmen, eight sophomores and five juniors. In the Jefferson Center high school about fifty students are enrolled, seventeen being freshmen. In the Chubbuck school ninety-four students are enrolled in the high school and 101 in the grades.

MARRIED IN THE WEST.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 22.—Announcements have been received by friends here of the marriage of Miss Ruth Laudemann, formerly of this city, to Frank Robert Harris, of San Diego, Cal. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Laudemann.

KILLED IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Waterloo, Ind., Sept. 22.—Word has been received by Mrs. Frank N. Reid of St. Maries, Idaho, that her sister, Miss Bessie Holger, otherwise Sister Rose of the Benedictine order, had been killed in an automobile accident near Lake Waha, Idaho. Sister Rose was instantly killed, her neck being broken.

PLANS ARE ACCEPTED.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 22.—Members of the city council at Columbia City have accepted plans submitted by Architects Church and Coover for the construction of a new city hall. The proposed new building will house the city hall officers, the fire department, public comfort station, municipal gathering hall and storage rooms.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED.

Van Wert, Ohio, Sept. 22.—Officers for the Young Women's Christian Temperance association have been elected as follows: Miss Clarinda Richards, general secretary; Miss Gladys Passmore, physical director; Mrs. A. B. Gilliland, house secretary; and Mrs. James Drake, office secretary.

LEESBURG WOMAN DEAD.

Leesburg, Ind., Sept. 22.—Mrs. Emma Stephenson, of this place, who was stricken with paralysis some days ago while visiting with relatives in Fort Wayne, died there, Wednesday. The body has been brought here for interment, which took place this afternoon.

NEW CHURCH BELL.

Antwerp, Ohio, Sept. 22.—The old bell has been removed from the belfry of the United Brethren church and a new bell installed. The large force of men with a steam derrick did the work.

CAW MAN PULL BOX.

The false fire alarm turned in from the corner of Calhoun and Superior streets at 2 o'clock Friday morning was registered by a tall man who "pulled" the box with his cane and then ran west on Superior street, several people in the neighborhood told firemen who answered the call.

Following the failure of his two sons to pass the rigorous medical examination and enlist with the Kentz, James Vickery, of Chatham, Ontario, applied and was accepted. He has since joined the battalion.

LAFAYETTE PLACE WINS NATURE LOVERS

After seeing Lafayette Place, the new addition bounded by Calhoun and Lafayette streets, and McKinnin and Pett avenues, almost every person to whom the beauties of nature appeal in any way whatsoever has been impressed by the fact that nowhere in the vicinity of Fort Wayne can a more attractive spot be found. Just enough of the tract was covered with the original forest growth to make it possible for Mr. Arthur Shurtliff, the famous Boston landscaper, who layed out this addition, to use his skill to the best advantage. The naturally gentle rolling ground was another feature assisting Mr. Shurtliff in his plans. Beyond a doubt the addition as it stands today is one of the most attractive spots in this whole section of the country. For details see the Wildwood Sales company, Shoff building—Advertisement.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING DAY.

MR. AND MRS. SA MUEL E. ELLIOTT.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Elliott, of 2152 Fox avenue, were married fifty years ago on Friday, Sept. 22, but no one would ever suspect it who called on them or who might meet them casually, for neither time nor care have robbed either Mr. or Mrs. Elliott of health or of the appearance of middle age. Mr. Elliott still pursues his work of patternmaker for the General Electric company and Mrs. Elliott still keeps her home in the pink of neatness and even the care of a grandson just old enough to be in school, in no wise seems to burden her. To go backward in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, takes him to Kentucky, where he was born and in a few years to Cambridge City, Ind., where he lived all through his boyhood and early manhood and where he played and went to school with the girl he married, who was then Mary Cowles, a native of Cambridge City. The day set for their wedding had to be changed, as a heavy rain washed away a bridge that prevented Mr. Elliott from getting the license and a trip to Centerville had to be made and the day of the marriage changed to one later in the week. But that brought no bad luck to these sturdy residents, who have lived in Fort Wayne forty of the fifty years of their married life. Mr. Elliott served in the civil war and was a member of the Nineteenth Indiana battery. Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Elliott and six are still living, but none is present today, as the distance they live kept them from gathering together just now. The sons and daughters are Mrs. Leta E. Inglis and Wilfred and Ralph Elliott, all of Los Angeles; Walter Elliott, of Phoenix, Arizona; Nelson Elliott, of Indianapolis; and Mrs. Bertha Elliott, R. Hall, of Cleveland. One grandson, Harry Russell, of Cleveland, has been spending the summer with his grandparents and is still here. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott attend Plymouth church and both enjoy a wide circle of friends, of course of acquaintance. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott have been well remembered with gifts from their children, several gold pieces giving them much pleasure. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott are bright and interesting people and a pleasure to meet. They have a pretty home in Fox avenue.

Society

Misses Mildred and Marian Cutting gave a lovely party this afternoon to honor Miss Ruth Riker, a bride-to-be, and also Miss Marian Cutting's guest, Miss Evelyn Dunham, of Brattleboro, Vt. The guests, who numbered sixteen, took their sewing materials with them and also gifts of handkerchiefs to show or on Miss Riker. During the afternoon dainty sachets were made by the guests of lovely bits of ribbon and silk, furnished by the hostesses, and Miss Riker received enough of the fragrant gifts to last her some time. Green and white were the colors of the decoration, in which garden flowers predominated. When the sewing was finished and Miss Riker had been duly "showered," the Misses Cutting served individual trays of refreshments with tempting things to eat arranged to carry out the coloring of the party.

The closing of the bridge tournament, in progress for three weeks at the Country club, will be held next Wednesday. A luncheon begins the afternoon's pleasures and the game follows. The following Wednesday, October 4, there will be a musical tea for members of the club. A program is being arranged for that date by Miss Katherine MacDougall.

AT THE PALACE

DASHING LITTLE NOVELTY.

Little Miss Up To Date Features Big Bill at New Palace.

The smartly costumed, dashing little novelty idea Little Miss Up To Date, with Doc Baker and Elaine Juliette heading a bevy of six dainty dancing and singing girls through a maze of typical Menlo Moore dance and song numbers. The costumes are snappy and the mechanical stage pictures are as striking as the girls themselves are pretty and graceful. Several lightning costume changes are effected by Doc Baker in a clever manner. Three of them in seemingly as many seconds give the act a bang up close.

Four youngsters, three girls and a boy, open the show in a group of comedy character songs. They call themselves the Juvenile Kings. One of the tiny mites dressed as a stage Dutchman, is a clever little fellow and Jordan, two graceful young people with good voices, have a group of exclusive song hits that brought their last night's audience to them. The girl is graceful and knows how to arrange herself on a piano bench to make the most striking appearance.

The Gallant Four, two girls, a man and a boy, play every musical instru-

If Thin or Wrinkled Try This

Many women of fashion and refinement in this country, as in Europe, seem to have recently discovered that there is nothing quite so good to remove wrinkles and fill out hollows in face or neck as ordinary am-o-nized cocoa cream. It is so easy to get a little from any druggist and apply this at night wherever there are wrinkles or hollows in face or neck that no woman should suffer embarrassment because she is thin or wrinkled. You simply apply it with the finger tips, and it is so pleasant to use and is so quickly absorbed that results are almost immediate. Nothing else is required and there is no hurt or injury to the skin. On the contrary it is positively beneficial to the complexion, feeding and stimulating the tissues so that the face becomes nice and plump and the wrinkles disappear. You can not help but wonder at its nourishing and beautifying action upon the skin. Many complexion pills such as rough, blotchy skin can also be quickly overcome by its use, but it has found particular favor in the city because of its safety for sensitive skin and its action on the system in case of indigestion.

ment playable in the course of their instrumental medley. Their playing of four piano accordions is the best thing they do. Anderson and Goines, the two comedians in their skit, "The Ghost of a Coon," are immense. One of them has a large open face mouth that he can twist into a dozen different shapes at once. The Four Slickers, a quartet of cut ups, have an absurdity that is really funny.

There will be two performances on Saturday night.

AT THE MAJESTIC

Eva Tanguay Saturday.

What Ashton Stevens said of Eva Tanguay in Chicago, is quite as applicable to her in this city where she appears under the management of William Morris at the Majestic theater on Saturday, matinee and night.

This is Mr. Stevens' tribute to that dazzling quality in Miss Tanguay, which even he with all his genius for phrasing, cannot explain.

"Take her in New York, or in Chicago, or in St. Petersburg, or in Evans-ton or Brooklyn, and Eva Tanguay is the fabulous vaudeville success of her age—or any other age with which I am acquainted.

"She came like a meteor, but there is a lasting quality. What is that quality? Radium? Electricity? Sheer nerve? Or, as Eva Tanguay herself comically suggests, madness? I give it up. Every time I try to explain her it's another reason. She won't be still under the microscope. She yells, 'I don't care!' and wriggles away. Her eyes baffle. The more she flares it in your face the farther you are from herself."

AN OLD-STYLE CAPE REVIVED

LOOK thru the trunks in the attic—you may come across a fur cape like the one shown. If so, bring it out and thank your lucky stars that you have such a possession, for it is in the height of fashion. Seal has been used for the cape which is cut circular. A feature of the model is its brilliant red lining. In some of the models splashy-colored silks in brilliant colors are used as linings. The neck line is finished with a stole of kolinsky. Matching the cape is the distinctive muff with a seal center and kolinsky ends. If you don't possess an old cape you may have a fur coat, which is worn in places in this event have it recut, using the illustration as a model. The set will prove most practical on cold fall days, as well as on the freezing days in winter.

CLEVER TREATMENT OF THE POPULAR PLAID

RENT paid the gayest of designs, and don't you love to see them taken up by fashion, as so often happens at the beginning of the fall and winter season? There is more than a whisper about that all things Scotch, plaids included, will be popular with fashion devotees this fall. So here is a frock designed to make use of the plaid in as conservative a manner as possible. The suggestion is best carried out in silks, the plaid woollens might be combined with silk if the wooden material is good-looking. Lovely plaid taffeta is being dis-

NECKWEAR NEWS

THE fact that so many of the bodices are made plain for the fall season gives one an opportunity to be a little more free in her selection of neckwear. Among the novelties are broadcloth sets. These come in all white, in colors and in combinations of colors. One attractive white set had insets of colored broadcloth. Other broadcloth sets are elaborated with be wood, silk, wool and chenille embroidery.

Collars of satin, batiste, chiffon, crepe and other materials with broad revers and matching cuffs are very fashionable. A salient point of one model is a stiffened band used to support a rolling collar of white broadcloth. The band is high at the back and gradually disappears from sight as it nears the front. One model of gray broadcloth is decorated with narrow bands of black velvet. Georgette crepe is another popular material for neckwear. Stunning collars, showing the vogue for the deep sailor effect, are made up of this material in flesh color white, pale shades of blue and lavender. They are finished with pleated edges. Others have wide tucks in groups of three and four running across their width.

SEPARATE COATS

EVERY one will feel a need for separate coats after hearing about the rich woolen fabrics of which the coats are being made. Wool velour, duvetyne, bolivia cloth and heavy chevots are all favored materials. The low shoulder line and full bishop sleeves are prominent in a great many models. In some instances the sleeves are gathered and applied to the shoulders in an upstanding ruch. A very wide cuff confines the fullness of the sleeve. Dressy coats of dark plush lead themselves admirably to fur trimmings, mole skin and gray astrakhan having the preference. Some chevron braiding and embroidery in silk, metal and wool are trimming features of some models. Cape collars are evident and are made of the coat material, of fur, or of fur cloth. Odd-shaped pockets are other features of the new coats. As to length, some of the coats reach the bottom of the dress skirt, others are of three-quarter or seven-eighths length. Separate coats of velvet and those of cloth, too, feature wide band trimming at the collar. Those of the latter material have velvet bands with an allover scroll pattern in metal thread chain stitching. The velvet coats have bands of fur from eighteen to twenty-four inches wide.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Wood Floors

My floors are heavily stained, but ordinary treatment will not restore them. How can I have them cleaned without requiring a new varnish?

When natural wood is soiled, clean with oil and turpentine or with oil and wood alcohol. If very soiled, rub well with woolen cloth wet in turpentine or alcohol and afterward polish with fine sandpaper. The velvet coats have bands of fur from eighteen to twenty-four inches wide.

Fabric Paste

Can you give me a formula for a fabric paste? I know there is such a thing, because I have seen it advertised, but I would like one that can be made at home.

Below is the formula for which you asked, with directions how to use it.

Fabric Paste

1 cup whole-wheat flour.
1 cup cold water.
Add 1 cup of boiling water.
Add 1 teaspoon of salt.
Add 1 teaspoonful of powdered alum dissolved in water.
Place in uncovered jar by straining through. This paste will keep fresh ten days. When using, apply very lightly and evenly, not to the fabric, but to the article which the fabric is to cover.

RUSSIA SOON TO LIFT BAN ON MANY EXILES

Amnesty to Political Prisoners in Siberia Believed Near.

London, Sept. 16.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—It is reported in Petrograd advices that a well-considered scheme of amnesty to political offenders, at present under sentence of exile to northern and Asiatic Russia, will be shortly promulgated under the orders of Emperor Nicholas.

Acting under the extensive powers granted to the minister of the interior, that official, as indicated in the following letter, has already sent his way to liberate 120 political exiles sent since 1905 by administrative order to distant parts of the empire. As distinct from these there are other political exiles and prisoners who have been tried and condemned by the courts; such can be liberated only by the express order of the sovereign. But it is said that the minister of justice under whose jurisdiction these cases come, is regarding them sympathetically, and a scheme of pardon, as large and free as reasonable bounds allow, for the consideration of his majesty.

The following letter by Mr. Khvostoff, the new minister of interior, has been received during his recent visit to Petrograd by Mrs. Sonia E. Howe, of St. Luke's vicarage, Finchley, the originator and honorary secretary of the committee for the relief of Administrative exiles in northern Russia and Siberia.

"Dear Madam:

"Following on our personal discussions I have the honor to inform you that to alleviate the fate of administrative exiles sent by order of the imperial police regime to distant governments of Asiatic and European Russia, I have after careful review of their cases made arrangements for liberation of 120 persons of certain categories from exile and police supervision. As regards those exiles which are in Siberia this order has been communicated by telegraph to the governors concerned. Further cases are being considered.

"Accept, dear Madam, the assurance of my sincere esteem and devotion.

(Signed) "A. KHVOSTOFF."

VERY NEWEST BLOUSES.

(By Betty Brown.)

There was a time when a blouse was a mere waist. The blouse of today is a "creation."

Your special attention is called to the Grecian model at the right. It shows the new neplum so many exclusive designers are using. The drooping shoulder line and the full sleeves are fashion notes you may read in this little garment.

You may also notice it is quite within the possibilities of the home dressmaking. The model I saw was made of brick red handkerchief linen. The embroidered squares on the front at the collar and on the neplum are in dull blue.

The second blouse is a bit too extreme to please some of us, but is a model that will be popular. It is made of cotton color taffeta with lingerie shirt bosom. The cravat is navy blue georgette crepe. The bone buttons at the cuff are blue.

MARSHALL SAYS PEOPLE ARE WITH MR. WILSON

Vice President Sums Up Reports and Observations He Has Made.

[By Willis S. Thompson.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 22.—Vice President Thomas R. Marshall was never fitter to enter the campaign than at present. His health is all that could be desired, and his earnestness and sincerity in advocating and sustaining all the policies of Woodrow Wilson could not be marked by more enthusiasm than is shown in the meetings he addresses.

"All my life," said Mr. Marshall in speaking of the outlook, "I have been in the habit, without always being able to make myself clear as to my reasons, to jump to conclusions. While I do not brag about it as anything special, still I know it is a fact that results have usually justified forecasts. I have been about a little bit in this campaign and I have received a great many reports in Washington from different parts of the country. All that I have seen in my travels and all that I have heard from others would indicate that the people are with Woodrow Wilson as they have seldom been with any candidate for the presidency.

"The more they know of what he has done, and is doing, the more the republican orators emphasize the greatness of the man by their dishonest scolding criticism, the more the people appreciate and the more justly they estimate his true qualities and his great ability and earnestness. As Chairman McCormick says, the people must not allow these conditions to influence them in not registering on registration day and voting on election day, because they might think their vote is not needed. There never was a time in the history of American politics when the president was entitled to receive and when, as I see it, the people want to give him an overwhelming endorsement by their votes. If the people will register and vote the result in November will show this endorsement, even larger. I believe, then we hope for.

"Progressive republicans who have voted for progressive legislation for years and who have left the party with the tremendous following because the leaders and the majority of the republican party refused to give their vote or endorsement to any of these progressive measures demanded by the people, have lived to see the democratic party pass almost every one of the progressive laws which they advocated and demanded. Why, in all reason, therefore, should they not support the president and congressmen who have passed these laws and placed them on the statute books? "With it all, the people are enjoying the greatest prosperity the country has ever known. Under all the circumstances, how could any one believe that the people want a change? As Thomas A. Edison said in speaking to the independent voters of the country, and in speaking as a lifelong republican, 'this is not a time to talk in terms of republicanism and of democracy, as confined merely to a narrow party definition.'"

OPENING A SOCIAL EVENT.

Visitors Hear and See Beautiful Things in Mergentheim's.

Quite up to date was the entertainment afforded the public last evening by the new manager of the Mergentheim millinery store, M. H. Kline, who has just come from the east to take charge of the store. One expected a display of beautiful hats of various models and styles and of prices within the moderate scale when it came to either rich materials or those of a less costly quality. But the public had not expected to hear such musicians as Wilbur Pickett, violinist, and Mrs. C. A. Horton, harpist, play, which they did. There were also beautiful natural flowers to vie in beauty with those of the show cases and roses were given as favors. The hats were displayed by young women who wore them with grace and charm, while Mr. Kline made everyone feel a welcome that insured a later visit to the store. There were Henry Bendel and Ravak hats from abroad, as well as Phipps, Gages and Georgette shapes to suit the most fastidious. One hundred and twenty hats were exhibited.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—Secretary Lansing today denounced as wholly untrue published reports that he and President Wilson's political advisers had disagreed over legal phases of the retaliatory legislation aimed at Great Britain's interference with trade. He added that the views of the state department regarding the legislation were not in shape to be discussed and that no conclusion had been reported as to enforcement. It has been known for several days that while no course had been determined upon by Secretary Lansing, the department believes that part of the legislation is doubtful legally and unenforceable.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 22.—When Charles E. Hughes, republican nominee for president, arrives here tomorrow to conclude his Indiana campaign with a speech at a rally in the evening, he will be greeted by 500 women of this city, according to plans completed today. ERECTS TENT AMONG RUINS FOR SALOON Bar Keeper Selling Liquor Under Canvas in Westfield.

Brushing aside the smoldering coals and the half burned pieces of timber which lay on the site of his former place of business, Henry Ehrlich, the saloon-keeper in Westfield, pitched a tent which is now being used as a saloon. His saloon was one of the four properties destroyed by fire Wednesday evening.

The tent is a large one and under the canvas the bartender is offering his goods for sale. A large bar has been installed in the tent. The foreigners who inhabit that portion of the city accept the new saloon as a curiosity and are patronizing it more than when they were forced to push aside the two-way doors.

The white tent presents rather a striking picture among the ruins of the four buildings. Smoke is still curling up from the ruins, which seems to act as a guide to customers. Officers of the law who visited the scene Friday morning state that business surely was rushing.

Asphyxiation Suspected in Case of Christian Blew at Richmond.

Richmond, Ind., Sept. 22.—Coroner Morrow is investigating the death of Christian Blew, 20, a student at Earlham college, who was found dead in the bathroom of his boarding house. Indications are that Blew's asphyxiation was due to a defective gas burner.

TWO SUITS AGAINST MANHATTAN COMPANY

Two suits, charging the obtaining of money under false pretenses, were filed against the Manhattan Garment company, 401 Noll building, by Charles Pressler, 1403 West Main street, and Alma Pressler, 1405 West Main street, Friday. The cases were filed in the court of Justice A. C. Niemman.

Plaintiffs allege that they entered into an agreement with the clothing company to purchase suits of clothes on the installment plan. The two men were to pay 30 cents a week for sixty weeks, they set out. They started payments on June 30 and the $18 has been paid in for some time, they claim. The Presslers have not been able to get their clothes, they complain. They ask $50 damages each because they claim the clothing company obtained their money under false pretenses. Justice Niemman has set Saturday as the time for trying the two cases filed Friday.

FRIENDS CONSIDER MEXICAN SITUATION

Richmond, Ind., Sept. 22.—Special attention was directed to conditions in Mexico by the American board of foreign missions, which presented its report to the Indiana yearly meeting of friends at today's session here. The opinion was expressed that with the return of peace missionary work in Mexico would be prosecuted with renewed vigor. Thereafter the superintendent of the evangelistic, church extension and pastoral committee of Indiana yearly meeting, will not be a member of the committee, but will hold an ex-officio membership in it.

The Van Wert, Ohio, monthly meeting was ordered closed and the deed of the property was ordered made to the Indiana yearly meeting.

DECLARES BULGARIA BROKE HER AGREEMENT

London, Sept. 22.—(2:15 p. m.)—The reports which have been current for some time that Bulgaria agreed not to attack Rumania when the latter nation declared war on Austria-Hungary are supported by a statement made today by a Rumanian official in London. Discussing the Russo-Rumanian victory over the German and Bulgarian forces in Dobruja, he said General Averesco, formerly Rumanian war minister, who led the forces which invaded Hungary were transferred from Transylvania to Dobruja only after evidence had been obtained that they intended to break their word.

"The German plan of capturing the town of Constanza and the great bridge over the Danube has failed definitely," he continued. "The Bulgarians will realize the mistake they made in following national instincts and being unable to keep their word."

BORDER COMMISSION ENDS WORK FOR WEEK

Mexican-American Conferences May Not Be Resumed Until Tuesday.

London, Sept. 22.—The Mexican-American joint commission today virtually concluded its work for this week. A majority of the commissioners will be out of town tomorrow and it was not expected the conference would be resumed until Tuesday. The commissioners expected to continue today consideration of reports, official and unofficial of general conditions in Mexico.

In a rather general way the subject of withdrawing the American troops was talked over, the Mexicans expressing their opinion that General Carranza's army was capable of coping with the situation in the region now patrolled by General Pershing's forces.

That the renewed activity of Villa in Chihuahua probably would delay an agreement on some plan of border control apparently was taken by the Mexicans as a matter of course. The Mexicans hope to have before the conference official reports from their government which will serve as a basis for the argument that the attack on Chihuahua is not a true indication of the government's inability to maintain peace along the frontier.

The American representatives in the absence of any official reports to the Mexican commissioners, have accepted as authentic Gen. Bell's account of the raiding of Chihuahua City by Villa. Discussion of this report took up a large part of the commissioner's time at the conference today.

SAY CHRISTIANITY IS MAKING MUCH PROGRESS

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 22.—Messages delivered today in ten minute talks by foreign missionaries from many countries of the world to the annual training conference for missionary leaders of the Methodist Episcopal church here, told of the progress Christianity is making among the un-Christian peoples. Generally the reports indicated encouraging progress is being made.

Bishop Luther B. Wilson, of New York, presided today, giving a ten minute recess during the morning session in order to permit the workers to hear Charles E. Hughes, republican nominee for president, speak at the railway station.

Today's meeting were missionaries from the Philippines, Mexico, Europe, Africa, Asia and South America. An all day training conference for missionaries and mission workers will be held tomorrow.

Gravit, aged 70, live, the unusual occurrence of a father and a son being pensioners of the same corporation will become a reality here. The elder Mr. Gravit was pensioned as assistant master carpenter for the Lake Shore railroad in 1908 and soon his son, an lathe operator in the locomotive shops, will be eligible to a pension. In 1905 the elder Mr. Gravit retired as master carpenter, being succeeded by another son, Walter, under whom he worked as an assistant until 1908, when he completed 50 years of service for the corporation.

King of Hungary Has Not Abdicated Sovereign Powers.

Amsterdam, Sept. 22.—Count Michael Karalyi, president of the Hungarian independence party, speaking in the Hungarian diet today, formally asked the Hungarian premier whether the king of Hungary had abdicated his sovereign rights to the German emperor, according to a Budapest dispatch to the Tj. Premier Tisza, the dispatch adds, replied that Count Karalyi had been wrongly informed. The king of Hungary, he said, fully retained his sovereign

MEN WHO WANT TO STAY ON BORDER MAY DO SO

Request of 300 New York Soldiers Brings Statement from Funston.

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 22.—The request of 300 members of the Second New York infantry to remain on border duty after they had been ordered home resulted in an announcement by Gen. Funston that guardsmen who wished to stay could transfer to other regiments, releasing men who wanted to return to their homes. Men only can be transferred to regiments from their own state.

There are men in all regiments who, because of business interests, feel they should be permitted to leave the service as long as there is not actual warfare. Investigation in the Second New York disclosed scores of its members without family or business ties who were anxious to remain in the federal service. This information was transferred to Gen. Funston by Gen. O'Ryan of the New York national guard.

The commander of the southern department immediately wired his consent to the transfers. He also sent to Maj. Gen. Clements, commander at Ft. Saco, of the Pennsylvania division, instructions to carry the plan into effect among his troops. It is expected to add to the general contentment of the guardsmen.

Three Pennsylvania regiments soon will be released by the arrival at the border of a similar number of North Carolina regiments.

The Second New York began leaving Pharr, Tex., and McAllen today, and will be cleared by tomorrow, its place in the New York division being taken by the Third Tennessee.

Commanders of divisions will have charge of transfer where the divisions are composed of troops from one state. In other cases Gen. Funston will have charge.

The release of thousands of troops on the border by the war department has reduced the number of provisional guard divisions to ten, Gen. Funston said today. The organization plan called for three divisions of regulars and twelve of guardsmen.

Stoner, of Eaton, O., will speak before the Women's Universalist's Missionary association. Rev. Willis A. Moore, of Detroit, will deliver a sermon in the evening.

Among two other speakers at the convention and their subjects will be Rev. Charles E. Petty, Logansport, "Increase in the Ministry;" J. M. Tilden, president of Lombard college, Galesburg, Ill., "Efficiency in Church Work;" Rev. William M. McGlaughlin, Scranton, Pa., "Denominational Preparedness;" Rev. George E. Huntley, Canton, N. Y., president of the General Sunday School association; Rev. William M. McGlaughlin, Scranton, Pa., "Denominational Preparedness;" Rev. George E. Huntley, Canton, N. Officers will be elected on the second day. There will be sessions for the Young People's Christian Union, and other organizations of the church. More than one hundred delegates and five hundred visitors are expected.

CANADIANS ALLOWED TO VOTE IN ENGLAND

British Columbia Soldiers Have Ballots Recorded Across the Sea.

London, Sept. 15 (correspondence of the Associated Press).—Soldiers from British Columbia now training or recovering from their wounds in the British Isles were invited to record their votes for the candidates seeking the suffrage of the electorate of British Columbia at the general election. It is said there are about 40,000 soldier-electors from the far western Canadian province now in Europe serving the empire and many of these are in London or its immediate vicinity. The results were telegraphed to the authorities in British Columbia.

The recording of these soldiers' votes while they are away from home has aroused much interest in political circles in the British Isles, where there has been much discussion as to how the electors for the imperial parliament now serving in the army would be affected in the event of a general election.

Lord Salisbury has introduced a bill to provide for such an emergency. Its clauses provide that every sailor and soldier registered as an elector should receive a copy of the candidates' election addresses. The commanding officer of the fighting unit would be required to appoint a day for the delivery of the marked ballot papers, in the sealed envelopes supplied to him and these would be forwarded to the electoral officials.

An officer now in the trenches who, in normal times, is an ardent politician, writes to the newspapers to point out that soldiers have other things to worry about instead of party politics. He says: "If people at home really think that our men are worrying about being temporarily disfranchised they have got the whole show in the wrong perspective. My men are worrying about rats and mosquitoes and pigeons and woolly bears and things like that and if you took a referendum out here you would get about two replies out of a hundred—and they probably would be spoiled votes because the lads express themselves crudely at times. The things they want are home and wives and children and sweethearts and clean clothes and a bath and some English beer—quite simple things like that. Not votes at all. They are quite content to leave all that to the people who are carrying on at home. When you are serving a gun day and night in a place like this it seems ridiculous to think of a Tommy worrying himself about voting. He's too busy sending—and dodging—death."

The politicians, however, appear to think otherwise and continue working up their agitation for the political privileges of the soldier in the trenches.

AT THE TEMPLE.

Last Chance to See "Baby Mine" Saturday.

Three more opportunities remain to see the greatest of mingling plays, "Baby Mine," at the Temple theater, and those who have put off going for various reasons should not fail to see the play tonight or at one of the performances on Saturday. To pass it up is to neglect the greatest mirth provoker of the age played by a first class company at popular prices. The Temple players have won a warm place in the estimation and approval of the play going public. It is by far the best stock company which has ever played here, and its work has daily won new laurels. Manager James W. Caldwell announces that five hundred good seats will be on sale at every matinee for ten cents. Popular prices will prevail evenings with no advance and this policy will be rigidly adhered to. Next week another splendid bill is promised.

With the substantial endorsement of a man of one whole year in New York and of half that time in both Chicago and Boston, and with the enthusiastic acclaim of thousands of delighted players in those three cities as a remarkable guarantee of its entertainment qualities, "Under Cover," Roi Cooper McGray's engrossing melodrama of the smart set, the secret service and transatlantic smuggling, will be produced by the Temple Theater Stock company next week.

The Villistas are reported passing along the road to Jimenez, southwest of Chihuahua City. Ranchers arriving report that Villa's forces were discouraged over the failure to obtain loot promised by Villa when he captured the city. Reports from the district through which the band is passing, it was given out, say Villa has lost considerable prestige because of failure of the attack. Prisoners taken by Villa who have returned say Villa's plan was to surround the palace during the Independence day celebration, kill Gen. Jacinto Trevino, commandant at Chihuahua City and his staff and to disorganize the garrison. Villa last week reported in the Sierra de la Silla district near Santa Isabel. "I am at a loss to know where General Bell obtained such bad information," he continued. "The Villistas carried absolutely nothing away with them, except some of the prisoners from army. Prisoners of which some have since returned here. They captured neither ammunition or anything else. "Our artillery drove the Villistas out of the palace which they had taken and pursued them in their hasty retreat with shot, leaving them no time to carry anything away as they left, galloping in small groups through the narrow streets of the town." General Trevino asserted that every unit of his force was co-ordinated, that all prisoners examined by him, agreed that Villa's band did not number more than 500; that there were no defections from the garrison and that all of the automobiles in the city are accounted for, none being carried away by the outlaws. Government artillery fire ceased only, he said, when the bandits had been repulsed and there seemed danger of hitting the pursuing forces under Generals Ramos and Merriero.

he told. Once she fell back into the little closet.
"I thought I would die. My heart melted and I couldn't breathe. I believe he thought I was dead for he turned away for a minute. Then I took hold of life again." Quickness of the woman in keeping Tombaugh from getting the big revolver in his right hand saved her life, she said. Tombaugh could not shoot straight and in his efforts to kill the woman, whom he believed to be in love with another, caused him to shoot himself through the right arm early in the fray. Tombaugh claims that his mind was a blank from the time he left the room after paying the woman some money he owed her hour before his attempt to take her life.
"If I did such a thing as that I don't know why," Tombaugh said over and over as he shook his head.
Three police officers told of making the run to the Connors apartments and tracking the woman into the bicycle shop on the first floor by the trail of blood she made as she groped her way down the stairs. Every place she touched with her hands was red with blood, they testified.
They found Tombaugh standing in the middle of the room in a dazed state. Tombaugh admitted at first that he had tried to kill the woman, Degitz said.

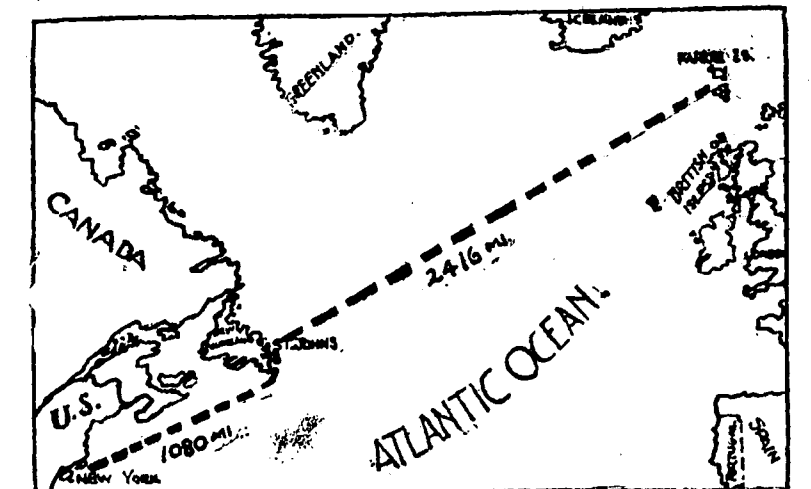

FUNSTON BELIEVES IT.

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 22.—Gen. Funston today said he placed full credence in the report of Villa's attack on Chihuahua City sent to the war department by Brig. Gen. George Bell, Jr., and given out for publication yesterday. He said he had been informed that Gen. Bell's information was gained from reliable persons who had come to El Paso directly from Chihuahua City immediately after the battle.

MERELY TO MAKE TROUBLE.

New York, Sept. 22.—In a telegram:

PLANS FLIGHT ACROSS ATLANTIC IN GIANT MACHINE CARRYING TON OF GASOLINE.

MAP SHOWING POLNER'S PROPOSED ROUTE.

Will 1916—the most notable year in the history of the world—record among its tremendous achievements, a transatlantic aeroplane flight?
Lieutenant Polner, young Danish military aviator, is fired with ambition to become the Columbus of the clouds, and is preparing to fly from Faroe island to New York in a 550-horsepower air craft. He says he expects to make the 3,550-mile journey in 48 hours.
Expert airmen believe Polner will succeed. With a high-powered motor, Polner hopes to average seventy-five miles an hour.

today to the Mexican consul in New York, Gen. Trevino, after reiterating his statements that his forces defeated the Villa invaders at Chihuahua City, says: "This foolish shedding of blood was with the intention of creating difficulties with the conferees of the commission at New London at the machinations of American and Mexican political interests. They themselves are now satisfied that they have failed."

THOUGH LIABLE.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 22.—Brigadier General Bell, commanding the El Paso military district, said today that his information concerning Villa's Hidalgo day attack upon Chihuahua City was obtained from "several most reliable sources." While he did not divulge his sources of information he said that he had every reason to believe that his report to the war department was founded on facts and not based on border rumors. General Bell refused to comment on General Trevino's statement.

were not molested. The lines were under heavy police guard.
The early morning bombardments of elevated trains resumed, however, strike sympathizers lurking on rooftops throwing bricks and bottles which reported by the police.

Mayor Gives Warning.

Mayor Mitchell last night gave the labor leaders a warning that he would employ the "full civil and military powers" conferred upon him by law to prevent violence and disorder that may result in consequence of the sympathetic strike.

The mayor's warning was addressed to Hugh Evans, chairman of the conciliatory committee of labor leaders, after a final effort to arrange a peaceful settlement had failed and following the declaration that a general strike was inevitable.

The mayor made it plain that for the union officials "to call these strikes will be to assume full responsibility for all that follow."
"The mayor, representing the civil forces of government in this city," the letter declared, "feels it incumbent upon him to say to you, now, before any further rash step is taken, that these duties (to enforce law and maintain order) the city government will discharge to the full employing, if need be, its entire resources to that end."
"Disorder, assaults, and crimes of violence, including injury to innocent citizens, such as those of Tuesday and Wednesday, will be suppressed with a strong hand and punished with all the vigor at the command of the government."

The plan announced yesterday by M. J. Regan of the state board of arbitration and mediation to enforce arbitration, was temporarily abandoned today and the hearings which he announced would be held Monday have been postponed. The question will be taken up, it was announced, later.

says today's German official statement. Further Russian attacks on Babaludowa were repulsed.

Airmen Attack Russ Ships.
"German seaplanes on September 20," says a report issued by the admiralty under date of September 21, "successfully attacked with bombs two Russian ships used as starting places for aeroplanes, escorted by one cruiser and several destroyers, approached the Bulgarian coast near Varna. The hostile sea forces were compelled to retire immediately and were pursued by our seaplanes."
"German hydroaeroplanes later successfully attacked hostile transports at Constantia and dropped bombs on the railroad in northern Dobrudja. In spite of heavy shelling all the raiders returned."

RENEW DRIVE ON SOMME.

British Advance of a Mile in New Night Attack.

London, Sept. 22.—The British advanced on a front of about a mile last night in the Somme sector, south of the Ancre river. The war office announced today that two lines of hostile trenches had been captured.

During the night we advanced on a front of about a mile, the statement says, "capturing two lines of hostile trenches, between Fieres and Martinpuich. Our front now runs approximately on a direct line north of Fieres and Martinpuich."

"The enemy's trenches were successfully entered last night south of Arras, prisoners being taken and many casualties inflicted. North of Neuville St. Vaast, a mine was blown up by us and the crater occupied."

British warships have been bombarding Bulgarian positions in the vicinity of Neohori, on the east bank of the Struma near its mouth, northeast of Saloniki, the war office announced today. On the left of the British position on the Macedonian front in the Doiran region, an artillery duel of increasing intensity is in progress.

ADVANCES IN WAVES.

German Infantry Hurled Mighty Attack on French Lines.

Paris, Sept. 22.—(Noon)—German infantry, advancing in waves, made renewed efforts this morning to beat back the French from positions recently captured north of the Somme.

The official announcement of today says the attacks were broken by French artillery before the Germans reached the French lines, compelling them to retire to their own trenches after sustaining heavy losses.

The attacks of the Germans made in strong force, were centered on the French position between Le Prieze farm and Ilancourt.

French and Serbian troops operating along the western end of the Macedonian front have scored new successes against the Bulgarians, the war office announced today. Serbian troops continuing their advance along the Broud river, have reached the neighborhood of Urbani where 100 prisoners were taken. North of Florina a Bulgarian attack was broken up by the fire of the French infantry. As a result of heavy engagements the entente forces were able to make progress on the heights dominating the road from Florina to Popli.

AFTER UNLICENSED RIVERMEN.
Federation of Labor Plans Organization in Ohio Valley.

Point Pleasant, W. Va., Sept. 22.—A movement that is expected to extend the entire Ohio valley was launched here last night with the organization by the American Federation of Labor of unlicensed rivermen. The organization grew out of a strike two weeks ago which was called just as Kanawha Valley and Ohio coal shippers were preparing to send large tows of coal to the south.

Some demands of the men were granted and it was then decided to form a union that would secure improved working conditions and higher wages. River men now receive $80 a month and deck hands $50.

We will give a $200.00 bonus toward that new house on Drexel Blvd., in Pontiac Place. Several choice lots to select from. Call Doud, 253. 9-22-21

Wilburn, secretary of the Pennsylvania Association of Master Bakers, the recommendation of the national association have been seconded by the local organization and individual bakers are already raising the price to 10 cents a loaf. He said the Sherman anti-trust law prevents the association from regulating the price of bread but does not prevent it from recommending the increase.

TRI-LAKE INSTEAD OF LAKE WAWASEE

General Electric Quarter
Century Club Changes
Picnic Grounds.

Because of the distance to Wawasee, fifty-two miles, and fear that the trip would greatly fatigue some of the older members of the party, the Quarter Century club, of the General Electric works, has decided to hold its picnic at Tri-Lake tomorrow. The latter is only twenty-six miles from Fort Wayne, just half the distance to Wawasee, and besides the roads are said to be better on the whole than the lake. There are thirty-seven members of the club, but on account of some being absent and others being unable to go on account of sickness and other reasons, only twenty-nine will make the trip. They will leave the city early tomorrow morning in automobiles and expect to reach the lake by 9 o'clock. The day will be spent in boating, fishing and feasting and a fine time is anticipated. Dr. Fred J. Scholz and William E. Melchinger, who are not members of the club, will go also, the former as a guide because of his familiarity with the roads to the lake, and Mr. Melchinger because he is never left out when the boys have anything in the way of pleasure to offer. Of course, the weather will have some bearing upon the trip, but unless it is very bad, the trip will be made.

BOWSER INAUGUR-
ATES NEW PLAN.

A Material Bonus System Which Will Add 5 Per Cent to Wages.

S. B. Bechtel, general manager of S. F. Bowser & Co., has conceived and presented to the senate and house of the big plant a material bonus plan which if carried out as planned by Mr. Bechtel, will not only result in an increase of 5 per cent in the wages of the skilled employees, but will save many dollars in the course of the year in the consumption of raw material. General Manager S. B. Bechtel and other officials of the company have been making personal investigation and found that many times the raw material could not be procured fast enough to supply the rapidly working employees engaged in special duties and piece work, and this resulted in delays and consequent loss to the men. With a straight guarantee of 5 per cent and assurance of all dividends which may exceed the stipulated amount, the employees affected by this ruling will now enjoy an additional advantage and can earn more.

The material bonus plan is similar in its workings to the output bonus plan established last winter, which yields a big saving to the company and a handsome wage increase to the employees. It was described in detail by The Sentinel some months ago.

WABASH IMPROVEMENTS.

Company Decides to Expend Several Millions in Betterments.

The division superintendents and maintenance of way officials of the Wabash are engaged in making estimates for improvements of the property covering a period of five years, work to be taken up early next year. It is proposed to build many miles of second track and to erect several new passenger stations. The Peru Chronicle states that $3,000,000 or more will be spent on the Peru division. The improvements, as stated, are to be made within the next five years, being arranged so as to give each year a share. The Wabash passes through the best part of the country between Detroit and Toledo in the east and Kansas City and St. Louis in the west, and will be one of the best paying railway properties in the country when the improvements proposed are made.

WIND DAMAGES SCAFFOLD.

Prompt action and absence of fear of personal injury saved the prostration of one of the big stacks and the wooden scaffolding surrounding it over the power plant at the Pennsylvania roundhouse about 11:30 o'clock last night. The high wind which raged at that hour swayed the stack and the scaffold until one of the guy wires became loose and one of the corner uprights of the scaffold broke. At the risk of being hurt or killed, some of the men employed at the roundhouse climbed the scaffold, attached new guy ropes and anchored the scaffold and scaffold so they could not fall. The morning they were leaning considerably, but were easily put in proper position and the work of strengthening and repairing the scaffold was taken up. The work of erecting the steel smokestack, which is to replace one damaged by rust, has been delayed a day or two by the storm, but no serious damage resulted. The work is in charge of Millwright Henry Zollinger and boilermakers William C. Meyers, C. H. Tegtmeyer, E. J. Young and W. E. Bultmeyer.

TRAIN MAKES GOOD RUN.

G. R. & I. officials and trainmen are proud of the manner in which the train of candidate Hughes was handled from this city to Richmond yesterday. Every stopping point enroute was reached "right on the dot" and the train went into Richmond at 8:25, a time set for its arrival. Conductor Pat McGee had charge of the train and Engineer John Hanson and Fireman F. A. Mosel officiated in the cab. The Pennsylvania handles the Hughes party tomorrow between Gary and Plymouth, with a stop at Valparaiso.

NOT HIRING FIREMEN.

"Say, just tell the people that the G. R. & I. is not hiring firemen at present," said one of the men connected with the road foreman of engines office this morning. "One of the city papers stated a few days ago that we needed firemen and were hiring many, and since that time over fifty men have applied here for positions." The G. R. & I. is doing a very good freight business and has probably as large a number of train crews on the list as ever. There are enough men to man all the locomotives, however, and none are being hired.

Clothes—they make the man

Every man, young, middle aged, or elderly, knows that the greatest portion of his personality and prestige among other men depends on his general appearance.

This Young Fellow Knows He's Well Dressed

And it's all our fault. He is one of the most discriminating dressers in Fort Wayne and when he stepped into our shop some time ago he was shown every consideration of style, fabric, tailoring, and the fit of his clothes are now thoughtfully observed by all of the young live wires in the city.

The wide diversity of models we display evidences ample provision for every conceivable personal preference and physical requirement. We give the strictest attention to the fitting and workmanship of every garment and do not let the garment leave our shop unless it is perfect in every respect.

It was our ability to give men of Fort Wayne and vicinity more for their money than they were accustomed to getting elsewhere that nearly doubled our business last Spring, and started the town talking about the styles and values of John Ford Clothes.

$16 - $18 - $20

The fall season is at hand and these prices quoted are on brand new materials. (Clothes that you can be sure are 100 per cent pure wool, thoroughly tested and shrunk by our exclusive cold water process. (That means that these clothes will hold their shape—line and style until worn out).)

Nowhere else will your clothing money bring you such big returns in style, fit, service and satisfaction as when invested in John Ford Clothes at the prices of $16, $18 and $20.

RALLY OF WORKERS IS TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Everything Ready for Campaign to Raise Money for Christ Lutheran Church.

Tonight in the Christ Lutheran campaign headquarters in the basement of the First Methodist church, will occur the grand rally of the workers before the opening of the city wide campaign for $40,000. The meeting tonight marks the culmination of the past two weeks of arduous preliminary work and organization which has tended to thoroughly prepare the members of the forty teams of men and women for the ten days of solicitation to begin Monday.

General Chairman W. F. Geller, in speaking of the work thus far, said: "Everything points to success in our effort. The spirit and enthusiasm manifested on the part of our workers certainly be productive of splendid results. The help and encouragement received outside our own ranks has been above our fondest expectations and omens well." Mr. Geller also stated that already he had received from representative men of the city a few substantial gifts, showing that the actual campaign opens the efforts of the organization are being accorded handsome support.

Tonight's big rally at headquarters will no doubt mark the climax thus far in the keen and enthusiastic feeling existing among the workers. The spirit of friendly rivalry for honors has already taken root between the divisions of men and women and between their respective teams as well, which is a sure and reliable sign of great work being accomplished.

Final Instructions.
Aside from the "rally" part of tonight's meeting, the final instructions will be given to the workers and the finishing touches in the coaching of the teams will be an important feature. Every captain and every worker should be present tonight without fail. Chairman Paul H. Hartman, of the men's division, will give his final word to the teams of men and will announce the complete roster of his captains with their respective teams as they will enter the campaign proper. Mrs. H. C. Horn, chairman of the ladies' division, will also give final instructions to the teams of ladies and will announce her permanent working force.

During each evening of the ten days of campaigning a free supper will be served to the workers at headquarters. Mrs. H. C. Hadley and Mrs. J. Varian, vice chairmen of the ladies' division, will have charge of the dining room and kitchen, respectively, and have been devoting all their spare time during the last few days getting everything in their department in excellent shape. During the supper hour reports will be received also from each team on their day's work and the daily progress will be recorded on the mammoth thermometer which will grace the court house at the corner of Berry and Calhoun.

AMERICAN LEPROS FOUND IN JAPAN

Discovery Constitutes Big Problem for American Officials There.

Yokohama, Japan, Sept. 20.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—The discovery of about twenty-five American lepers in different parts of Japan has become a pressing problem to American officials and for the American Association of Japan, which is undertaking to secure their transportation to the American leper home in the Hawaiian islands.

The lepers have made their way here in recent years with the hope that they might be healed at the famous Japanese hot springs, especially those at Kusatsu which is always crowded with Japanese lepers taking the waters. Gradually they have drifted to missionary leper hospitals or have in other ways become burdens on the community. In view of the excellent asylum at Hawaii the American association is taking active steps to secure their removal.

Leprosy is one of the great questions seeking solution by modern Japan. It is estimated that the lepers of the empire number about 25,000. Five governmental leper asylums were established in 1907, but they accommodate only a few thousand. The remainder are scattered over the country desperately seeking a cure in the hot springs or publicly begging in the market-place or before the temples.

At the last session of the Diet the Japanese Leprosy Prevention society petitioned for the establishment of a national leprosy hospital on some island in the Pacific ocean. The cost of the asylum was estimated at $8,000,000, and its maintenance at $250,000 a year. It is believed that at least one-third of the lepers could be housed and treated at once and it was contended by the petitioners that Japan could be cleared of lepers in the course of ten years.

TOO MANY AUTOS LINE UP AT SCHOOL HOUSES

Chicago Board Head Raps Livered Chauffeurs for Wrist Watch Boys.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 22.—Criticism by the board of education of the practice of children driving to and from school in automobiles was widely discussed today. The subject came before the board yesterday during a debate on a motion to instruct the superintendent of schools to investigate the large number of petty thefts which have occurred at various public schools recently.

Jacob M. Loeb, president of the board, was especially severe in his criticism of conditions at Hyde Park high, one of the most popular high schools on the south side.

"You should see it on a rainy day," said Mr. Loeb, "at closing time the automobiles are lined up there as if it were a fashionable reception with liveried chauffeurs to take the wrist watch boys home."

"The pupils of that school think of society life only. They look at their automobiles, their silk stockings, their parties and balls, for dancing and pleasure."

"What would be your remedy for these conditions?" asked Edward J. Piggott, member of the board.

"I would like to educate the parents," replied Mr. Loeb.

URGE PARENTS TO USE CHILD PLAGUE CLINICS

New York, Sept. 22.—Officials of charitable institutions here are engaged in a campaign to induce parents to take their children who have suffered from infantile paralysis to the hospitals and clinics for treatment to save them, if possible, from being permanently crippled or deformed.

Nurses have been engaged to visit every family in which there has been a case of paralysis to urge them to take advantage of this opportunity for free treatment. The treatment consists largely of massage, the use of electricity, muscle training and corrective gymnastics.

Twenty new cases of infantile paralysis, seven of them yesterday, were reported by the health authorities today. The deaths numbered eleven, an increase of five.

PLAN BRITISH TRADE BANK.
Concern With Capital of Ten Million Pounds Considered.

London, Sept. 22.—Establishment of a British trade bank with a capital of £10,000,000, was considered today by a committee of which Baron Farrington, chairman of the Great Central railway, is the head. The committee was appointed to consider the best means of meeting the needs of British firms after the war, with particular reference to financing large overseas contracts. It suggests that the proposed bank could fill the gap between the home banks and the colonial and foreign British banks, and develop a policy of expansion.

AUTHORS OBJECT TO JOINING THE UNION

Prominent Writers Balk at Proposal to Affiliate With Federation.

New York, Sept. 22.—Ninety members of the Authors' League of America have signed and issued a protest against the proposal to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor.

Included in that number are many well known writers such as Jack London, George Ade, Cyrus Townsend Brady, John Burroughs, Winston Churchill, Hamlin Garland, Emerson Hough, Jos. C. Lincoln, Brander Matthews, Ray Stannard Baker, Samuel G. Blythe, Irvin S. Cobb, James Flagg, Will Payne, Ida M. Tarbell, Kate Douglas Wiggin, Owen Winter and Edward Mott Woolley.

They denounce the proposed affiliation as "inappropriate, disadvantageous and dangerous," and assert that those favoring it dwell on the advantages of standardized contracts in the publishing, magazine and theatrical business, but fail to show that it would attain any of these advantages.

WOMAN IS INDICTED IN POISONING CASES

Mrs. Archer-Gilligan Held for Murder of Five in Home for Aged.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 22.—Mrs. Amy E. Archer-Gilligan, charged with poisoning five inmates of her home for elderly people at Windsor, was indicted for first degree murder on five counts by the grand jury late yesterday. Benedict M. Holden, counsel for Mrs. Gilligan, announced that he was not ready to proceed with the trial and Judge M. S. Rhumway ordered the case continued to the December term of the superior court. Mrs. Gilligan pleaded not guilty and was remanded to the county jail without bonds.

The state alleged that Mrs. Gilligan poisoned the following persons: Mrs. Maude Lynch, of Lakeville, on Feb. 21, 1916; Franklin R. Andrews, of Cheshire, on May 30, 1914; Charles A. Smith, of Waterbury, on April 9, 1914; Michael W. Gilligan, second husband of the accused, on Feb. 20, 1914, and Mrs. Alice Gowdy, of Hartford, Dec. 9, 1914.

Mrs. Gilligan was arrested in May last specifically charged with the murder of Mr. Andrews, whose body had been secretly exhumed. Since that time four other bodies have been exhumed, and the state alleges that evidence of a powerful poison was found in all the bodies. All the deaths occurred at the Windsor home.

Most of the inmates were admitted to the home, the state claims, after contracts had been signed providing for life care upon payment of $1,000.

MORAN AND FULTON TO MEET.
New York, Sept. 22.—Frank Moran and Fred Fulton will fight a ten-round bout here on Oct. 12, under an agreement announced today. This will be the first heavyweight match of the season.

Mrs. Carrie Heller and Miss Flora Heller are going to Toledo, O., on Saturday, for a ten days' visit.

CHICAGO HOUSEWIVES WAR ON FOOD ADVANCE

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Housewives of Chicago were called upon today to attend a mass meeting at which organization in the prices of foodstuffs. The announcement that bread is to be advanced from five to six cents a loaf resulted in the call for the meeting. Miss Florence King, president of the Woman's Association of Commerce, under whose auspices the meeting is to be held, urged that housewives boycott dealers or refuse to purchase supplies which have been advanced in price.

"Men are interested in buying and selling for a profit. It is therefore folly to expect them to take any action. The call reads: 'Women must put a stop to unwarranted increases and we alone can stop them.'"

CONTRACT HOLDS GOOD EVEN AFTER MARRIAGE

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 22.—Teachers of Pittsburg's public schools who wait after they sign a teacher's contract with the board of education cannot be removed from their positions until their contracts expire, according to a ruling of J. Rogers McCreery, counsel for the board of education.

Heretofore it has been the rule that when a teacher married she forfeited her position and this rule has been strictly enforced. Last June Miss Ella Hanlon, a teacher, signed up to teach the coming year and then she married. She was notified she had forfeited her position. She engaged an attorney and decided to fight the school board's ruling. When that body took up her case with its counsel it was informed its rule could not be enforced and as it now stood was not legal.

CLOVER SEED CROP IS EXTREMELY GRATIFYING

Dealers Are Offering From $1.00 to $12 a Bushel for the Seed.

Reports from the country where clover hulling has been in progress the past few days, are to the effect that the crop this year is extremely gratifying. The acreage is good and farmers had large fields. The price is holding up around the $10 and $12 mark. In large centers the seed was bringing from $11 to $14. The damp weather of the past few days has hindered progress in the hulling of clover. Friday was a very inactive day on the Fort Wayne markets. Receipts were very light. Only a few loads of grain appeared on the streets in the morning and millers and commission men took in but very little. Prices remained unchanged.

Corn cutting is going on in full swing in the country. Allen county will have a fair sized crop this year. The stalks, however, are small and therefore fodder will be more scarce than last year.

The egg market has come to a standstill at the 20c a dozen mark, with indications, however, that the price will be boosted soon. Ten and a quarter for eggs is the same song that was sung today by local packers and live stock dealers. There are no indications as to which way the price will go.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Wheat prices developed considerable strength today as a result of a scarcity of offerings and because of reports that rains in Argentina had not affected the drought, the lack of moisture being in the north, whereas the rains had fallen in the south and west. Opening prices, which ranged from 3¢ to 11¢ higher, with December at $1.50 1/2 to $1.51 1/2, and May at $1.51 1/2 to $1.52 1/2, were followed by substantial additional gains. The close was unsettled, 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 net higher, with December at $1.53 1/2 to $1.54 1/2, and May at $1.53 1/2 to $1.54 1/2.
Corn hardened with wheat. After opening 1 1/2 to 3¢ higher, the market continued to rise. The close was nervous at flimsy of 5¢ to 11¢ net.
In the oats pit the main influence was the strength of other cereals.
Provisions showed a little firmness in consequence of an advance in hog values.

VON JAGOW TO CONFER WITH PARTY LEADERS

Berlin, Sept. 22.—The reichstag, which is to be reopened Thursday, September 28, will be preceded in the course of the next few days by confidential conferences between Gottlieb von Jagow, the minister of foreign affairs, and the various party leaders.

Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, is expected to address the reichstag on the first day of the session. Afterwards Dr. Karl Helfferich, the secretary of the interior, will speak on the economic situation in Germany. The bundestag yesterday extended by one year the term of the reichstag which should have concluded its session in January, 1917. The legislative period of the diet of Alsace-Lorraine was similarly extended.

HEAVY DEALING CONTINUES.

New York, Sept. 22.—United States steel was again the spectacular feature of today's trading in which transactions attained the huge total of 525,000 shares. This makes the fourteenth consecutive regular session in which dealings have extended to or well over seven figures. Steel rose to 114½ just before the close, making an extreme gain of 4½ on the day and passing its previous price by that much. The turnover in steel alone approximated 250,000 shares. Prices never before equaled were registered by the better known operators. The market closed in a fever of activity, rails alone showing decided recessions from their best quotations.

SPEAKS AT INDIANAPOLIS.

President Wilson Accepts an Invitation for October 12.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 22.—President Wilson has accepted an invitation to speak in Indianapolis October 12 at the celebration of Highway day in connection with the Indiana centennial observance, according to a message received here today by Governor Ralston from Vance C. McConnick, democratic national chairman. The governor said the address is to be non-political. An effort will be made to get the president to remain here in the evening for a political rally which will be arranged for him, should he decide to stay for it.

In a Pennsylvania town it was proposed to have Sunday here last. The burgess declined to license unless the people approved, so boxes were placed in the churches on Sunday. The result was 209 favored and 200 opposed.

Specimens of almost every precious mineral have been found in Spitzbergen, but there are no signs, according to geologists, that precious minerals exist in paying quantities.

ONE MILITIAMAN IN EVERY TEN IS UNFIT

Result of Physical Disability Predicted Year Ago by War College.

BY FREDERICK M. KERBY.

Washington, Sept. 22.—One man in every ten of the force of militiamen sent to the Mexican border had to be discharged because of physical disability.

That is the conclusion to be drawn from official figures just given out by the war department covering the number of discharges since the national guard was ordered to mobilize in June. This statement, brought up to Aug. 31, shows that up to that time 9,444 members of the guard had been discharged for physical disability. This is approximately one-tenth of the men sent to the border.

In addition to these, 4,919 men had to be discharged because of dependent families, and 146 more were sent back to their necessary duties in the government departments.

Exactly this result was predicted a year ago by the army war college staff. In November, 1915, the war college, under the head of "Lack of Physical Fitness," in a discussion of the militia as organized under the constitution and its value to the nation as a military asset, said:

"Because the standard for medical examination prescribed for the regular army has been adopted by the state, does not follow that they conform. Those who have inspected the organized militia know this, and men not qualified physically would shortly have to be discharged and might later become a worthy pension claimant."

The war college report then refers to the 1914 inspection of the militia and its showing of 3,218 physically unfit men in the skeleton organizations existing at that time.

"If," says the report, "the necessary superficial examination showed 3,218 unfit, it is believed a searching examination would reveal several times such number unfit. * * * It is believed that many organization commanders are very lax as to physical qualifications in order to secure the prescribed minimum."

This prediction is absolutely verified by the official figures on discharges for physical disability, just issued.

When the fact is considered that very many of the militia organizations were below even the minimum peace strength and that thousands of men in the guard regiments on the border today are recruits who came in after the call to mobilize, and who, consequently, were examined strictly by the regular army surgeons, it will be apparent that the percentage of physical disability was much higher among the militiamen enlisted prior to the call to arms than even these figures show.

The report indicates the impossibility of relying on the militia system, with the authority for carrying out the regulations vested in state officials. Divided authority must always result in inefficiency and failure to comply with the rules. Only by some system of universal military training directly under the government can the evils of the militia system be remedied in the opinion of the war college and general staff.

Get Rid of That Miserable Feeling.
There are few diseases that make one feel more miserable than a disordered stomach. Mrs. A. Wingale, Gorham, N. Y., writes: "I began using Chamberlain's Tablets about five years ago. At that time I was having a great deal of trouble with my stomach. I suffered great distress due to indigestion and constipation. Nothing did me much good until I got Chamberlain's Tablets. Obtainable everywhere. — Advertisement."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous membrane. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

Amsterdam, Netherlands, Sept. 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Charged by the Netherlands minister of war to investigate the latest German methods of treatment of soldiers suffering from nervous collapse and kindred ailments, Dr. Zeelandelaar, of the Dutch army medical service also took advantage of his stay in Berlin to look into the question of the alleged chronic underfeeding in the German capital.

"I went for the purpose," writes Dr. Zeelandelaar, "to Wannsee Lake, the popular family bathing resort, where I was able to inspect some thousands of Berliners of all ages, stripped to the buff. I only wish my city patients looked like them. The feeding in Berlin is said to be the worst in Germany, with the exception of the garrison towns. But if much privation has to be suffered, there is no real hunger. I took my meals purposely in the most simple eating houses. Food is much dearer than normally; but there is still sufficient and the poorest are cared for. The impression that I, and many with me, had that the war could not last much longer because the stamina of the people was suffering too much by underfeeding, is assuredly very exaggerated, if not entirely incorrect. Your German now takes his coffee without sugar, his potatoes without gravy, his—not very palatable—bread with just a suspicion of butter or only with jam, and he puts up with a couple of meatless days a week. Consequently, he has lost his proverbial roundness, but if he fares poorly he is still far from starving."

Dr. Zeelandelaar also took occasion to inquire at the German ministry of foreign affairs about the detention of so many doctors and nursing personnel of the entente armies in Germany. He was given to understand that this was a measure of reprisal evoked by the holding back of German medical men in France and Russia. His informants acknowledged that such imprisonment is in conflict with the Convention of Geneva; but they added that an agreement would probably be reached soon with Russia and France by which all those directly connected with the medical services would be released, except a small percentage who were absolutely necessary to attend to their own imprisoned compatriots.

READ HOW WE SAVE YOU $4 to $11

Every time you buy clothes in a ground floor store, a big slice of what you pay goes for high rent, expensive equipment and the up-keep of a costly organization.

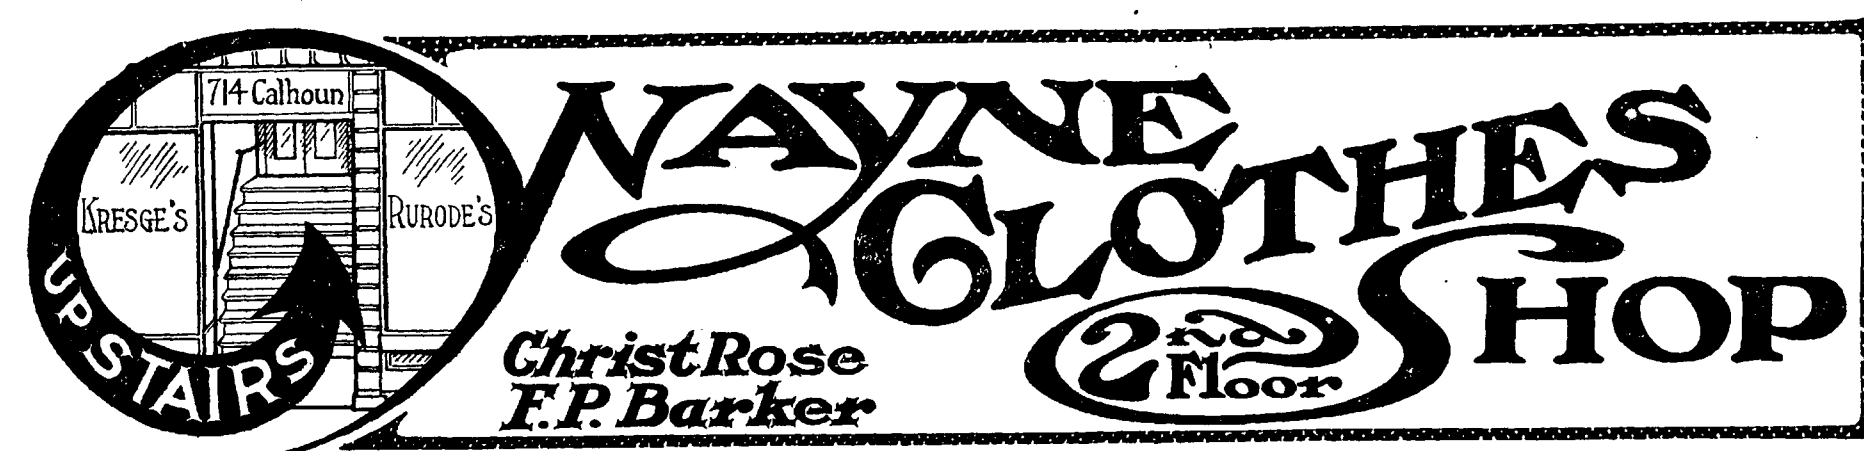

Here on the second floor, we almost entirely escape these and other heavy expenses. We have practically no rent to pay. Expensive fixtures are not required. There are no elaborate show windows and merchandise displays to maintain. We need no large, high-priced sales and office force.

To do business on the second floor costs us only a fraction of what it would on the first. It is this enormous saving that makes it possible for us to give you the same values for 20% to 30% less money than any ground floor store possibly could.

The clothes we sell are guaranteed $18 to $30 values. Instead of charging these prices early in the season and a different price later, we sell these same clothes for cash at $14 and $19 the year 'round. We can do it because we do not have the high ground floor rent to pay, nor the big running expenses, nor the losses from "sales" and "charge accounts" that other stores have to face.

Come tomorrow. Investigate our prices and values. Make us prove the claims we put forth. We stand back of every garment—color, fabric, fit, tailoring. If you can duplicate these clothes for less than $18 to $30 regularly in any ground floor store—COME BACK AND GET YOUR MONEY.

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time In Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and abundance more will benefit from the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Another prominent physician who when the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to ophthalmologists and are widely prescribed by them. The immediate success it is to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances is indeed a marvel. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very best remedies ever used."

FIVE LEADERS IN DAZZLING FLAG RACE RULE BY KINDNESS; SIXTH WITH AN IRON HAND!

STALLINGS RANTS AND STORMS WHEN PLAYERS FAIL IN CRISIS; ALL OTHERS USE THE OLD PAT ON THE BACK AND THE KINDLY WORD TO GET BEST FROM ATHLETES!

(By Harold Johnson.)

What types of men are leading the big drives in the National and American league flag races? In what respect are the six managers—Bill Carrigan, of the Red Sox; "Pants" Rowland, of the White Sox; Hughie Jennings, of Detroit; Wilbert Robinson, of Brooklyn; Pat Moran, of the Phillies, and George Stallings, of the Boston Braves, alike?

Temperament is playing a vital part in the conduct of these strategists and field marshals, each in command of twenty-five high strung ball players; each with but a single thought.

The manager leading a team in this hustling stretch dash must be exacting, critical, diplomatic, amiable, resourceful and without a fighter. The six above named are all of that, else their clubs wouldn't be still battling in the most remarkable pennant race in the history of baseball.

Singularly all but one of the leaders are of practically one type—the sort that believes in cajoling the men they are managing.

Stallings is the only simon-pure bench manager of the lot. He is a terror during a closely contested battle. Up and down the bench he slides, doing efficient trouser destruction in the interest of his tailor. His eyes rove and dart; the deep wrinkles

THREE NEW COACHES FOR HOOSIER TEAMS

Purdue, Indiana and DePauw Have New Tutors This Season.

Indianapolis, Sept. 22.—Reports from the various universities and colleges in Indiana indicate that the coming football season probably will be one of the best in the history of the state. One of the reasons for the prophecy is the employment of new coaches. Three of them are men with national reputations, and will instill into the men under their tutelage new methods and confidence.

Purdue, Indiana university and DePauw all have new coaches who will attempt to raise the standard of play. Cleo O'Donnell at Purdue, Ewald O. Stuehm at Indiana, and Eddert Buss at DePauw, will have teams to work with which have been mediocre in the past few seasons. Although both Indiana and Purdue have given good exhibitions neither has ranked among the leaders in the western conference for the last year or so. DePauw also has felt the need of new methods.

The other universities and colleges in the state have not made changes. Jesse Harper will continue at Notre Dame. Paul Sheek is to train the Valparaiso "Little Giants" again this fall. Cully Thomas will direct the Butler eleven, John Thurbur will be at Franklin, Hal Melford at Rose Polytechnic, Horace Whiteside at Earlham, and Coach Rider at Hanover.

Advance reports obtained from the various coaches while not making strong assertions as to what will be done, show a spirit of optimism. Each coach seems to think he has on hand material which will give good accounts.

NEW RECORD MAY BE MADE BY LOCAL MAN

Blum Thinks Biggest Day's Work of Life Possible, Since Taking Tanlac.

Another interesting statement regarding the merits of Tanlac, the celebrated new medicine, was given on April 10 by Fred Blum, 57 years old, a well known farmer residing on rural route No. 15, Ft. Wayne, Mr. Blum found the Master Medicine highly beneficial.

"I have suffered from kidney trouble for the last fifteen years," Mr. Blum said, "and for the last six years I have suffered from muscular rheumatism also. The kidney trouble caused severe pains in my back that prevented me from standing erect and often made it impossible for me to get up after sitting down. The rheumatic pains were especially severe in my knees and elbows."

"I learned of Tanlac through the newspapers and decided to give the new medicine a trial. The third day after I started taking the medicine I began to improve. The kidney trouble has now been entirely banished, the pains in my back having disappeared and the rheumatic pains are practically gone."

"I want to say that the results I have gained through Tanlac are truly wonderful. I feel that I can do a bigger day's work now than ever before. I recommend this medicine because I believe it will help others suffering as I did."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and the like and has proven a fine blood purifier and general system cleanser.

Tanlac is now being specially introduced and explained in Fort Wayne at the four Meyer drug stores—Wayne and Calhoun streets; Albion and Columbia 1420 Calhoun and Broadway and Taylor streets. Advertisement.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of the Sunday School Course of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1916, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 24

REVIEW.

READING LESSON—II Cor. 4:1-5:4.
GOLDEN TEXT—We look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen; for the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal.—II Cor. 4:18.

A map is essential to an understanding of Paul's labors and adventures—especially a present-day map, with its modern names of the places which he visited. It should be used in teaching this lesson, and New Testament history generally.

It will cause the lessons to relate themselves more closely to the world as we now know it. During the past quarter they have extended over a period of about seven years, from approximately A. D. 50 to 57, and are all centered about the life and teaching of Paul. It is difficult to attempt a logical review. A number of lessons have been introduced from the letters of Paul, which are not chronological in the development of the church. It might be well, perhaps, to consider first the leading events in the life of Paul, and second the prominent characteristics of Paul's life as we have had them presented to us, and also to consider six of the cities in which Paul founded churches in Europe, studying their modern names and conditions and looking into the difficulties and dangers which he encountered. In Lesson One we have the record of Paul's untiring activity, and his persistent use of the Scriptures. Every one of his sermons was confirmed by the Word of God. Lesson Two presents his interest in those who were converted in his ministry; also a suggestion as to his unceasing prayerfulness on their behalf. Lesson Three presents his tact and wisdom in preaching the Risen Christ, and his emphasis upon the need of repentance. Lesson Four gives a suggestion of his untiring activity in the midst of great discouragement and in the face of bitter opposition. Lesson Five reveals his persistent determination to know and to preach nothing save Jesus Christ and him crucified. Lesson Six is Paul's panegyric on love as the supreme gift. Lesson Seven is an exposition of the duty and blessedness of cheerful giving. In it is given a new benediction of Jesus, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," which is nowhere else recorded. Lesson Eight, another suggestion as to his courage. Lesson Nine emphasizes humility, compassionate love and a fearless declaration of the whole counsel of God. Lesson Ten presents his forgetfulness of himself and his eagerness to preach Christ even when threatened by an unrestrained mob. Lesson Twelve again presents his forgetfulness of himself, and his eager seizing of every possible opportunity to preach the Lord Jesus.

Turning to the cities that Paul visited, we first encounter Philippi (now in ruins). This is the first city in Europe where there was a Christian church, and it was one which Paul especially loved. Though he was driven from it by a mob, and escaped by means of an angel, yet his letter to that church is a revelation of his feeling toward his first European congregation. Thessalonica, the modern Saloniki in Macedonia, formerly belonged to the Turkish empire in Europe. Here Paul founded a church, consisting of Jews and Greeks. Paul is accused of turning the world upside down, and teaching Jesus to be the Christian's king. For this he was accused of treason against Rome. Two epistles were written to the church in which he does not record any fault-finding. This church has been called the "Church Beautiful." Athens was then, as now, the chief city of Greece, and one of the three most renowned cities in the history of the world. Paul's famous address on Mars hill was treated with great indifference. His stay was short, and never afterwards do we find him showing forth his learning, but ever after he expresses his determination to know nothing save "Jesus Christ and him crucified." (I Cor. 2:1, 2.) Corinth was a great commercial city. At present the original site is in ruins, but the new Corinth has been built three miles away, and is today a city of approximately 15,000 population. Paul spent a year and a half here, preaching and teaching, and supplemented this with a period of three months of service. It was a worldly and wicked city, and yet Paul here founded his largest church, converted from heathenism.

During this time we have the story of the burning of the books of magic, of the silver shrine of Diana, and of the Ephesian riot which compelled Paul to leave the city.

Paul afterwards revisited the churches he had founded in Europe and about 62 A. D. wrote a letter to the Ephesian churches, some six years after he left them, and while he was a prisoner in Rome.

The journey to Jerusalem, starting from Philippi (now in ruins) where Luke joined Paul with the Gentile church's collection for the poor, is the concluding portion of our lesson.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only add the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, pitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity from the stomach, and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism, others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Advertisement.

CHILDREN RAISE 20,000 PURE-BRED PIGS; UNCLE SAM TELLS 'EM HOW.

A "Pig Club" pig, a prize winner, and Jack Starr of Midland, Tex., a "Pig Club" boy who raised it. It is a Duroc-Jersey, weighing 450 pounds at the age of 11 months.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 22. Twenty thousand pure bred pigs raised by 20,000 youngsters on 20,000 farms.

That is the 1916 outcome of the department of agriculture's "pig club" experiment.

The department's nosing around to see why swine husbandry was not profitable in many sections, found poor stock, bungling and improper methods largely responsible.

For years scientific men of the department had been writing learned treatises on hog raising, but farmers didn't pay much attention.

In 1910 E. W. Jones, superintendent of the rural schools of Caddo Parish, La., started the first pig club in the United States. The State Agricultural college became interested and in 1912 the bureau of animal industry in the department of agriculture started, in a small way, to co-operate with the college in the work. By 1913 the clubs had a membership of 2,000 boys and girls.

Under Secretary of Agriculture Houston, the work has been pushed rapidly. By the end of the fiscal year, 1916, the clubs had a membership of 20,000 in thirteen states.

The club members are required to secure a pig, feed and care for it according to instructions, keep records of the amount of feed consumed, the gains in weight, cost of the gain per pound, breeding records, etc.

At the end of the year the members are required to send reports to the state pig club agent, and whenever possible the pig club member must show his or her pig at the county fair.

As a result pure-bred swine are becoming common in many parts of the country where heretofore only poor pigs or none at all were raised. Farmers who used to spend thousands of dollars each year for meat are now producing a surplus. And pork packing plants are springing up in the wake of the "pig clubs."

NEW PROPOSAL FOR MOTHERS' PENSIONS

Big Advanced Step to Be Urged in Twenty-Seven States Soon.

(BY JUDGE HENRY NEIL, Father of Mothers' Pensions, Denver, Col., Sept. 22.—An amendment to the mothers' pension laws providing that working mothers dependent on their own wages for support shall receive a pension of $40 a month for two months before maternity and three months after the child is born will be introduced into the legislatures of the twenty-seven states now operating the mothers' pension system.)

Judge Ben Lindsey has agreed to write the amendment and introduce it into the Colorado legislature and I will submit it to the legislatures of the other twenty-seven states.

The main object of this amendment is to relieve mothers of work during at least a part of the period when the child needs the nourishment that the mother would not be able to give if it were necessary for her to work.

Judge Lindsey went to Berlin to investigate the mothers' pension system. He says Germany has tried this pension plan and found it both economical and highly humane.

The plan would decrease the number of weak children that would otherwise become permanent public charges and a burden to taxpayers.

The expense of maintaining institutions for the care of feeble minded and under-nourished children is becoming greater and greater and will become an unbearable burden to the taxpayers of the states unless something is done to prevent babies from being weakened at birth by mothers' inability to give them proper nourishment.

This amendment, when enacted into law and put into operation will save the taxpayers millions of dollars now spent to maintain institutions for children and save the lives of millions of babies.

In this country 30 to 40 per cent of the cases requiring charitable relief are due to sickness.

VON MACKENSEN PUTS ALLIED FOE TO ROUT

GERMANS WIN BIG VICTORY

Smash Rumanian and Russian Resistance in Dobruja Fighting.

VANQUISHED FLEE IN MUCH DISORDER

British Are Once More Striking Hard on the Somme Front.

Today's War News Given in Summary

The tide of the great battle in the Rumanian province of Dobruja, has again turned, this time in favor of the central powers, according to Berlin today. Field Marshal von Mackensen has succeeded in breaking the Rumanian and Russian resistance, executing an encircling movement, which compelled the entente forces to retreat in disorder.

It was only last night that an official announcement from Bucharest declared that the battle, which has been in progress for six days, had ended Wednesday with the defeat of the Germans, Bulgarians and Turks, who were retiring southward, burning villages as they went. If the German victory turns out to be a decisive one, the situation promises to develop seriously for the Rumanians and Russians, who have been fighting to protect the railroad running from Constantza, on the Black sea, to Tchernavoda, on the Danube. The battle was fought not more than twenty miles south of the railroad and its loss would mean the cutting of the convenient water route of communication between Russia and Rumania, by way of Constantza. Through Tchernavoda, in addition, lies the route to interior Rumania over the only bridge spanning the Danube along the entire Dobruja front.

In the fighting in the Carpathians the Russians have taken the momentum back of Smotret, which already had changed hands several times. Elsewhere along this rugged front the Russians have been attacking heavily, but according to Berlin were beaten off.

The British are again striking hard on the Somme front. Their latest thrust, delivered last night, netted them two lines of German trenches on a line about a mile long, between Flunnes and Martinpuich, London announces today. It is at this point that the British have pushed farthest toward Bapaume, which is but little more than three miles distant from Flunnes. Last night's advance straightened out the former bend in the line from Martinpuich to Flunnes, which now runs almost directly east and west.

The French, for their part of the Somme fighting, have had another series of German attacks to cope with. Strong forces advanced in waves this morning against positions recently captured by the French between Rancourt and Priez farm. According to Paris the Germans did not even reach the French lines, being forced back to their trenches with heavy losses by the fire of the French guns.

Berlin, Sept. 22.—The Bulgarian and German troops under Field Marshal von Mackensen have driven back the Russians and Rumanians in Dobruja in disorder, the war office announced today. The victory was gained by means of an encircling counter attack.

Desperate fighting between the Austro-Germans and Russians in the Carpathians continues. The summit of Smotret, which has changed hands several times, has again been captured from the Germans by the Russians.

WAGE ADVANCE FOR WINDOW GLASS MEN

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 22.—Substantial increases in wages for workers in the window glass factories of the country were decided upon today at a conference held in Cleveland between the wage committee of the National Window Glass Workers association and representatives of the factories, according to official advice received here. The new wage becomes operative Oct. 25 when the factories are to resume operations after the summer shutdown and provides for an increase of 20 per cent for single strength blowers only. The increase for double strength is 16 2/3 per cent. The advance is to apply on the 1914-1915 schedule, the standard set for work in the year just closed. The new scale will affect approximately 5,000 men in Ohio, Indiana and other states.

WILSON TO DISCUSS BRITISH BLACKLIST

President Arranges to Confer With Ambassador Page on Subject.

Long Branch, Sept. 22.—President Wilson has arranged to confer later with Walter Hines Page, ambassador to Great Britain. It is understood that the British blacklisting of some American firms and interference with American mails are to be discussed. Ambassador Page has been in this country several weeks but the president has been too busy to discuss details of his work being done by the American embassy at London. Before Mr. Wilson left Washington, Mr. Page had lunch with him, but business was not mentioned. The ambassador will remain at Shadow Lawn over night.

The president also had an engagement to see Assistant Secretary Sweet of the department of commerce, a candidate for governor of Michigan. Democratic politics in the middle west will be discussed. Arrangements were made today for throwing open the gates of Shadow Lawn to admit the general public at the reception the president will give tomorrow afternoon to New Jersey business men. The president will speak from the same platform on which he delivered his notification address.

TWO BRITISH SUBJECTS SLAIN BY MEX. BANDITS

Taken from Home and Shot for Sheltering Carranza Officers.

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 22.—Two British subjects were taken from their home and shot and thirty-six of a party of thirty-eight Carranza soldiers were killed in a raid Sept. 16 on an Aquila, near Tuxpan, by bandits calling themselves Villistas, according to a report brought here today by the steamer Topika, from Tampico.

The Carranzistas put up a hard fight, it was said, but were outnumbered and overpowered. Two of their officers took refuge in the house of the Englishmen. They were discovered and put to death and the Englishmen killed for having given them shelter, the report adds.

MR. AND MRS. HUGHES SNAPPED IN FORT WAYNE ON THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

TO PUT CURB ON VIOLENCE

New York City Prepares to Deal With Mob Outbreaks in Strike.

Trades Union Leaders to Determine on Calling Out 700,000 Men.

New York, Sept. 22.—Repeated threats of a general strike to help the striking car employees caused all branches of the city government charged with enforcing the laws to prepare today for outbreaks of mob violence. Mayor Mitchell's notice that he stood ready to invoke all the civil and military power at his command to suppress disorder was followed by greater police activity and a warning that persons convicted of engaging in strike riots would receive heavy punishment.

The police department told the traction companies that they could re-establish night service as soon as they were ready under assurance of adequate police protection. Thus far 6,700 policemen have been disposed at strategic points. This police guard includes a patrol of fifty automobiles and 100 motorcycleists along the most exposed car routes.

Trade union leaders representing about 700,000 workers will meet this afternoon to decide whether to issue a call for a general strike. Some of the labor leaders said such a strike, if ordered, would begin Monday or Tuesday. The call, they said, would be based on the ground that organized wage-earners should not ride in cars manned by strike-breakers. Cross-town surface lines where cars ran last night.

LOCAL ARCHITECTS GET CONTRACT FOR PLANS

Columbia City to Have a New $35,000 City Hall Building.

The contract for the drawing of the plans for the new city hall for Columbia City, Whitley county, was awarded to Church and Cooper, architects, of this city, with offices in the Schoff building. The new city building will cost approximately $35,000 and will be erected with the most modern forms of architecture. The structure will occupy the present site of the city hall building and will be two stories and a basement. Brick will be used in building, with stone trimmings. It will be modern in every respect. The architects have begun the work of drawing the complete plans at once and expect to have them finished by the first of next year, at which time it is planned to award the contract. Work will be begun as early as possible next spring.

MAKES MANY SHORT STOPS

Hughes is Whisked in and Out of Towns on Second Day of Indiana Trip.

OLD CANNON BOOMS ANDERSON WELCOME

Candidate Switches to the Tariff as Keynote of Day's Talks.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 22.—Charles E. Hughes' second day in Indiana was a day of many short stops, whisking into towns and out, with station crowds, brass bands, brief rear platform addresses and handshaking. Into the day's program were crowded twelve short speeches. The thirteenth will be delivered at South Bend tonight.

At Newcastle, the first stop, Mr. Hughes spoke briefly on the tariff. At Anderson, where the special was switched over to another railroad line, the nominee left the train and made a short talk at the court house.

Garfield Cannon Resurrected.
Republican enthusiasts had brought to town an old cannon that saw campaign service in the days of Garfield and this boomed out a deafening salute as the train stopped. The front of the court house yesterday had been plastered with Wilson and Marshall posters, but they were all torn down early this morning and when the nominee arrived the front of the building was covered with Hughes posters.

Raymond Robins, who was chairman of the progressive national convention, spoke to the crowd to tell them that Mr. Hughes' voice was poor and that he would better not speak in the open air. The crowd wanted to hear Hughes, however, and shouted for him. The nominee spoke for ten minutes, disregarding signals from members of his party to sit down.

At Muncie another crowd greeted him. Mr. Hughes confined his short talks mostly to the tariff.

GETS AN EARLY START.

Candidate's Special Leaves Richmond at 7:30 O'clock.

Richmond, Ind., Sept. 22.—Charles E. Hughes, republican nominee for the presidency, left here at 7:30 o'clock this morning for the busiest day of his second presidential campaign trip. The nominee had thirteen addresses on his program, concluding with a speech at South Bend, where he will spend the night. The program of today's addresses, in order, follows: Newcastle, Anderson, Muncie, Elwood, Tipton, Frankfort, Kokomo, Marion, North Manchester, Warsaw, Goshen, Elkhart, South Bend.

The trip includes the use of six railroad systems. The longest stop of the day was scheduled at Marion, where Mr. Hughes will remain forty-five minutes—from 2:45 to 3:30 p. m. The shortest stop was at Elwood, where he is to stop only ten minutes. Most of the stops were of fifteen and twenty minutes duration, with two—at Anderson and Frankfort—of twenty-five minutes.

Mr. Hughes will spend tomorrow campaign.

SAYS THEY ARE CRAZY COMBINE

SENTENCES HIM TO STATE'S PRISON

Is Convicted of Assaulting Carrie Connors With Intent to Kill.

Edward Tombaugh, 42, was sentenced to a term of from two to fourteen years in the state prison and fined $500 by Judge John W. Eggeman in circuit court Friday morning for the attempt made by Tombaugh to kill Carrie Connors, 38, a month ago.

Tombaugh shot the woman three times, gave her poison, threw acid in her face and beat her over the head with the butt of his revolver in the most brutal murder attempt enacted in Fort Wayne in many months.

"You and whisky are a crazy combination and must be put away," Judge Eggeman declared in sentencing Tombaugh. After the testimony had been completed he took little time for deliberation.

Mrs. Connors took the stand and furnished most of the evidence which convicted Tombaugh Friday morning. She has almost recovered from the three bullet wounds, two of which penetrated her breast. Her story of her frantic effort to save her life, as she fought with the drink-crazed man in her little room on North Clinton street, was dramatic in the extreme.

Three times she lapsed into unconsciousness during the bloody encounter.

POSTPONE ARGUMENTS IN JAMISON CASE

Attorneys Unable to Appear in Suit Against Fort Wayne Police.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Elkhart, Ind., Sept. 22.—Judge Eichorn granted indefinite postponement of arguments in the case of Emory Jamison, of Winchester, against Police Chief Lenz and other Fort Wayne policemen, and the Bureau dry goods store, Thursday afternoon. Attorneys on both sides of the case announced that they would not be able to appear in court Friday morning because of conflicting cases.

The jury in the case, in which Jamison asked $10,000 damages for false imprisonment, granted Jamison $200. Attorneys for the defense petitioned Judge Eichorn to set aside the verdict because the twelve men answered all questions put to them in favor of the defense. Attorneys on both sides will argue merits of the situation before Judge Eichorn soon.

WILL EASILY MEET AFTER-WAR SHOCK

Hamlin Says Reserve Bank System Will Aid the Business Man.

New York, Sept. 22.—American business men, aided by the reserve bank system, will be able successfully to withstand the shock of European competition after the war, in the opinion of Charles Hamlin, member and former governor of the federal reserve board. His views were expressed at the annual dinner of the institute of accounts last night. He said in part:

"I estimate that the wealth of the United States has increased during the last two years by $40,000,000,000. Bank deposits have increased between $6,000,000,000 and $7,000,000,000 and the stock of gold has increased more than $700,000,000. Since the first of the year the importations of gold have amounted to $400,000,000.

"No nation in the world has ever enjoyed the prosperity that this country now enjoys."

Mr. Hamlin said he felt that this time was one in which American business men ought to be conservative in order to prepare for the inevitable reaction. Commending the federal reserve system he said that in the future no business man who deserves credit will fail to get it.

JURY OUT IN CITY

Technical Delays Hold Up Arguments Until Friday Afternoon.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Decatur, Ind., Sept. 22.—Special conferences and interviewing of matters delayed the delivery of attorneys' pleas in the case of Andrew J. Langhor against the city of Fort Wayne. Pleas were made Friday afternoon and the jury took the case at 3 o'clock.

Evidence in the case in which Langhor asks $5,000 because of injuries sustained when he was knocked from a wagon by a cable breaking on a dredge machine, a year ago, was all in Thursday afternoon. Judge Smith, who is hearing the case, ordered pleas postponed until Friday afternoon in order that he might dispose of several local cases.

Langhor claims the breaking of the mast head on the dredge was due to carelessness on the part of the city and damages are due him. Attorneys R. B. Dreibehris and Louis Plost, of Fort Wayne, and John Moran, of Decatur, are presenting the Langhor claims.

The defense points out that Langhor was given warning not to approach the corner of Dayton street and Broadway, where the dredge stood and that breaking of a cable was not due to carelessness. City Attorney Guy Colverick and Patrick Parrish, of Decatur, represented the defense. Charles Steiss, secretary of the park board, and Fort Wayne City Forester Getz have been in the city throughout the trial of the case.

John Hiron, 3225 Harrison street, son-in-law of Langhor, who was riding on the wagon with Langhor, and was thrown to the curb, when the cable struck the vehicle, has introduced a like suit against the city of Fort Wayne in Auburn. It is reported that settlement will be made in his case.

Mrs. Connors took the stand and furnished most of the evidence which convicted Tombaugh Friday morning. She has almost recovered from the three bullet wounds, two of which penetrated her breast. Her story of her frantic effort to save her life, as she fought with the drink-crazed man in her little room on North Clinton street, was dramatic in the extreme.

Three times she lapsed into unconsciousness during the bloody encounter.

WOMAN WHO ANNOYS MR. PERKINS IS ARRESTED

New York, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Helen Hurdell, of Brooklyn, after several visits to his office, sent George W. Perkins a postcard on Sept. 4 last, saying: "Get your watchdogs out of my residence, especially the O. O. with the servodice voice. Mrs. Hurdell. You know my address."

She was arrested today and paroled until Monday.

Mrs. Hurdell, the police say, has annoyed a number of prominent men with complaints that she was being haunted. She described herself as an author and announced that she had written a book, "The Decline of the New Nationalism," of Mrs. Went's Bologna Sausage," in satire on Col. Roosevelt's volume, "The New Nationalism."

The "O. O." mentioned in her postcard, she said, meant the "old one," one of the four men she insisted had been annoying her.

BAKER DOUBTS ITS ACCURACY

BASED ON RUMORS REACHING EL PASO

Declines to Discuss Possible Effect on Movements of Pershing's Men.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—Secretary Baker let it be known today that the war department was not disposed to accept as accurate the report of Villa's raid on Chihuahua City last Saturday as transmitted by Brigadier General Bell yesterday on the strength of information that had reached him in El Paso.

"We have no military information as to renewed Villista activities," Mr. Baker said, indicating that it was assumed that General Bell's account was based upon rumors and reports current in border towns and not facts obtained through army channels in Mexico. He declined to discuss in any way what effect the reappearance of Villa, if it were confirmed, might have on the movement of American troops in Mexico.

So far as it is known the war department has made no effort to learn from General Bell the sources of his information. General Funston is expected to transmit promptly without additional instructions any authentic news of the activities of the bandits upon which any change in plan involving General Pershing's expedition might be founded.

Version in Bell Report.

The report transmitted by General Bell states that Villa, after establishing his camp twenty miles from Chihuahua City, sent a letter to General Trevino saying he would enter the city at 3 o'clock on the following day "to shake hands with him," and asked that something good to eat be provided in advance for his arrival. Villa, true to his word, entered the city, was seen by many there, and made a speech to the populace and the Carranza troops from the main balcony of the governor's palace, shouting "Viva Mexico, you do not have your liberty!"

According to General Bell's report, Villa was received with open arms and no shots fired by the Carranzistas disturbed his visit during his stay.

TWO YOUTHS EXPLAIN OWNERSHIP OF RACER

"Well, er—, you see it belongs to the boss," was the way Carl McKee and A. W. Jackson, two Bluffton youths, explained how they happened to be seen driving along Fort Wayne streets in the big racing car owned by William Doty, of Bluffton, known as "Wild Bill Doty" in the auto racing game.

Doty drove to Fort Wayne, Thursday night, and dropped into the Erie theater. He left his racer outside. When he stepped out into the glare again his car was gone. He telephoned the police. All patrolmen were given the license number of the machine.

Twenty minutes later Officer Elmer Coulter found the car roaring past the high school building. He halted the party. McKee and Jackson, with two girls, were in the machine.

Doty, who had taken an interurban car home, was called and admitted the boys worked for him. He told them to drive the machine home. They had passed the theater and seeing the familiar auto had gone for a joyride, they said.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—The private bank of Campbell, Dubia & Company, the tenth to fail in Chicago within the last month, closed its doors today. Creditors filed a petition of involuntary bankruptcy against the institution, which was operated in the foreign quarter under the name of the Industrial Savings bank.

The petition gives the liabilities of the bank as $800,000 and states that the assets given as $200,000 have depreciated and do not now exceed $600,000.

IT'S A FACT

That you cannot buy a fine suit of clothes at a clothing store that buys only cheap clothes for its stock. It is also a fact that the young man who buys a fine suit of clothes wants more than four or five patterns from which to select.

It's a Fact

That we have the choice Fall Suits and Overcoats from nearly all of the makers of High Grade Clothes such as Hirsch Wickwire and Kuppenheimer, but we specialize on and have received from them during the past month men's and young men's fall suits and top coats amounting to over $40,000 or more young men's new fall clothing than you can find in any other two stores in Fort Wayne. This will be a trying season for many clothiers, poor fabrics and unreliable colors are on the market in abundance. Hart, Schaffner & Marx Fall Suits are all wool, fast color, tailored by hand and guaranteed by them and by us to give satisfaction.

We Don't Want Trouble

Neither do we want to lose the trade of the man who will not pay twenty dollars for a suit. Therefore, rather than sell one suit or overcoat that we cannot, as in the past, guarantee the color, fabric and tailoring, we will start Hart, Schaffner & Marx Men's and Young Men's Fall Suits, Top Coats and Heavy Overcoats at and give you their finest silk lined worsteds and Scotches at $40. In other words, $17 to $40 instead of $20 to $50. We deserve your patronage.

SAYS NEW REPRISALS ACT CAN BE ENFORCED

Lansing Holds Violation of Treaty Rights Gives Power to Act.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Secretary Lansing yesterday specifically denied that part of the retaliatory legislation aimed at Great Britain passed by congress in the new revenue law is unenforceable and part of it of doubtful legality, conflicting with existing treaty rights.

When congress first considered the passage of retaliatory legislation the possibility that such legislation would violate treaty rights was discussed. It was declared with emphasis at the time by state department officials that the measures against which the retaliatory legislation is directed are in clear violation of treaties, conventions, and in some instances of the clear precepts of international law.

Holden Britain to Blame.

Senator Thomas, of Colorado, author of one of the retaliatory measures against blacklisting of American firms and goods by Great Britain, while admitting that the allies may be right in their contention that some features of the law may be in violation of certain treaty rights, nevertheless believes that Great Britain herself is responsible for whatever congress felt called upon to do in taking steps to protect American merchants and manufacturers from unjust discrimination on the part of England.

"No doubt the diplomatic representatives of the allied countries in the United States," said Senator Thomas yesterday in discussing the matter, "have made a careful study of the application of some of our treaty obligations in so far as they are affected by the retaliatory legislation passed by congress. But the allied countries themselves provoked this legislation. The act of Great Britain in blacklisting American firms is all right, in my judgment, but when she goes further and prevents neutral ships from taking goods to neutral countries, then Great Britain has violated at least the spirit of the trade treaties between the United States and herself."

Can Bar Ships From U. S.

"It may be true that the United States cannot prevent the issuance of clearance papers to any ship which refuses to carry American goods, but it is likewise true that she can prevent that ship from returning to our shores. This is quite as effective as entering the detention of such a ship in this country."

"Every intelligent man has a right to say what goods shall be shipped to her own territory, but Great Britain has no right to dictate what commerce shall go to other countries. England is bringing pressure to bear on the owners of foreign bottoms to refuse to carry the commerce of the United States and I cannot see why that country has any just cause for complaint."

WIFE'S PLEADING SECURES FREEDOM

Conditions in the Home Cause Judge to Release John Hemmerle.

Pleadings of Mrs. John Hemmerle, 1204 Huron street, that she needed her husband to support her, secured freedom for the man after he was convicted of petit larceny in police court Friday morning, but Mrs. Hemmerle was not able to obtain suspension of sentence on her father, Jerry Lehey, convicted of the same crime, on the plaintive grounds that he has "dementia."

Hemmerle, 38, and Lehey, 54, were found guilty of removing several candy buckets from a Nickel Plate freight car. They took the candy home and stored it in a shed back of the house. When boys, who had watched them take the candy, told officers, the men became frightened. They told Mrs. Hemmerle, "My God, haint we had trouble enough?" she asked and she referred to the death of their child three days before.

The men started to take the candy back, but abandoned their project near the car. Their wheelbarrow, loaded with the candy buckets was found. All goods have been restored. The men confessed their guilt in police court. Mrs. Hemmerle pleaded with Judge Kerr, saying she was sure that her husband intended to return the property and that he "didn't think," and besides the rent was not paid and she needed him at home.

"It is only on your account that I suspend sentence on this man," Kerr said after some thought. He directed the statement to the little woman who stood before him heavily veiled. Her token of sorrow bore a deeper meaning because she has lost four children in as many years.

"I fine both men $5 and costs. Jail sentence of fifteen days I will suspend in case of John Hemmerle. Jerry Lehey must serve fifteen days in the county jail," Kerr said.

There was silence for a minute. Mrs. Hemmerle spoke again. "I hate to have father go to jail because he has 'dementia,' so," she said. "That is no excuse," Kerr said, and closed the case.

Ukalele Owner Jailed.

Paul Harding, 12, will have no chance to wring plaintive strains from his new ukalele, the Hawaiian instrument he purchased some time ago and which he said had taken his money and caused him to neglect his wife. The string strings will be untouched for thirty days.

Judge Kerr made no allowance for having the instrument transferred to the county jail with Harding when he fined the youth $10 and costs and sentenced him to a month in the county prison, on a charge of wife desertion, Friday.

Harding had been given a chance to furnish $200 bond since Wednesday and had failed to secure the amount.

He has not provided for his young wife for a month.

Had Turned in Fire Alarm.

Thomas North, 40, was caught by police early Friday morning when they ran west on Superior street to find who had turned in a false fire alarm at the corner of Superior and Calhoun streets. North admitted that he had registered the fake call, police say. He was in police court charged with public intoxication.

The case is held over until Monday and North will be held in jail meanwhile. He has been suffering from attacks due to heavy drinking, since in the jail, police say. If he is held on the charge of turning in the fire alarm a heavy fine and jail sentence will follow.

Other Police Court Cases.

Frank Warner, who said he had been drinking because his wife was sick, and who was arrested Wednesday night, was fined $1 and costs.

Orville Sanders, who gave Butler as his home was released after pleading guilty to a drunk charge. William Crison will be tried on a similar charge Saturday. Fred Marshall, charged with loitering, was released.

SEPTEMBER IS BEST LAWN REPAIR MONTH

Improving Greenswards is Best Done Now, Say U. S. Experts.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The work of lawn repair, like that of making a new lawn, declare specialists of the United States department of agriculture, is the best performed in early September in the central states.

To improve an old lawn that has run down is often more difficult than to make a new one, but if reasonably good turf exists, it can be bettered materially by reseeding and fertilizing. If the lawn is patchy, the small areas should be scratched with a steel rake, dressed with loam or compost and the seed sown on this. If large areas of lawn have a thin covering of turf, it will be advantageous to use a disc seeder. After seeding, a second dressing of loam or compost should be applied and the areas rolled lightly.

Lawns Need Constant Care.

Careful attention is necessary if a lawn is to be kept in good condition. Most lawns need an occasional application of some good fertilizer regardless of the kind of soil on which they exist. Thoroughly rotted stable manure is excellent for this purpose. Another good dressing is a mixture of manure well composted with sod and leaf mold and sifted before using.

It is desirable that the material be applied in such condition that there is nothing to rake off. Coarse humus dressing should never be used as the grass is almost invariably killed in small patches beneath the lumps. The humus dressings should be applied in the autumn or winter and again in the spring. Bone meal is one of the best commercial fertilizers for the lawn. When used it should be applied in the late winter or early spring at a rate of ten to fifteen pounds to the thousand square feet.

Frequent Clipping Best.

Lawns are benefited by frequent clipping. During the rapid growing season mowings twice a week are not too frequent. It usually makes little difference whether the clipped grass is removed or allowed to remain on the lawn. It is coming to be considered the best practice to remove it, however. It is neither necessary nor advisable to roll lawns during the summer.

Lawns should be well watered during dry periods and should be soaked thoroughly twice or three times a week rather than lightly sprinkled at more frequent intervals. Later afternoon or night is the best time for watering on bright, hot days. Weeds are troublesome in all lawns throughout the growing season, but particularly so from the latter part of June until frost. Pulling or cutting these plant pests from the turf is the most satisfactory way of ridding a lawn of them.

Keeping Out the Weeds.

The control of trailing weeds and undesirable grasses can best be accomplished by raking prior to mowing, the intruders thus being raised so that the mower blades clip them.

The use of chemical sprays on lawn weeds has not given very satisfactory results. On the whole, the weed problem can best be solved by making the conditions as favorable as possible for the turf grasses and maintaining a strict watch at all times to remove troublesome weeds as they appear.

A grass seed mixture rich in red fescue will grow better in shady places probably than any other mixture. By thorough watering and the liberal use of fertilizers and lime, however, the evil effects of shade on the growth of all lawn grasses largely can be overcome in many cases.

WILL OUTLINE PLAN TO MEET CRISIS AFTER WAR

Wilson to Submit Program to Business Men in Address Tomorrow.

Asbury Park, N. J., Sept. 22.—What the Wilson administration has done in anticipation of a business and financial crisis following the great European war is to be made one of the principal points of President Wilson's address before a delegation of New Jersey business men who are to call upon him at Shadow Lawn on Saturday.

Until today it was expected the president would make an explanation of the eight hour law the principal feature of his address. His managers being convinced, however, that the railroad legislation needs no defense, the president is expected to dwell more particularly on the plans he has in mind for the business rehabilitation of the country following the settlement of the war.

Attacks made on the eight hour law by Mr. Hughes, the republican candidate, are to be answered, if the presidential managers' predictions are true, by Mr. Wilson in terms calculated to put the president's opponent on the defensive.

Armer with figures and facts, the president will show the eight hour law is merely one step in his elaborate plan for a solution of railroad labor difficulties, which, when completed, will preclude the possibility not only of strikes among the railroad men, but disgruntlement from railroad stockholders.

Critics of the railroad eight hour law are confined largely, the president's opponents say, to grain shippers throughout the country, who feel that they will be compelled to bear the burden of the additional millions that are to be charged as a result of the president's having forced through congress the legislation.

As a consequence great import is attached to the speech Mr. Wilson is to make before the Grain Dealers' association at Baltimore on Monday. That the president will convey, not only to the shippers of the country but the farmers as well, a message designed to disarm fear that the eight hour law means increased cost of shipment to them is the prediction being made by the president's campaign managers.

EUROPEAN WAR BOOMS MOTOR TRUCK INDUSTRY

Low Cost of Operating Vehicles Forces Change in Business World.

New York, Sept. 22.—What might have taken the automobile industry five or six years to develop, the European war has done in two years!

Moreover the introduction of the motor truck is forcing the most radical changes in the methods of industrial production and distribution.

There are now 500 different makes of trucks and 257 manufacturers in the United States. In 1915 this country exported 24,000 motor trucks while 74,000 other trucks were built here making the total production for the year nearly 100,000 cars—and not enough!

The advantages of the truck in warfare are many. It is used to carry shells to the front, transport ammunition and shells, carry wounded to the hospital bases, defend roads, break through entanglements, haul heavy guns, take the place of railroads in moving troops, etc.

Provided there is sufficient supply of fuel, the motor truck is incomparable as a transit facility to the army.

Chief among the advantages of the engine over the horse are speed, reliability and power. The motor truck travels from 10 to 15 miles an hour, drawing from 1,000 to 10,000 pounds. Compare that with the old express wagon drawn by a horse which might be induced to go at the rate of four or five miles an hour hauling 400 or 500 pounds, for eight hours of the day. The motor truck can go all day and all night.

Virtually every big concern has deserted the horse for the motor truck. Breweries, department stores, manufacturers, express companies, etc., all have adopted the truck. It must be economical in operation else the trucks would not be kept in use.

Even in the small business the truck is more economical although it requires a higher capital outlay than the horse and wagon equipment. One of the leading makers of trucks reports that eighty-six companies increased their truck fleets from fifty-one in 1910 to 2443 in 1916. The corporations using these cars were typical of every line of industry.

One of the decisive factors in the auto truck business is that of fuel cost. Ten per cent of the cost of operation goes into fuel charges. This is in turn dependent upon the capacity of the truck, for if it can carry a heavy and valuable freight the fuel cost will mean little, but if the cargo is cheap, then the fuel charges will be a serious matter.

For that reason the higher the fuel price goes, the fewer the number of businesses which can afford to use the truck. Suppose gasoline cost only 10 cents a gallon, it will readily be seen how much faster the auto truck would be introduced into many lines of trade which now utilize the horse or the push cart.

Motor trucks usually are built for specific duties such as hauling coal, groceries, machinery, etc. For that reason trucks are designed for good and bad roads, for light and heavy cargoes, for speed or for economy of operation. The prices vary between $500 and $5,000 per truck.

While the number of auto trucks made in one year is about 10 per cent of the total of cars, it is likely that this percentage will increase until the number of trucks produced equals the number of pleasure vehicles.

WOMEN SHOULD GET THIS HABIT AS WELL AS MEN

Don't eat bite of breakfast until you drink glass of hot water.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous, and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions, instead of the multitudes of "nervous wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, yellow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quart of the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance changing those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.—Advertisement.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 22.—Somewhere out on the wide Pacific before the mast as a common sailor, is George Hugh Banning, son of millionaire Hancock Banning, of this city. With seeds of money at his command, a private yacht and several automobiles at his beck, this ambitious youth foresees time to learn the tricks of the salty main.

Young Banning was a student at the University of California. He intends to be an admiral's lawyer. For that reason a practical knowledge of brails, hal-yards, bowlines, inhauls and outhauls will aid him.

Banning went to Portland, Ore., and joined the City of Portland, a big four master on the lumber run. He accumulated the job of a rigger and before the schooner put away for Sydney, the young millionaire knew much of the men who go down to the sea and the ships they sail.

OSBORNE WILL TELL OF WONDERFUL WORK

Recreation Congress
Program.

New York, Sept. 22.—Warden Mott Osborne, of Sing Sing prison, is to speak at the Recreation congress to be held at Grand Rapids, Mich., October 2 to 6. He will tell how he is reforming the most desperate, depraved men through recreation—which he is proving to be genuinely, what the work indicates, "recreation."

Representing the famous public schools of Gary, Ind., William A. Vort, their superintendent and originator, will discuss the vital importance of recreational activities and the play instinct in education.

President Woodrow Wilson, Charles E. Hughes and Theodore Roosevelt have been given urgent personal invitations to address the Recreation congress. They have expressed their earnest interest and are expected to send special messages. To these and other leaders of American thought the Recreation congress has been presented as an opportunity to stimulate and guide all the college, school, park, city and town forces, throughout America, into unified, effective action for the development of vigor and efficiency among all the boys, girls, men and women of our country. For such "Preparedness" all parties can work together.

Expert leaders of national reputation in all the various lines of recreation and playgrounds will occupy the morning sessions of the congress in giving brief, practical answers to questions. Already, scores of searching questions—which present all the problems and difficulties which local recreation movements encounter—have been sent in and assigned to the experts who are to answer them. There will be a live, open discussion in each case but flowery

From the Playground and Recreation Association of America, 1 Madison avenue, New York City, information may be had without charge. Attendance upon the Recreation congress and participation in all its activities is open, free, to all who are interested in the boys, girls, men and women who need opportunities for self development through wholesome use of leisure time.

SKETCH SHOWING HOW AVERAGE CRIMINAL LOOKS.

Columbus, O., Sept. 22.—Beware of the little man with a big neck, says Robert I. Miles, warden of Ohio State penitentiary.

Miles finds by compiling figures that the average criminal wears a size 16 collar and is 5 feet 7 inches tall. He weighs 140 pounds, wears 7 1/2 shoes and size 7 hat, projecting chin, short stubby fingers, rectilinear nose and a forehead that recedes about 45 degrees.

The average criminal, says Miles, is about 10 per cent. below normal and 15 to 20 per cent. of criminals are tattooed.

2 And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.
3 And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.
4 Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up.
5 Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil;
6 Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth;
7 Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.
8 Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.
9 For we know in part, and we prophesy in part.
10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.
11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things.
12 For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.
13 And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

What the Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

C. M. Comparet now makes his business trips over the city in a neat turnout.
A child of Frank Hoover, of the east side, fell last evening and sustained a fracture of the bones of the left arm.
John Ferguson, the lumber dealer, is confined to his home on West Berry street from the effects of being overcome with the heat.
Jesse Young, the defiance jeweler, who will open a store in the Arcade, arrived in the city today. He formerly conducted a business on Calhoun street.
Last year the man with a few acres of potatoes felt haughty like a millionaire, but this year he feels like a pauper. Potatoes are so abundant in southern California that they can hardly be disposed of at any price.
A 6-year-old son of H. H. Hartwig, of Schiefer's shoe store, while climbing on a fence, fell and a picket caught him under the lower jaw, penetrating the flesh and tongue. Thus impaled the lad hung until rescued by his parents.
William Feinke, a laborer employed at the new Glasgow avenue sewer, near the soap works, was buried beneath a ton of dirt shortly before noon and received injuries which proved fatal soon afterward. The man was at the bottom of the excavation when the sides caved in upon him, burying him beneath the heavy mass.

At an early hour this morning five young men, Messrs. Louis and Theodore Seibold, William and John Blair and Ed Kohn, left on their bicycles for Hicksville, Ohio. From there they go to Farmers' City and Bryan and thence home. The route is about sixty miles through a lovely country. The wheelmen expect to return home next Tuesday.
As a result of a meeting of a special committee of the council with the county commissioners the board instructed the clerk to spread on record an order instructing the county and city attorneys to report an agreement between the city and county as to the construction of the proposed new court house. It is presumed that the new building will cost between $400,000 and $500,000, one-third of which the city is supposed to pay. It is expected that work on the new building will commence three years hence and that it will take three years to build it.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1916.

When Mr. Hughes Came

We think it fair to assume that hundreds of those who turned out to hear Hon. Charles E. Hughes, republican presidential nominee, when he made his appearance in Fort Wayne Thursday sincerely hoped to hear not only the allegations which constitute the indictment Mr. Hughes and his party are setting up against President Wilson and his administration, but definite explanation of what Mr. Hughes has to offer that he contends is better. They must have been grievously disappointed, for Mr. Hughes did nothing of that sort. The open-minded voter who prudently desires to know what his country is to get in the proposed exchange of policy and performance as urged by Mr. Hughes is left wholly in doubt on that score.

Mr. Hughes, as the titular head of a great political party, came to Fort Wayne in the only appearance he is scheduled to make in the Twelfth congressional district during the present campaign. He had here once more an excellent opportunity to make definite reply to the big question that has confronted him from the outset: What would you have done had you been in President Wilson's place; what do you purpose doing if you should be chosen to it? But Mr. Hughes declined here as elsewhere to be specific. He was destructive; not constructive. He tore down; he did not build up. He assailed in vigorous fashion the policy of the president and the performance of the administration, and held out in their stead nothing more definite or substantial than such generalities as "efficient Americanism," a "true and correct American policy," without deigning to explain precisely what he means by these and similar terms which are a part of the orator's stock in trade and which no man finds difficulty in adapting to his own particular conception of things, whether they chance to coincide with yours or not.

Mr. Hughes was plainly displeased with the Wilson administration from top to bottom, from start to finish. If in the past four years there has been a single act of the president or of the democratic party which has met Mr. Hughes' approval, he failed to mention it. He was specific enough in his criticism, but lamentably indefinite as to corrective agencies beyond the generalized contention that if you throw the other fellows out and put us in, things will be much better. The question of how or why is left wholly to faith that perhaps you won't get the worst of it if you make the trade.

Mr. Hughes is undoubtedly a big man, capable and brainy, and his personality is attractive, though it doesn't inspire the enthusiasm that has greeted other presidential candidates of his party before him. He is producing a prodigious quantity of ear-tickling oratory and fine-sounding phrase, but he is not supplying answers to questions which the people ask because they have a right to ask them and a right to expect an answer.

Just as the world is doing much marvelling at the "tanks" devised by the British as a new and terrible engine of war, along comes Germany with announcement of the development of the "flying whale"—a new type of airship built with a body like that of a fish that is said to be capable of much more effective work against the enemy than any of its predecessors in aerial war operations. There are really things new under the sun nowadays, and they are developing so rapidly that one finds it difficult to keep pace with them.

Colonel Roosevelt and Mr. Taft have each accepted invitations to attend a luncheon in honor of Mr. Hughes shortly. Purely in the interest of peace and to avoid the possibility of an unpleasant scene, we trust somebody will be thoughtful enough to admonish each of these distinguished ex-presidents regarding the necessity of perfect decorum even under the stress of personal feelings that are apt to be strained to the limit.

The fact that during the past two years the American people have contributed a total of nearly twenty-nine millions of dollars in war relief to sufferers in European nations is rather impressive, but it has not yet measured up to the need. It has recently been made very clear that necessity still exists for further relief, and we think America is big enough and fine enough and generous enough to do still more. And in the name of common humanity, it ought to do it.

Hardly has the kick of the druggists against the public use of the drugstore telephone died away before the National Dry Goods association rises to complain that many women keep gowns sent "on approval" until the styles change and then return them, thus creating an almost entirely dead loss to the dry goods man. We are beginning to suspect there are troubles in pretty nearly every business but ours.

It develops that the records of the board of elections in New York show that since 1910 Mr. Hughes has wholly neglected both to register and to vote—which may indicate that neither his political convictions nor his sense of civic duty were then so strong as now when he is a candidate himself.

KNOCKING.

Knocking is a year round indoor, outdoor sport!

It is worked to a frazzle in political campaigns and bridge whist parties. The disease has a "full Nelson" on all politicians and a politician not affected with it is as rare as a movie actor with a haircut or a four-bit piece in a Sunday school contribution plate.

Knocking consists of grabbing a hold of the mainstring of a fellow's character sweater and unraveling it, till he has no more reputation left than the meat on a hambone.

If every knock is a boost, the president, a well known automobile and some baseball managers ought to be boosted so high by now that when they'd slant down at Mars it would look smaller than a restaurant porterhouse steak, if that is possible.

THE BUSY RAILROADS.

(Eric Dispatch.)

Railroad earnings for the month of July, as reported by the interstate commerce commission, strengthen the favorable impression created by the figures for the fiscal year ending June 30. For that year the principal railroads of the country were shown to have made net earnings of $306,000,000 greater than the previous year.

The figures for 166 of the larger roads indicate net earnings for July, 1916, $19,630,000 greater than those for July, 1915. This means a gain of nearly 24 per cent. Such a percentage of increase, continued throughout the year, would make a tremendous addition to the liberal increase of the past year, and place the railroads once more in a position of sound and unquestionable prosperity.

The small crops will, of course, tend to check the upward trend of profits. On the other hand, business in general is growing at so rapid a rate that the loss in crop haulage may be far more than met by gain in carrying general merchandise for domestic and foreign destination. The remarkable expansion of our already enormous export trade adds to the hopeful situation. No wonder there has been a strong demand lately for railroad stocks, with rising prices.

My Best Reason for Voting for Wilson.

Some Noted Americans Tell Why They Propose to Support the President at the Polls in November.

(Noted American Writer and Author of "Judge Priest," Etc.)

My chief reason for intending to vote for the re-election of President Wilson is this:

He has preserved American rights without sacrificing American lives; he has won by diplomacy and a state ship; and heavy guns could not have won.

(BY FRANK P. WALSH.
(Chairman of United States Industrial Relations Committee.)

I am going to vote for President Wilson because he has such a splendid conception of democracy.

His intelligence and bravery in the complex crisis of the past four years has inspired a renaissance of Americanism as interpreted and lived by Washington.

He has freed more slaves than Lincoln.

BY THOMAS A. EDISON.
(Famous American Inventor.)

I do not believe that there was ever a president who has had as many big questions to decide as President Wilson. His decisions haven't always pleased me just as I suppose they haven't always pleased other people, but when you look over the record it is so good that criticism comes close to being nothing more than cheap fault-finding. A fool or a coward would have had the United States in all sorts of trouble. As it is, we are at peace, the country never was more prosperous, and we have the strength that comes with honor and integrity of purpose.

Wilson has won victories by diplomacy that are far more important to mankind than any victories that we could have won by war. I believe there are times when a nation has to fight. But war for the sake of war or for the purposes of conquest, is horrible and unthinkable.

Wilson has now had about four years of experience, and I think he has earned faith and trust. I do not think it logical or sensible to change to an inexperienced or untried man just for the sake of change.

BY JOHN REED.
(Famous American Author and War Correspondent.)

I am for Wilson because, in the most difficult situation any American president since Lincoln has had to face, he has dared to stand for the rights of weak nations—in refusing to invade Mexico he has unflinchingly advocated the settlement of international disputes by peaceful means—and has acted upon it to the best of his ability in the cases of Germany and England; he has publicly opposed the doctrine of militarism, and, in the case of Mexico, has warned the American people against "sinister influences" at

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

MARRIED SECOND TIME.

Ceremonies Are Repeated to Satisfy Mother of the Bride.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 22.—The latest reports concerning the marriage of Miss Geraldine Dine and Charles Tabler, both of Fort Wayne, which was performed in this city, Wednesday, is that the young couple were married some three weeks ago by a justice of the peace. The young couple eloped, owing to the objection of the bride's mother and it is said the parents refused to let them come under the paternal roof until they had been married by a minister of the mother's faith. Hence the second marriage by Rev. W. T. Arnold of this city. It was necessary for them to obtain a second marriage license and they were granted one here by County Clerk Lesh. Mr. Tabler is a stock company artist in Fort Wayne and his "nom de plume" is Charles Franklin. Miss Dine's real name is Vivian Gladys Dine. Mr. Tabler has quite a following as a matinee idol in Fort Wayne and his many friends in theatrical circles, and out, wish the young couple much happiness, after bucking the marriage game twice in the same place.

HIT BY TREE.

Robert J. Pinkerton Killed in Accident Near Valparaiso.

Valparaiso, Ind., Sept. 22.—Robert J. Pinkerton, a bachelor living between Kouts and Wabash, met instant death at 2 o'clock yesterday morning when a tree crashed through his tent in a camp along the Kankakee river, crushing his head to pulp.

Mr. Pinkerton, in company with August, Peter, Clevis and Paul Koschke, of Valparaiso, went to the river bank south of Kouts yesterday to spend a couple of days camping and fishing. They erected a tent near a large tree that had been half blown over, the main trunk of which was hanging by silvers.

During the night their camp fire got low, and the air being chilly, one of the men got up to replenish the wood supply, and in cutting a few of the tree limbs from the main trunk of the tree the silvers holding it gave way, and with a crash the heavy trunk fell through the tent. Pinkerton was inside asleep, and the tree struck him squarely on the head, crushing it badly and causing instant death.

DISAPPOINTED IN LOVE.

As a Result Miss Esther Hallabaugh, of Auburn, Goes Insane.

Auburn, Ind., Sept. 22.—Miss Esther Hallabaugh, of St. Joe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hallabaugh, has been declared insane and Deputy Clerk Oak Husselman has written to Richmond asking for her admission to the asylum at that place.

The case is a sad one brought on to some degree at least by disappointment in love. The insanity inquest held over her recently brings out the fact that she has no regard for personal propriety in dress or as to exposing nude her body in public. She refuses to keep properly clad and has no sense of shame.

The inquest report shows that she has the actions of a child such as picking up broken dishes and placing them on the mantel. She wears no shoes in the summer or winter. She also has a tendency to rip up her clothing, furs or wearing apparel and boil them.

BUE B. CASE DEAD.

Self-Inflicted Wounds of Wednesday, Sept. 13, Prove Fatal.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 22.—Doe B. Case, aged 63, prominent and highly respected farmer of Lagrange county for many years, who attempted suicide on Wednesday, Sept. 13, by shooting himself through the head with a thirty-two caliber revolver, died Wednesday evening at 10:30 o'clock at his home near South of Millford. With a bullet hole through his brain and the leaden bullet lodged in the top of his skull it is remarkable he lived so long after the accident, being a week and some hours.

Shortly after the accident attending physicians predicted he could live but a few hours and practically the entire time after the shooting he was unconscious. During the last forty-eight hours he weakened rapidly.

Despondency over ill health, having

WEDDING AT OSSIAN.

Ossian, Ind., Sept. 22.—Miss Ruth Chaffant gave a miscellaneous shower at her home in honor of Miss Vita Somers, who is to be married next Sunday to Mr. Jack Stalter, of Craigville. The time was passed in a social way and Miss Somers received many pretty gifts of china, silver and linen. A delicious lunch was served in cafeteria style by the hostess. The guests were Misses Ida Kreigh, Augusta Yager, Mary Morton, Georgeanna Hostetter, Annis and Alda Woodward, Imo Ressler, Laura Kreigh, Marie Fisher, Martha Fring, Ruby Quackenbush, Helen Roe, Phebe Summers and Mesdames Hazel Woodward, A. F. Roe and Augusta Ressler.

HEAVY FINE IMPOSED.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 22.—John L. Ben-nigan, the "Milford terror," was fined $100 and sentenced to serve six months on the penal farm, when he changed his former plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to a charge of violating the liquor laws. Three months of his penal farm sentence was suspended during his good behavior. Ben-nigan was arraigned in court some time ago on the same charge and told the court that he was not guilty. The prisoner was taken back to jail to be held until a date for his trial could be set. While in jail he decided that he was guilty and asked that he be given a chance to tell the court of his decision.

FARMER GOES INSANE.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 22.—Nathaniel Prough, 35, well known farmer living one and one half miles north and two and a half miles west of Ossian, was brought to the county jail by Sheriff Johnston this morning and he will remain there until an inquest is held to determine his sanity. Prough is married and the father of six children. Spinal trouble is said to have caused the farmer's mind to become weak, but yesterday his condition became serious and he threatened the lives of members of his family. It is hoped that treatment will prove a benefit to him.

REVIVAL AT BUTLER.

Butler, Ind., Sept. 22.—Rev. Frank E. Lindgren, of Chicago, himself an evangelist of ability, is here as an advance agent for Evangelist A. A. Fletcher, who was to hold a tabernacle meeting in Butler in October. When Mr. Lindgren arrived he found that there was so much opposition to the expense of a tabernacle meeting that that feature of the plan was dropped, and it was arranged to hold the meeting in the opera house, beginning the first Sunday in October, or a week from Sunday.

DIES IN CALIFORNIA.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 22.—Mrs. Daniel Myers of this city received a telegram early Thursday morning bringing her the very sad news that her son, Christian D. Myers, had passed away at his home in Redlands, Cal., at 7:20 o'clock Wednesday morning. The telegram was from the wife of the deceased, who was formerly Miss Blanche Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Lawrence, of this city. The message stated the end came peacefully.

BOYS WALKED HOME.

Montpelier, Ind., Sept. 22.—Three Hartford City young men who attended the band concert in this city last evening and visited fair friends had a midnight walk home to the last car and couldn't find any accommodating friends with automobiles, so there was nothing to do but walk, for, it is said, they didn't have the price to stay at a hotel. It is supposed they arrived home safely.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 22.—Superintendent A. R. Fleck reports an attendance of thirty-eight students in the Etina high school, twenty-five being freshmen, eight sophomores and five juniors. In the Jefferson Center high school about fifty students are enrolled, seventeen being freshmen. In the Chubbuck schools ninety-four students are enrolled in the high school and 161 in the grades.

MARRIED IN THE WEST.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 22.—Announcements have been received by friends here of the marriage of Miss Ruth Laudemann, formerly of this city, to Frank Robert Harris, at San Diego, Cal. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Laudemann.

KILLED IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Waterloo, Ind., Sept. 22.—Word has been received by Mrs. Frank N. Reid from her niece, Mrs. Corrie Kallen, of St. Maries, Idaho, that her sister, Miss Bessie Rodgers, otherwise Sister Rose of the Benedictine order, had been killed in an automobile accident near Lake Waha, Idaho. Sister Rose was instantly killed, her neck being broken.

PLANS ARE ACCEPTED.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 22.—Members of the city council at Columbia City have accepted plans submitted by Architects Church and Coover for the construction of a new city hall. The proposed new building will house the city hall officers, the fire department, public comfort station, municipal gathering hall and storage rooms.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED.

Van Wert, Ohio, Sept. 22.—Officers for the Young Women's Christian Temperance association have been elected as follows: Miss Clara Richards, general secretary; Miss Gladys Passmore, physical director; Mrs. A. B. Gilliland, house secretary, and Mrs. James Drake, office secretary.

LEESBURG WOMAN DEAD.

Leesburg, Ind., Sept. 22.—Mrs. Emma Stephenson, of this place, who was stricken with paralysis some days ago while visiting with relatives in Postoria, O., died there, Wednesday. The body has been brought here for interment, which took place this afternoon.

NEW CHURCH BELL.

Antwerp, Ohio, Sept. 22.—The old bell has been removed from the belfry of the United Brethren church and a new bell installed. The large force of men with a steam derrick did the work.

CAW MAN PULL BOX.

The false fire alarm turned in from the corner of Calhoun and Superior streets at 2 o'clock Friday morning was registered by a tall man who "pulled" the box with his cane and then ran west on Superior street, several people in the neighborhood told firemen who answered the call.

Following the failure of his two sons to pass the rigorous medical examination and enlist with the Kent's, James Vickery, of Chatham, Ontario, applied and was accepted. He has since joined the battalion.

LAFAYETTE PLACE WINS NATURE LOVERS

After seeing Lafayette Place, the new addition bounded by Calhoun and Lafayette streets and McKinnin and Petit avenues, almost every person to whom the beauties of nature appeal in any way whatsoever has been impressed by the fact that nowhere in the vicinity of Fort Wayne can a more attractive spot be found. Just enough of the tract was covered with the original forest growth to make it possible for Mr. Arthur Shurtliff, the famous Boston landscaper, who layed out this addition, to use his skill to the best advantage. The naturally gentle rolling ground was another feature assisting Mr. Shurtliff in his plans. Beyond a doubt the addition as it stands today is one of the most attractive spots in this whole section of the country. For details see the Wild-wood Sales company, Shoff building—Advertisement.

FRENCH MAY RETAKE THEIR OWN CITY.

If the allies continue pushing the Germans back on the west front, the next important city to be retaken will be Peronne. The market place of the French city is shown here, the houses shattered by shell and the monument of "The Maiden of Peronne," the city's heroine, at the left. German soldiers are the only people on the street. The Germans took Peronne on their first dash into France.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING DAY.

MR. AND MRS. SAMUEL B. ELLIOTT.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Elliott, of 2152 Fox avenue, were married fifty years ago on Friday, Sept. 22, but no one would ever suspect it who called on them or who might meet them casually, for neither time nor care have robbed either Mr. or Mrs. Elliott of health or of the appearance of middle age. Mr. Elliott still pursues his work of patternmaker for the General Electric company and Mrs. Elliott still keeps her home in the pink of neatness and even the care of a grandson just old enough to be in school, in no wise seems to burden her. To go backwards in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, takes him to Kentucky, where he was born and in a few years to Cambridge City, Ind., where he lived all through his boyhood and early manhood and where he played and went to school with the girl he married, who was then Mary Cowles, a native of Cambridge City. The day set for their wedding had to be changed, as a heavy rain washed away a bridge that prevented Mr. Elliott from getting the license and a trip to Centerville had to be made and the day of the marriage changed to one later in the week. But that brought no bad luck to these sturdy residents, who have lived in Fort Wayne forty of the fifty years of their married life. Mr. Elliott served in the civil war and was a member of the Nineteenth Indiana battery. Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Elliott and six are still living, but none is present today, as the distance they live kept them from gathering together just now. The sons and daughters are Mrs. Leola E. Inglis and Wilfred and Ralph Elliott, all of Los Angeles; Nelson Elliott, of Phoenix, Arizona; Nelson Elliott, of Indianapolis; and Mrs. Bertha Elliott R. Hall, of Cleveland. One grandson, Harry Rossetti, of Cleveland, has been spending the summer with his grandparents and is still here. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott attend Plymouth church and both enjoy a wide circle of friends of years of acquaintance. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott have been well remembered with gifts from their children, several gold pieces giving them much pleasure. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott are bright and interesting people and a pleasure to meet. They have a pretty home in Fox avenue.

Society

Misses Mildred and Marian Cutting gave a lovely party this afternoon to honor Miss Ruth Riker, a bride-to-be, and also Miss Marisa Cutting's guest, Miss Evelyn Dunham, of Brattleboro, Vt. The guests, who numbered sixteen, took their sewing materials with them and also gifts of handkerchiefs to show on Miss Riker. During the afternoon dainty sachets were made by the guests of lovely bits of ribbon and silk, furnished by the hostesses, and Miss Riker received enough of the fragrant gifts to last her some time. Green and white were the colors of the decoration, in which garden flowers predominated. When the sewing was finished and Miss Riker had been duly "showered," the Misses Cutting served individual trays of refreshments with tempting things to eat arranged to carry out the coloring of the party.

The closing of the bridge tournament, in progress for three weeks at the Country club, will be held next Wednesday. A luncheon begins the afternoon's pleasures and the game follows. The following Wednesday, October 4, there will be a musical tea for members of the club. A program is being arranged for that date by Miss Katherine MacDougall.

AT THE PALACE

DASHING LITTLE NOVELTY.
Little Miss Up To Date Features Big Bill at New Palace.

The smartly costumed, dashing little novelty idea Little Miss Up To Date, with Doc Baker and Elaine Juliette heading a bevy of six dainty dancing and singing girls through a maze of typical Menlo Moore dance and song numbers. The costuming is snappy and the mechanical stage pictures are as striking as the girls themselves are pretty and graceful. Several lightning costume changes are effected by Doc Baker in a clever manner. Three of them in seemingly as many seconds give the act a bang up close.

Four youngsters, three girls and a boy, open the show in a group of comedy character songs. They call themselves the Juvenile Kings. One of the tiny mites dressed as a stage Dutchman, is a clever lassic. Willing and Jordan, two graceful young people with good voices, have a group of exclusive song hits that brought their last night's audience to them. The girl is graceful and knows how to arrange herself on a piano bench to make the most striking appearance.

The Gallinetti Four, two girls, a man and a boy, play every musical instru-

If Thin or Wrinkled Try This

Many women of fashion and refinement in this country, as in Europe, seem to have recently discovered that there is nothing quite so good to remove wrinkles and fill out hollows in face or neck as ordinary am-o-nixed cocoa cream. It is so easy to get a little from any drug-store and apply this at night wherever there are wrinkles or hollows in face or neck that no woman should suffer embarrassment because she is thin or wrinkled. You simply apply it with the finger tips and it is so pleasant to use and is so quickly absorbed that results are almost immediate. Nothing else is required and there is no hurt or injury to the skin. On the contrary it is positively beneficial to the complexion, feeding and stimulating the tissues so that the face becomes nice and plump and the wrinkles disappear. You can not help but wonder at its nourishing and beautifying action upon the skin. Many complexion ills such as rough, blotchy skin can also be quickly overcome by its use, but it has found particular favor in the elite Beauty Parlors for removing wrinkles and filling out the hollows in face and neck—Advertisement.

ment playable in the course of their instrumental medley. Their playing of four piano accordions is the best thing they do. Anderson and Goines, the two comedians in their skit, "The Ghost of a Coon," are immense. One of them has a large open face mouth that he can twist into a dozen different shapes at once. The Four Slickers, a quartet of up-ops, have an absurdity that is really funny.

There will be two performances on Saturday night.

AT THE MAJESTIC

Eva Tanguay Saturday.

What Ashton Stevens said of Eva Tanguay in Chicago, is quite as applicable to her in this city where she appears under the management of William Morris at the Majestic theater on Saturday, matinee and night.

This is Mr. Stevens' tribute to that dazzling quality in Miss Tanguay, which even he with all his genius for phrasing, cannot explain:

"Take her in New York, or in Chicago, or in St. Petersburg, or in Evanston or Brooklyn, and Eva Tanguay is the fabulous vaudeville success of her age—or any other age with which I am acquainted."

"She came like a meteor, but there is a lasting quality. What is that quality? Radium? Electricity? Sheer nerve? Or, as Eva Tanguay herself comically suggests, madness? I give it up. Every time I try to explain her it's another reason. She won't be still under the microscope. She yells, "I don't care!" and wriggles away. Her ego baffles. The more she flares it in your face the farther you are from herself."

AN OLD-STYLE CAPE REVIVED

LOOK thru the trunks in the attic—you may come across a fur cape like the one shown. If so, bring it out and thank your lucky stars that you have such a possession, for it is in the height of fashion. Seal has been used for the cape which is cut circular. A feature of the model is its brilliant red lining. In some of the models splashy-colored silks in brilliant colors are used as linings. The neck line is finished with a stole of kolinsky. Matching the cape is the diminutive muff with a seal center and kolinsky ends. If you don't possess an old cape you may have a fur coat, which is worn in places in this event have it recut, using the illustration as a model. The set will prove most practical on cold fall days, as well as on the freezing days in winter.

CLEVER TREATMENT OF THE POPULAR PLAID

AREN'T plaids the gayest of designs, and don't you love to see them taken up by fashion, as so often happens at the beginning of the fall and winter season? There is more than a whisper about that all things Scotch, plaids included, will be popular with fashion devotees this fall. So here is a frock designed to make use of the plaid in as conservative a manner as possible. The suggestion is best carried out in silk, the plaid woollens might be combined with silk if the woollen material is good-looking. Lovely plaid taffeta is being dis-

NECKWEAR NEWS

THE fact that so many of the bodices are made plain for the fall season gives one an opportunity to be a little more free in her selection of neckwear. Among the novelties are broadcloth sets. These come in all white, in color and in combinations of colors. One attractive white set had insets of colored broadcloth. Other broadcloth sets are elaborated with bead, silk, wool and chenille embroidery.

Collars of satin, batiste, chiffon, crepe and other materials with broad revers and matching cuffs are very fashionable. A salient point of one model is a stiffened band used to support a rolling collar of white broadcloth. The band is high at the back and gradually disappears from sight as it nears the front. One model of gray broadcloth is decorated with narrow bands of black velvet. Georgette crepe is another popular material for neckwear. Stunning collars, showing the vogue for the deep sailor effect, are made up of this material in flesh-color white, pale shades of blue and lavender. They are finished with pleated edges. Others have wide tucks in groups of three and four running across their width.

SEPARATE COATS

EVERY one will feel a need for separate coats after hearing about the rich woollen fabrics of which the coats are being made. Wool velour, duvetyne, bolivia cloth and heavy chevrons are all favored materials. The low shoulder line and full bishop sleeves are prominent in a great many models. In some instances the sleeves are gathered and applied to the shoulders in an upstanding ruche. A very wide cuff connotes the fullness of the sleeve. Drassy coats of dark plush lend themselves admirably to fur trimmings, mole-skin and gray astrakhan having the preference. Soutache braiding and embroideries in silk, metal and wool are trimming features of some models. Caps collars are evident and are made of the coat material, of fur, or of fur cloth. Odd-shaped pockets are other features of the new coats.

As to length, some of the coats reach the bottom of the dress skirt, others are of three-quarter or seven-eighths length. Separate coats of velvet and those of cloth, too, feature wide band trimming at the bottom. Those of the latter material have velvet bands with an allover scroll pattern in metal thread chain stitching. The velvet coats have bands of fur from eighteen to twenty-four inches wide.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Wood Floors

My floors seem very badly stained, but ordinary treatment will not restore them. How can I have them cleaned without requiring a new varnish? GEORGE K.
When natural wood is soiled, clean with oil and turpentine or with oil and wood alcohol. If very soiled, rub well with wooden cloth wet in turpentine or alcohol and afterward polish with paraffin oil. If the wood is dark, polish with linseed oil instead of paraffin.

Fabric Paste

Can you give me a formula for a fabric paste? I know there is such a thing, because I have seen it advertised, but I would like one that can be made at home. Mrs. D. B. V.
Below is the formula for which you asked, with directions how to use it.

Fabric Paste

1 cup whole-wheat flour.
1 cup cold water.
Add 2 cups of boiling water.
Boil 5 minutes.
Add 1 teaspoonful of powdered alum dissolved in water.
This paste will keep fresh ten days. When using, apply very lightly and evenly, not to the fabric, but to the article which the fabric is to cover.

RUSSIA SOON TO LIFT BAN ON MANY EXILES

Amnesty to Political Prisoners in Siberia Believed Near.

London, Sept. 16.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—It is reported in Petrograd advices that a well-considered scheme of amnesty to political offenders, at present under sentence of exile to northern and Asiatic Russia, will be shortly promulgated under the orders of Emperor Nicholas.

Acting under the extensive powers granted to the minister of the interior, that official, as indicated in the following letter, has already seen his way to liberate 120 political exiles sent since 1905 by administrative order to distant parts of the empire. As distinct from these there are other political exiles and prisoners who have been tried and condemned by the courts; such can be liberated only by the express order of the sovereign. But it is said that the minister of justice under whose jurisdiction these cases come, is with genius sympathy preparing a scheme of pardon, as large and free as reasonable bounds allow for the consideration of his majesty. The following letter by Mr. Khvostoff, the new minister of interior, has been received during his recent visit to Petrograd by Mrs. Sonia E. Howe, of St. Luke's vicarage, Finchley, the originator and honorary secretary of the committee for the relief of Administrative exiles in northern Russia and Siberia.

"Dear Madam:
"Following on our personal discussions I have the honor to inform you that to alleviate the fate of administrative exiles sent by order of the imperial police regime to distant governments of Asiatic and European Russia, I have after careful review of their cases made arrangements for liberation of 120 persons of certain categories from exile and police supervision. As regards those exiles which are in Siberia this order has been communicated by telegraph to the governors concerned. Further cases are being considered.
"Accept, dear Madam, the assurance of my sincere esteem and devotion.
(Signed) A. KHVOSTOFF."

Indianapolis, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Cora M. Kiger, 40, a member of a number of women's and literary clubs, shot and killed herself at her home here yesterday. She was the wife of S. D. From the position of the body in Mrs. Kiger's room it is believed she watched herself in a large mirror as she fired the fatal shot.

VERY NEWEST BLOUSES.

(By Betty Brown.)
There was a time when a blouse was a mere waist. The blouse of today is a "creation."

Your special attention is called to the Grecian model at the right. It shows the new peplum so many exclusive designers are using. The drooping shoulder line and the full sleeves are fashion notes you may read in this little garment.

You may also notice it is quite within the possibilities of the home dressmaking. The model I saw was made of brick red handkerchief linen. The embroidered squares on the front at the collar and on the peplum are in dull blue.

The second blouse is a bit too extreme

(to please some of us, but is a model that will be popular. It is made of cotton color tulle with lingerie shirt bosom. The cravat is navy blue georgette crepe. The bone buttons at the cuff are blue.

MARSHALL SAYS PEOPLE ARE WITH MR. WILSON

[By Willis S. Thompson.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 22.—Vice President Thomas R. Marshall was never sicker to enter the campaign than at present. His health is all that could be desired, and his earnestness and sincerity in advocating and sustaining all the policies of Woodrow Wilson could not be marked by more enthusiasm than is shown in the meetings he addresses.

"All my life," said Mr. Marshall in speaking of the outlook, "I have been in the habit, without always being able to make myself clear as to my reasons, to jump to conclusions. While I do not brag about it as anything special, still I know it is a fact that results have usually justified forecasts. I have been about a little bit in this campaign and I have received a great many reports in Washington from different parts of the country. All that I have seen in my travels and all that I have heard from others would indicate that the people are with Woodrow Wilson as they have seldom been with any candidate for the presidency."

"The more they know of what he has done, and is doing, the more the republican orators emphasize the greatness of the man by their dishonest carping criticism, the more the people appreciate and the more justly they estimate his true qualities and his great ability and earnestness. As Chairman McCormick says, the people must not allow these conditions to influence them in not registering on registration day and voting on election day, because they might think their vote is not needed. There never was a time in the history of American politics when the president was entitled to receive and when, as I see it, the people want to give him an overwhelming endorsement by their votes. If the people will register and vote the result in November will show this endorsement, even larger. I believe, than we hope for.

"Progressive republicans who have voted for progressive legislation for years and who have left the party with the tremendous following because the leaders and the majority of the republican party refused to give their vote or endorsement to any of these progressive measures demanded by the people, have lived to see the democratic party pass almost every one of the progressive laws which they advocated and demanded. Why, in all reason, therefore, should they not support the president and congressmen who have passed these laws and placed them on the statute books? "With it all, the people are enjoying the greatest prosperity the country has ever known. Under all the circumstances, how could any one believe that the people want a change? As Thomas A. Edison said in speaking to the independent voters of the country, and in speaking as a life-long republican, 'this is not a time to talk in terms of republicanism and of democracy, as confined merely to a narrow party definition.'"

CANADIANS ALLOWED TO VOTE IN ENGLAND

British Columbia Soldiers
Have Ballots Recorded
Across the Sea.

London, Sept. 15 (correspondence of the Associated Press).—Soldiers from British Columbia now training or recovering from their wounds in the British isles were invited to record their votes for the candidates seeking the suffrage of the electorate of British Columbia at the general election. It is said there are about 40,000 soldier-voters from the far western Canadian province now in Europe serving the empire and many of these are in London or its immediate vicinity. The results were telegraphed to the authorities in British Columbia.

The recording of these soldiers' votes while they are away from home has aroused much interest in political circles in the British isles, where there has been much discussion as to how the electors for the imperial parliament now serving in the army would be affected in the event of a general election.

Lord Salisbury has introduced a bill to provide for such an emergency. Its clauses provide that every sailor and soldier registered as an elector should receive a copy of the candidates' election addresses. The commanding officer of the fighting unit would be required to appoint a day for the delivery of the marked ballot papers in the sealed envelopes supplied to his men and these would be forwarded to the electoral officials.

An officer now in the trenches who, in normal times, is an ardent politician, writes to the newspapers to point out that soldiers have other things to worry about instead of party politics. He says: "If people at home really think that our men are worrying about being temporarily disfranchised they have got the whole show in the wrong perspective. My men are worrying about rats and mosquitoes and pigeons and woolly bears and things like that and if you took a referendum out here you would get about two replies out of a hundred—and they probably would be spoiled votes because the lads express themselves crudely at times. The things they want are home and wives and children and sweethearts and clean clothes and a bath and some English beer—quite simple things like that. Not votes at all. They are quite content to leave all that to the people who are carrying on at home. When you are serving a gun day and night in a place like this it seems ridiculous to think of a Tommy worrying himself about voting. He's too busy sending—and dodging—death."

The politicians, however, appear to think otherwise and continue working up their agitation for the political privileges of the soldier in the trenches.

AFTER UNLICENSED RIVERMEN.

Federation of Labor Plans Organization in Ohio Valley.

Point Pleasant, W. Va., Sept. 22.—A movement that is expected to extend the entire Ohio valley was launched here last night with the organization by the American Federation of Labor of unlicensed rivermen. The organization grew out of a strike two weeks ago which was called just as Kanawha Valley and Ohio coal shippers were preparing to send large tows of coal to the south.

Some demands of the men were granted and it was then decided to form a union, that would secure improved working conditions and higher wages. River men now receive $80 a month and deck hands $60.

We will give a $200.00 bonus toward that new house on Drexel Blvd., in Pontiac Place. Several choice lots to select from. Call Doud, 253.

GOING UP IN PITTSBURG.

Price of Bread is Being Advanced to 10 Cents a Loaf.

Pittsburg, Sept. 22.—The price of bread is being advanced in Pittsburg, according to F. T. Wilham, secretary of the Pennsylvania Association of Master Bakers, the recommendation of the national association have been seconded by the local organization and individual bakers are already raising the price to 10 cents a loaf. He said the Sherman anti-trust law prevents the association from regulating the price of bread but does not prevent it from recommending the increase.

By a loan to the government of $10,000,000 at 8 per cent. secured on taxes, the Bank of England started operations in 1694.

Every man, young, middle aged, or elderly, knows that the greatest portion of his personality and prestige among other men depends on his general appearance.

This Young Fellow Knows He's Well Dressed

And it's all our fault. He is one of the most discriminating dressers in Fort Wayne and when he stepped into our shop some time ago he was shown every consideration of style, fabric, tailoring, and the fit of his clothes are now thoughtfully observed by all of the young live wires in the city.

The wide diversity of models we display evidences ample provision for every conceivable personal preference and physical requirement. We give the strictest attention to the fitting and workmanship of every garment and do not let the garment leave our shop unless it is perfect in every respect.

It was our ability to give men of Fort Wayne and vicinity more for their money than they were accustomed to getting elsewhere that nearly doubled our business last Spring, and started the town talking about the styles and values of John Ford Clothes.

TRI-LAKE INSTEAD OF LAKE WAWASEE

General Electric Quarter
Century Club Changes
Picnic Grounds.

Because of the distance to Wawasee, fifty-two miles, and fear that the trip would greatly fatigue some of the older members of the party, the Quarter Century club, of the General Electric works, has decided to hold its picnic at Tri-Lake tomorrow. The latter is only twenty-six miles from Fort Wayne, just half the distance to Wawasee, and besides the roads are said to be better on the whole than the roads to Wawasee. There are thirty-seven members of the club, but on account of some being absent and others being unable to go on account of sickness and other reasons, only twenty-nine will make the trip. They will leave the city early tomorrow morning in automobiles and expect to reach the lake by 9 o'clock. The day will be spent in boating, fishing and feasting and a fine time is anticipated. Dr. Fred J. Schelz and William F. Melchior, who are not members of the club, will go also, the former as a guide because of his familiarity with the roads to the resort and with the waters of the lake, and Mr. Melchior because he is never left out when the boys have anything in the way of pleasure to offer. Of course, the weather will have some bearing upon the trip, but unless it is very bad, the trip will be made.

BOWSER INAUGURATES NEW PLAN.
A Material Bonus System Which Will Add 5 Per Cent to Wages.

S. B. Bechtel, general manager of S. F. Bowser & Co., has conceived and presented to the senate and house of the big plant a material bonus plan which it carried out as planned by Mr. Bechtel. It will not only result in an increase of 5 per cent in the wages of the skilled employees, but will save many dollars in the course of the year in the consumption of raw material. General Manager S. B. Bechtel and other officials of the company have been making personal investigation and found that many times the raw material could not be procured fast enough to supply the rapidly working employees engaged in special duties and piece work, and this resulted in delays and consequent loss to the men. With a straight guarantee of 5 per cent and assurance of all dividends which may exceed the stipulated amount, the employees affected by this ruling will now enjoy an additional advantage and can earn more.

The material bonus plan is similar in its workings to the output bonus plan established last winter, which yields a big saving to the company and a handsome wage increase to the employees. It was described in detail by The Sentinel some months ago.

WABASH IMPROVEMENTS.

Company Decides to Expend Several Millions in Betterments.

The division superintendents and maintenance of way officials of the Wabash are engaged in making estimates for improvements of the property covering a period of five years, work to be taken up early next year. It is proposed to build many miles of second track and to erect several new passenger stations. The Penn Chronicle states that $3,000,000 or more will be spent on the Penn division. The improvements, as stated, are to be made within the next five years, being arranged so as to give each year a share. The Wabash passes through the best part of the country between Detroit and Toledo in the east and Kansas City and St. Louis in the west, and will be one of the best paying railway properties in the country when the improvements proposed are made.

WIND DAMAGES SCAFFOLD.

Prompt action and absence of fear of personal injury saved the prostration of one of the big stacks and the wooden scaffold surrounding it over the power plant at the Pennsylvania roundhouse about 11:30 o'clock last night. The high wind which raged at that hour swayed the stack and the scaffold until one of the guy wires became loose and one of the corner uprights of the scaffold broke. At the risk of being hurt or killed, some of the men employed at the roundhouse climbed the scaffold, attached new guy ropes and anchored the stack and scaffold so they could not fall. This morning they were leaning considerably, but were easily put in proper position and the work of strengthening and repairing the scaffold was taken up. The work of erecting the steel stack, which is to replace one damaged by rust, has been delayed a day or two by the storm, but no serious damage resulted. The work is in charge of Millwright Henry Zollinger and Boilermakers William C. Meyers, C. H. Tegtmeyer, E. J. Young and W. E. Dultemeyer.

TRAIN MAKES GOOD RUN.

G. R. & I. officials and trainmen are proud of the manner in which the train of Candidate Hughes was handled from this city to Richmond yesterday. Every stopping point enroute was reached "right on the dot" and the train went into Richmond at 8:25, the time set for its arrival. Conductor Pat McGee had charge of the train and Engineer John Hanson and Fireman F. A. Mosel officiated in the cab. The Pennsylvania handles the Hughes party tomorrow between Gary and Plymouth, with a stop at Valparaiso.

NOT HIRING FIREMEN.

"Say, just tell the people that the G. R. & I. is not hiring firemen at present," said one of the men connected with the road foreman of engines' office this morning. "One of the city papers stated a few days ago that we needed firemen and were hiring many, and since that time over fifty men have applied here for positions." The G. R. & I. is doing a very good freight business and has probably as large a number of train crews on the list as ever. There are enough men to man all the locomotives, however, and none are being hired.

TURNED OUT NINE ENGINES.

Hiam Humphreys, engineer, after a courtship of six days and twelve days after the wedding caused his arrest on a charge of bigamy.
Mrs. Humphreys charges that Humphreys had not been divorced from her

Mrs. Humphreys says:
Don't marry him if he's jealous!
Don't marry on a short courtship!
Don't marry until you have been engaged one year!
Don't marry until you know his family history!

AMERICAN LEPERS FOUND IN JAPAN

Discovery Constitutes Big Problem for American Officials There.

Yokohama, Japan, Sept. 20.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—The discovery of about twenty-five American lepers in different parts of Japan has become a pressing problem to American officials and for the American Association of Japan, which is undertaking to secure their transportation to the American leper home in the Hawaiian Islands.

The lepers have made their way here in recent years with the hope that they might be healed at the famous Japanese hot springs, especially those at Kusatsu which is always crowded with Japanese lepers taking the waters. Gradually they have drifted to missionary leper hospitals or have in other ways become burdens on the community. In view of the excellent asylum at Hawaii the American association is taking active steps to secure their removal.

Leprosy is one of the great questions seeking solution by modern Japan. It is estimated that the lepers of the empire number about 25,000. Five governmental leper asylums were established in 1907, but they accommodate only a few thousand. The remainder are scattered over the country desperately seeking a cure in the hot springs or publicly begging in the market-place or before the temples.

At the last session of the Diet the Japanese Leprosy Prevention society petitioned for the establishment of a national leprosy hospital on some island in the Pacific ocean. The cost of the asylum was estimated at $3,000,000, and its maintenance at $250,000 a year. It is believed that at least one-third of the lepers could be housed and treated at once and it was contended by the petitioners that Japan could be cleared of lepers in the course of ten years.

Assessment rolls for construction of cement sidewalks on both sides of Sinclair avenue, from Runyon avenue to the C. R. & I. railroad, and on both sides of State boulevard, from Farnell avenue to Florida drive, were confirmed by the board of works Thursday night.

The board adopted primary assessment rolls for construction of sidewalks on the west side of Harrison street, from Main street to Pearl street, and on both sides of Harrison street, from the bridge across the St. Mary's river to the alley north of First street.

Petitions for extension of the protection curb along St. Joe boulevard, from Lake avenue to the bridge, was placed on file. Jacob Agnew, councilman from the First ward, W. D. Henderson, T. J. Logan and O. E. Richard appeared before the board and stated reasons for wanting the wall. They claimed they were entitled to the same flood protection that their neighbors on the south were getting.

RALLY OF WORKERS IS TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Everything Ready for Campaign to Raise Money for Christ Lutheran Church.

Tonight in the Christ Lutheran campaign headquarters in the basement of the First Methodist church, will occur the grand rally of the workers before the opening of the city wide campaign for $40,000. The meeting tonight marks the culmination of the past two weeks of arduous preliminary work and organization which has tended to thoroughly prepare the members of the forty teams of men and women for the ten days of solicitation to begin Monday.

General Chairman W. F. Geller, in speaking of the work thus far, said: "Everything points to success in our effort. The spirit and enthusiasm manifested on the part of our workers will certainly be productive of splendid results. The help and encouragement received outside our own ranks has been above our fondest expectations and omens well." Mr. Geller also stated that already he had received from representative men of the city a few substantial gifts, showing that even before the actual campaign opens the efforts of the organization are being accorded handsome support.

Tonight's big rally at headquarters will not doubt mark the climax thus far in the keen and enthusiastic feeling existing among the 150 workers. A spirit of friendly rivalry for honors has already taken root between the divisions of men and women and between their respective teams as well, which is a sure and reliable sign of great work being accomplished.

Final Instructions.

Aside from the "rally" part of tonight's meeting, the final instructions will be given to the workers and the finishing touches in the coaching of the teams will be an important feature. Every captain and every worker should be present tonight without fail. Chairman Paul H. Hartman, of the men's division, will give his final word to the teams of men and will announce the complete roster of his captains with their respective teams as they will enter the campaign proper. Mrs. H. C. Horn, chairman of the ladies' division, will also give final instructions to the teams of ladies and will announce her permanent working force.

During each evening of the ten days of campaigning a free supper will be served to the workers at headquarters. Mrs. E. C. Hadley and Mrs. L. Yarian, vice chairmen of the ladies' division, will have charge of the dining room and kitchen, respectively, and have been devoting all their spare time during the last few days getting everything in their department in excellent shape. During the supper hour reports will be received also from each team on their day's work and the daily progress will be recorded on the mammoth thermometer which will trace the court house at the corner of Berry and Calhoun.

"MODEL" CASHIER AND $1,067 BOTH MISSING

Chicago Wife Blames Husband's Downfall to Gambling.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Gambling at night and being a "model employee" in the daytime, proved an unprofitable combination for W. G. Logan, the 27-year-old cashier of the Bowman Dairy company's north shore branch at Evanston.

Logan wasn't at his desk yesterday when the office was opened. He wasn't there at noon, when Edward E. Lynch, the manager, found that $1,067.46, the entire receipts of Wednesday, had disappeared. This being the case, Mr. Lynch placed the matter in the hands of the police.

Wife Lays It to Gambling.

At the home of the missing cashier's father, the Rev. J. T. Logan, a retired minister and editor of the Free Methodist, Mrs. Bessie Logan sobbed out what she declared to be the only possible explanation of her husband's disappearance.

"He's been gambling," she said. "He admitted it to father only a few days ago, and said he'd been losing money. There isn't any other woman. I know that. We've been the happiest couple in the world until just recently, when he's been coming home late nights. I complained about that, and it was the only disagreement we ever had."

"He went out after dinner Wednesday and said he'd be back early. When I woke up this morning and found he wasn't there, I went over to the office, and after a while they told me about the money being gone."

Seen by Policeman.

Soon after leaving his home at 2036 Maple avenue young Logan was seen by Traffic Policeman Frank Wiedling of Evanston. He was driving toward Chicago in an automobile with another man, described by the policeman as short and stout. He waved at Wiedling, whom he knew, and disappeared.

Officials of the Bowman company were reluctant to discuss their employee, but the elder Logan told of a talk with Manager Lynch.

"He told me my boy was doing wonderfully well, and had just been promoted," said Mr. Logan. "He said the idea of his doing a thing like this was the last thought that would have occurred to him. He had been with the company four years, and was trusted implicitly."

"He had been gambling, though. He admitted that. I'm afraid it's a case of bad companions."

Chicago Board Head Raps Liveried Chauffeurs for Wrist Watch Boys.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 22.—Criticism by the board of education of the practice of children driving to and from school in automobiles was widely discussed today. The subject came before the board yesterday during a debate on a motion to instruct the superintendent of schools to investigate the large number of petty thefts which have occurred at various public schools recently.

Jacob M. Loeb, president of the board, was especially severe in his criticism of conditions at Hyde Park high, one of the most popular high schools on the south side.

"You should see it on a rainy day," said Mr. Loeb, "at closing time the automobiles are lined up there as if it were a fashionable reception with liveried chauffeurs to take the wrist watch boys home."

"The pupils of that school think of society life only. They live for their automobiles, their silk stockings, their parties and balls, for dancing and pleasure."

"What would be your remedy for these conditions?" asked Edward J. Eiggott, member of the board.

URGE PARENTS TO USE CHILD PLAGUE CLINICS

New York, Sept. 22.—Officials of charitable institutions here are engaged in a campaign to induce parents to bring their children who have suffered from infantile paralysis to the hospitals and clinics for treatment to save them, if possible, from being permanently crippled or deformed.

Nurses have been engaged to visit every family in which there has been a case of paralysis to urge them to take advantage of this opportunity for free treatment. The treatment consists largely of massage, the use of electricity, muscle training and corrective gymnastics.

Twenty new cases of infantile paralysis, seven fewer than yesterday, were reported by the health authorities today. The deaths numbered eleven, an increase of five.

PLAN BRITISH TRADE BANK

London, Sept. 22.—Establishment of a British trade bank with a capital of £10,000,000, was considered today by a committee of which Baron Farinford, chairman of the Great Central railway, is the head. The committee was appointed to consider the best means of meeting the needs of British firms after the war, with particular reference to financing large overseas contracts. It suggests that the proposed bank should fill the gap between the home banks and the colonial and foreign British institutions and develop facilities not provided by the present system.

AUTHORS OBJECT TO JOINING THE UNION

Prominent Writers Balk at Proposal to Affiliate With Federation.

New York, Sept. 22.—Ninety members of the Authors' League of America have signed and issued a protest against the proposal to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor.

Included in that number are many well known writers such as Jack London, George Ade, Cyrus Townsend Brundy, John Burroughs, Winston Churchill, Hamlin Garland, Emerson Hough, Jos. C. Lincoln, Brander Matthews, Ray Stannard Baker, Samuel G. Blythe, Irvin S. Cobb, James F. Flagg, Will Payne, Ida M. Tarbell, Kate Douglas Wiggin, Owen Wister and Edward Mott Woolley.

They denounce the proposed affiliation as "inappropriate, disadvantageous and dangerous," and assert that those favoring it dwell on the advantages of standardized contracts in the publishing, magazine and theatrical business, but fail to show that it would attain any of these advantages.

The meeting will bring together all presidents, vice presidents, secretaries and treasurers of political clubs formed by the party in the county, together with the precinct committeemen. There will be a smoker and business of the party concerning the campaign will be considered.

Paul Hayne, of Anderson, formerly secretary of the progressive state committee, will address the meeting.

WOMAN IS INDICTED IN POISONING CASES

Mrs. Archer-Gilligan Held for Murder of Five in Home for Aged.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 22.—Mrs. Amy E. Archer-Gilligan, charged with poisoning five inmates of her home for elderly people at Windsor, was indicted for first degree murder on five counts by the grand jury late yesterday. Benedict M. Holden, counsel for Mrs. Gilligan, announced that he was not ready to proceed with the trial and Judge M. S. Shumway ordered the case continued to the December term of the superior court. Mrs. Gilligan pleaded not guilty, and was remanded to the county jail without bonds.

The state alleged that Mrs. Gilligan poisoned the following persons: Mrs. Maude Lynch, of Lakeville, on Feb. 21, 1916; Franklin R. Andrews, of Cheshire, on May 30, 1914; Charles A. Smith, of Waterbury, on April 9, 1914; Michael W. Gilligan, second husband of the accused, on Feb. 20, 1914, and Mrs. Alice Gowdy, of Hartford, Dec. 9, 1914.

Mrs. Gilligan was arrested in May last specifically charged with the murder of Mr. Andrews, whose body had been secretly exhumed. Since that time four other bodies have been exhumed, and the state alleges that evidence of a powerful poison was found in all the bodies. All the deaths occurred at the Windsor home.

Most of the inmates were admitted to the home, the state claims, after contracts had been signed providing for life care upon payment of $1,000.

MORAN AND FULTON TO MEET.

New York, Sept. 22.—Frank Moran and Fred Fulton will fight a ten-round bout here on Oct. 12, under an agreement announced today. This will be the first heavyweight match of the season.

Mrs. Carrie Heller and Miss Flora Heller are going to Toledo, O., on Saturday, for a ten days' visit.

CHICAGO HOUSEWIVES WAR ON FOOD ADVANCE

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Housewives of Chicago were called upon today to attend a mass meeting at which organization will be perfected to fight increases in the prices of foodstuffs. The announcement that bread is to be advanced from five to six cents a loaf resulted in the call for the meeting. Miss Florence King, president of the Woman's Association of Commerce, under whose auspices the meeting is to be held, urged that housewives boycott dealers or refuse to purchase supplies which have been advanced in price.

"Men are interested in buying and selling for a profit. It is therefore folly to expect them to take any action. The call reads: 'Women must put a stop to unwarranted increases and we alone can stop them.'"

CONTRACT HOLDS GOOD EVEN AFTER MARRIAGE

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 22.—Teachers in Pittsburg's public schools who wed after they sign yearly contracts with the board of education cannot be removed from their positions until their contracts expire, according to a ruling of J. Rogers McCreery, counsel for the board of education.

Heretofore it has been the rule that when a teacher married she forfeited her position and this rule has been strictly enforced. Last June Miss Ella Hanton, a teacher, signed up to teach the coming year and then she married. She was notified she had forfeited her position. She engaged an attorney and decided to fight the school board's ruling. When that body took up her case with its counsel it was informed its rule could not be enforced and as it now stood was not legal.

CLOVER SEED CROP IS EXTREMELY GRATIFYING

Dealers Are Offering From $1 0to $12 a Bushel for the Seed.

Reports from the country where clover bulling has been in progress the past few days, are to the effect that the crop this year is extremely gratifying. The acreage is good and farmers had large fields. The price is holding up around the $10 and $12 mark. In large centers the seed was bringing from $11 to $14. The damp weather of the past few days has hindered progress in the hulling of clover.

Friday was a very inactive day on the Fort Wayne markets. Receipts were very light. Only a few loads of grain appeared on the streets in the morning and millers and commission men took in but very little. Prices remained unchanged.

Corn cutting is going on in full swing in the country. Alien county will have a fair sized crop this year. The stalks, however, are small and therefore fodder will be more scarce than last year. The egg market has come to a standstill at the 50c a dozen mark, with indications, however, that the price will be boosted soon.

Ten and a quarter for hogs is the same song that was sung today by local packers and live stock dealers. There are no indications as to which way the price will go.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Wheat prices developed considerable strength today as a result of a scarcity of offerings and because of reports that rains in Argentina had not affected the drought, the lack of moisture being felt in the north, whereas the rains had fallen in the south and west. Opening prices, which ranged from 5 1/2 to 1 1/2 higher, with December at $1.53 1/2 to $1.54 1/2, and May at $1.51 1/2 to $1.52 1/2, were followed by substantial additional gains. The close was unsettled, 2 1/2 to 3/4 net higher, with December at $1.53 1/2 to $1.54 1/2, and May at $1.51 1/2 to $1.52 1/2. The close was nervous at finish of 5/8 to 1 1/2 net. In the oats pit the main influence was the strength of other cereals. Provisions showed a little firmness in consequence of an advance in hog values.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 22.—The trend of prices was again unmistakably upward at the opening of today's market, with new records for United States Steel, the prominent Coppers and Central Leather at gains of fractions to two points. All these issues, with International Nickel, changed hands in individual lots of 1,000 to 4,000 shares. Marines, Maxwells, Studypaker, Motors, Cracible and Lackawanna, National Lead, Texas company and leading rails like Union Pacific and New York Central shared in the general advance with some realizing for profits before the end of the first half hour.

Trading during the first hour was again on the basis of a two million share session, with only slight abatement of activity as the noon hour approached. Steel at the new maximum of 11 1/2, together with the metals and half a score of specialties, furnished an overwhelming percentage of the whole but rails later advanced, some rising to best prices of the year. High Union Pacific at 14 1/2 was at its highest quotation since the beginning of the war. Scarcely any division of the stock list was unaffected by the movement, whose underlying factors were

BABY BONDS TEACH BOY THIRTY HABITS

A local business man, the father of a husky 16-year-old, whom he requires to spend the vacation months in working at the business which the parent expects to pass over to him in the future, states that he pays the son double the amount which he could be expected to receive from the same work outside of his father's establishment, but only on the condition that half of his salary be invested in Baby Bonds. In this manner the father expects to teach the son thirty habits, which, he says, will be of greater use to him in after life than anything else he could learn. Baby Bonds come in $10 denominations. Bear 4 per cent interest and are secured by first mortgages on local real estate. There are also a number of larger bonds in $500 denominations, which bear the same rate of interest and are secured in the same manner. For further details regarding either, see the Wildwood Sales company, Shoaff building. Advertisement.

Rengo-Belt Reducing Corsets Have No Appearance of Heaviness In the Full Figure

These same lines—the same mould—the same smooth fitting over abdomen and hips—the same waist line—exactly the same model of proportion as in the regular average figure—is the result obtained when medium heavy and full figures wear Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets. And the garments will remain just as you buy them—they have the strength and scientific tailoring to mould your figure and not be moulded out of shape by wearing strain.

The principal reason for this great supporting strength is in the Rengo Belt tailoring in feature, now made famous by eight years of success. If this principle were not scientifically correct for stout and medium figures, Rengo Belt corsets would cease to exist, for it is the foundation of every garment of every model. Please note that the Rengo Belt adds no material weight or bulk, but multiplies the strength many times.

Boned throughout with double watch-spring steels—guaranteed not to rust. There are models with and without "Steelastie" webbing.

PRIZE POSTED FOR GOOD PENMANSHIP

County and City Schools to Join in Encouraging Better Writing.

To stimulate better penmanship in the city and county schools the coming year, D. O. McComb, county school superintendent, and O. L. Rogers, superintendent of penmanship in the city schools, will offer cash prizes and certificates. The action comes following a unanimous vote taken in the county institute of teachers, members of which decided that better writing should be encouraged.

A letter sent out by D. O. McComb, county school superintendent, says: "At the end of the first month of school and every two months thereafter each teacher is to send to Superintendent McComb's office two sets of papers, one a writing lesson, the other a spelling lesson. These papers will be examined by Prof. Rogers from the standpoint of good writing, which means good movement from the beginning and good letter formation by the middle or end of the term. Brief criticism will be given and the papers returned with a suggestion as to what qualities should be emphasized and drilled upon in order to improve the work."

"Each paper of each set or lesson sent in should have the pupil's name, date, school and grade in order that I may judge the work with accuracy. The name and address of the teacher and the number or name of the school should be on each package of papers. Please send the papers flat. Do not roll.

"At the end of the seventh month all pupils from the fifth to the eighth grade, inclusive, who grade 95 per cent or above (grading on movement and form and averaging the two for the writing grade) will receive a certificate of excellence in writing with the name of the pupil beautifully filled in. All pupils who write with good movement and grade from 85 to 94 per cent, inclusive in letter formation, will receive a good movement certificate in writing with the name of the pupil beautifully given."

Will Be Awarded Prize.
"The class in Allen county which has the finest writing at the end of the seventh month, will be awarded a cash prize of $10. Five of this goes to the teacher and $5 to the class. The class standing second will receive a cash prize of $7.50, one-half to the teacher and one-half to the class. The third best class will receive $5, one-half to the teacher and one-half to the class. Others will receive honorable mention.
"By the plan outlined the services of the penmanship department of the city school is placed directly at the service of Allen county and it is hoped that every teacher will respond in order that his work may be of the greatest possible service to all of the pupils.
"Arrangements have been made whereby the county pupils have the same privilege of securing the lessons of Mr. Rogers in public school penmanship as have the city school pupils. The use of this course of lessons in public school penmanship has given Fort Wayne a national reputation in penmanship."

THINK-IT-OVER PLAN TO CURB DIVORCES

Indianapolis Judge Sure He Has Made Important Discovery.

Indianapolis, Sept. 22.—Judge Moll of superior court, room 5, thinks he has found a system that will help in lessening the divorce evil. Its results are shown by the fact that of twenty-eight divorce cases set for trial in his court at the beginning of the September term, thirty-eight were voluntarily dismissed by the plaintiffs. This, Judge Moll thinks, is mainly a result of his "think it over" policy.

The law says divorce cases can not be tried less than sixty days after they are filed. Judge Moll recently made an order fixing ninety days as a minimum time before trial, and set aside the first two weeks of September, December and May as the only periods for the trial of such cases. He thought the extra time would give the parties a better chance to consider the matter.

Of the thirty-eight cases dismissed, thirty-five were those in which the defendants live in the county, and were personally served with notice. Ten of the dismissals were by the husband and twenty-five by the wife. In nearly all of these cases, Judge Moll was given to understand, the parties were reconciled. The remaining forty cases were tried by the court. Thirty-three divorces were granted, three were denied and four continued. Of the thirty-three divorces granted, only five were contested. Of the uncontested cases twenty-four divorces were granted to wives. In each of the three instances where a divorce was denied the husband was the plaintiff. The cases continued were because of illness of the parties or the attorneys.

Judge Moll found, while there were not many charges of habitual drunkenness, the use by the defendant of intoxicating liquors was present in a great majority of the cases, and was the fundamental cause of the trouble in at least 40 per cent of them. Eleven of the decrees were based on abandonment, the wife having deserted in three cases and the husband in eight.

SAYS CHINA HAS PASSED THROUGH GREAT CRISIS

President at Pekin Asks United Support for Compromise Cabinet.

Peking, Aug. 12.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—President Li Yuan-hung, entertaining the members of parliament at an informal tea party in the foreign office building, delivered a brief address asking for the united support of the members in approving the compromise cabinet. The president said: "We have just passed through a great crisis; and your advice is needed on many questions of reform. These I shall submit to you in due course and wait for your decision. What the country has been looking forward to is the formation of a cabinet. Yuan-hung is a man of small virtue; and he greatly fears that in spite of the utmost care, he may after all have failed to select men sufficiently talented to meet the requirements of the day and to satisfy the expectations of the people. This much, however, he is able to say. After two months of careful selection and many changes after the appointments were actually made, he has chosen a body of men, who, while they may not be perfect in themselves, are nevertheless good for certain reasons."

"In my opinion, as restoration of the Republic has been accomplished by the work of many, the personnel of the cabinet cannot be limited to persons of any one party. On this principle Yuan-hung decided to form the present cabinet. It is hoped that you will take into consideration the difficulties that are before us and bear the same in mind when the cabinet is submitted to you for approval."

"As to the livelihood of the people and the program of national reconstruction, hundreds and thousands of questions are involved. These I shall submit to you about from time to time for your valuable opinion. I hope you will, when you have time after your work in parliament, often call on me so that misunderstanding may be avoided. Unlearned as Yuan-hung is, he intends to treat with you in the spirit of frankness and sincerity to the end that we may all co-operate in the great task of building up the nation. Be assured I shall be pleased to accept your valuable advice."

OLD GUN A RELIC.

Portland, Ind., Sept. 22.—George W. Schell, the custodian of the court house, has a relic on exhibition that was recently given him by a friend at Fort Recovery. The relic is a cartridge intended to be used in the old Harper's Ferry smooth bore, muzzle loading rifle. It contains three buckshot lead bullets and powder. In placing the lead in the rifle the soldier was required to bite off the end of the paper to release the powder, which was poured into the gun barrel and followed with lead missiles.

WIFE DECLARES SHE'S TIRED OF ONION MEALS

Kaukakee, Ill., Sept. 22.—With property valued at $25,000, but with no appetite except when his wife buys the food, at which times he eats "copiously," Ira Palmer, 83 years old, maintained that "an onion and a crackler" are enough for any one at a meal, according to the allegations made in a bill for separate maintenance by his wife, Dora. She says that for his comfort she trimmed his beard and cut his hair. Besides not buying food, his wife charges, he accused her of trying to poison him, and told all of the residents in the village of Essex, where they live, that after he is dead he wants a post mortem. He called her a second Belle Gunness, she maintains. On account of hunger, Mrs. Palmer says, she was forced to leave her husband on Sept. 18.

ONE MILITIAMAN IN EVERY TEN IS UNFIT

Result of Physical Disability Predicted Year Ago by War College.

BY FREDERICK M. KERBY.

Washington, Sept. 22.—One man in every ten of the force of militiamen sent to the Mexican border had to be discharged because of physical disability.

That is the conclusion to be drawn from official figures just given out by the war department covering the number of discharges since the national guard was ordered to mobilize in June. This statement, brought up to Aug. 31, shows that up to that time 3,440 members of the guard had been discharged for physical disability. This is approximately one-tenth of the men sent to the border.

In addition to these, 4,519 men had to be discharged because of dependent families, and 146 more were sent back to their necessary duties in the government departments.

Exactly this result was predicted a year ago by the army war college staff. In November, 1915, the war college, under the head of "Lack of Physical Fitness," in a discussion of the militia as organized under the constitution and its value to the nation as a military asset, said:

"Because the standard for medical examination prescribed for the regular army has been adopted by the state, it does not follow that they conform. Those who have inspected the organized militia know this, and men not qualified physically would shortly have to be discharged and might later become unworthy pension claimants."

The war college report then referred to the 1914 inspection of the militia and its showing of 3,218 physically unfit men in the skeleton organizations existing at that time.

"If," says the report, "the necessary superficial examination showed 3,218 unfit, it is believed a searching examination would reveal several times and similar unfit. It is believed that many organization commanders are very lax as to physical qualifications in order to secure the prescribed minimum."

This prediction is absolutely verified by the official figures on discharges for physical disability, just issued.

When the fact is considered that very many of the militia organizations were below even the minimum peace strength and that thousands of men in the guard regiments on the border today are recruits who came in after the call to mobilize, and who, consequently, were examined strictly by the regular army surgeons, it will be apparent that the percentage of physical disability was much higher among the militiamen enlisted prior to the call to arms than even these figures show.

The report indicates the impossibility of relying on the militia system, with the authority for carrying out the regulations vested in state officials. Divided authority must always result in inefficiency and failure to comply with the rules. Only by some system of universal military training directly under the government can the evils of the militia system be remedied in the opinion of the war college and general staff.

READ HOW WE SAVE YOU $4 to $11

Every time you buy clothes in a ground floor store, a big slice of what you pay goes for high rent, expensive equipment and the up-keep of a costly organization.

Here on the second floor, we almost entirely escape these and other heavy expenses. We have practically no rent to pay. Expensive fixtures are not required. There are no elaborate show windows and merchandise displays to maintain. We need no large, high-priced sales and office force.

To do business on the second floor costs us only a fraction of what it would on the first. It is this enormous saving that makes it possible for us to give you the same values for 20% to 30% less money than any ground floor store possibly could.

The clothes we sell are guaranteed $18 to $30 values. Instead of charging these prices early in the season and a different price later, we sell these same clothes for cash at $14 and $19 the year 'round. We can do it because we do not have the high ground floor rent to pay, nor the big running expenses, nor the losses from "sales" and "charge accounts" that other stores have to face.

Come tomorrow. Investigate our prices and values. Make us prove the claims we put forth. We stand back of every garment—color, fabric, fit, tailoring. If you can duplicate these clothes for less than $18 to $30 regularly in any ground floor store—COME BACK AND GET YOUR MONEY.

SOME PRIVATION, BUT NO REAL HUNGER THERE

Dutch Army Officer Makes Report on Food Situation in Berlin.

Amsterdam, Netherlands, Sept. 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Charged by the Netherlands minister of war to investigate the latest German methods of treatment of soldiers suffering from nervous collapse and kindred ailments, Dr. Zeehandelaar, of the Dutch army medical service also took advantage of his stay in Berlin to look into the question of the alleged chronic underfeeding in the German capital.

"I went for the purpose," writes Dr. Zeehandelaar, "to Wannsee Lake, the popular family bathing resort, where I was able to inspect some thousands of Berliners of all ages, stripped to the buff. I only wish my city patients looked like them. The feeding in Berlin is said to be the worst in Germany, with the exception of the garrison towns. But if much privation has to be suffered, there is no real hunger. I took my meals purposely in the most simple eating houses. Food is much dearer than normally; but there is still sufficient and the poorest are cared for. The impression that I, and many with me, had that the war could not last much longer because the stamina of the people was suffering too much by underfeeding, is assuredly very exaggerated, if not entirely incorrect. Your German now takes his coffee without sugar, his potatoes without fat, his—not very palatable—bread with just a suspicion of butter or only with jam, and he puts up with a couple of meatless days a week. Consequently he has lost his proverbial roundness; but if he fares poorly he is still far from starving."

Dr. Zeehandelaar also took occasion to inquire at the German ministry of foreign affairs about the detention of so many doctors and nursing personnel of the entente armies in Germany. He was given to understand that this was a measure of reprisal evoked by the holding back of German medical men in France and Russia. His informants acknowledged that such imprisonment is in conflict with the Convention of Geneva; but they added that an agreement would probably be reached soon with Russia and France by which all those directly connected with the medical services would be released, except a small percentage who were absolutely necessary to attend to their own imprisoned compatriots.

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time In Many Instances

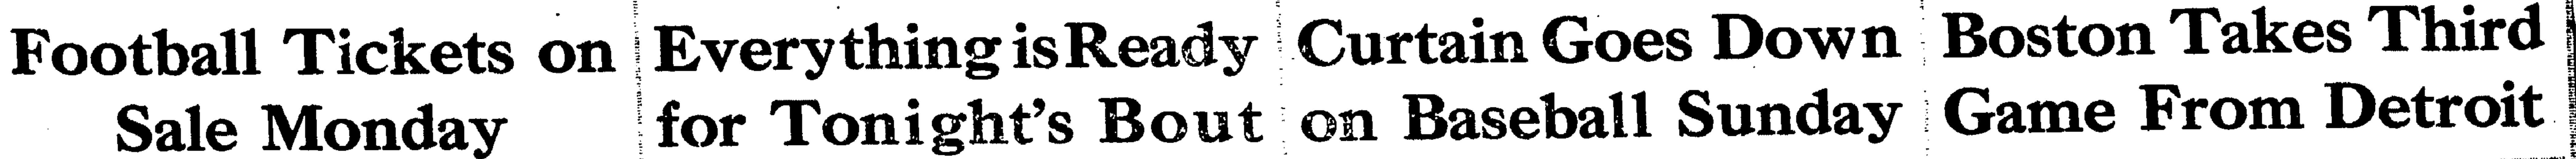

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Ron-Opto tablets. Drop one Ron-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was sent, said: "Ron-Opto is a very respectable remedy. It is composed of ingredients that are well known to chemists and widely accepted by them. The results I have seen in many cases are entirely creditable. It can be used by anyone without any special knowledge or skill. It is a very safe and effective remedy for eye troubles." Dr. Lewis & Co. Inc. New York City.

HUGHES PLAYS WILSON'S MEXICAN POLICY IN FORT WAYNE SPEECH.

Hon. Charles Evans Hughes, republican candidate for president, bitterly assailed President Wilson's Mexican policy in his speech delivered at the New Palace theater Thursday afternoon. He spoke as follows:

"We are here to take our estimate of American conditions and to determine what policies are for the best interests of the American people.

"Let me say at the outset that I have no sympathy with the point of view that American opportunities exist for a selected few, who by virtue of talent or by special advantage are to win isolated and individual successes. That is not American. (Applause.) The only one who is entitled to the name American, of whatever race or creed he may be, is the one who feels that he is a fellow worker with all others in a great co-operative enterprise, and that his useful and helpful activities are to the end of building up a common prosperity in which all the plain people of America shall have a just share.

"It is because I believe that the republican party, as a reunited and liberal party, represents policies that are essential to the building up of a permanent basis for prosperity that I take pleasure in appearing before you as its spokesman.

"I had not expected to resume political activity, but I did resume it at a call which could not be denied because I felt this was a critical period in our history.

Wants to Be Fair.

"Now, when I speak, as I am about to speak, of what has been done and what left undone by the administration, I speak without bitterness, and with a desire to be absolutely fair. We are together in this country and no one can separate me as a citizen from any other citizen, democrat or republican. I am for the benefit of all the people, democrats and republicans—the south as well as the north and the east and west. We want the prosperity of the United States. We come with our proposals not in a spirit of rancor, not with a desire to show disrespect or disrespect, but because it is only by candid and direct statement, by fearless criticism, and representation of new methods suited to solve American problems. Now, I speak of our friends on the other side, therefore, in very plain language, but as friends with whom I hope in large measure we shall be able to co-operate in this campaign. I think of promises made four years ago. We were told that living was to be reduced. Our taxes have not touched the cost of living. It has not been reduced at all.

Failed to Economize.

"We were told the republican party was extravagant and that the new administration, if entrusted with power, would be economical. On the contrary, the new administration has been more wasteful and profligate with respect to the public monies than any administration that preceded it. Only the other day a democratic senator rose in the United States senate to say that at least $20,000,000 should have been saved from the rivers and harbors bill; and he went on to instance other appropriations that were without excuse. It was said that useless offices were to be reduced, and I regret to say that our friends on the other side not only did not reduce useless offices, but they proceeded at once to appoint in many instances useless officers.

"But what was more serious was this: We were promised in the platform of our opponents of four years ago that the constitutional rights of American citizens should protect them on our borders, and go with them throughout the world, and every American citizen holding or having property in any foreign country should have the full protection of the United States government, both for himself and for his property. On the contrary, we have seen American rights abused. We have seen American lives lost, property destroyed and commerce interfered with.

Conditions in Mexico.

"I say that it is deplorable that the pledge was not kept. I desire for a moment to speak of it in relation to our neighboring country of Mexico, for there we had a very important duty linked to our obligation to the nations on this hemisphere, to which we have very peculiar and intimate relations. There was one clear duty for American administration in connection with Mexico. There was the protection of American lives and American property at all events. That was a clear and understandable duty, leading to the straight path of administrative action without the shadow of turning. But instead of that there was an intermeddling with Mexican affairs, which Mexico could not understand and which cost us their friendship and respect.

"I do not speak of the question whether Huerta should or should not have been recognized. That is a matter which presents a false issue. If the administration had felt on the information it had, that he had a stable government and could perform international duties then it could properly have recognized him. If on the other hand it was satisfied that he did not have a stable government and could not perform the international obligations of Mexico, then it was competent to refuse recognition.

Did Not Perform Duties.

"But the one thing which was not proper, and which had no basis for it in international law or in proper usages between nations was to conduct a personal war on Huerta for his extermination from Mexican politics. Yet that was what was done. The duty of protecting American lives and property was left unperformed while an unofficial spokesman was sent to Huerta to inform him not simply that he would not be recognized, but that he must eliminate himself from Mexican politics. He was told by this unofficial spokesman that he could not even be a candidate at a Mexican election. No one in Mexico understood that. No international lawyer understood it. We have been told in recent days that small states should have the respect that great states enjoy. We were told by the administration only a few days ago that our influence upon this hemisphere really depended upon our approving, demonstrating to our neighbors that we had no desire officially to intermeddle with their affairs or to control their internal administration. It was said that we must have a demonstration of our absolute good faith in dealing with these neighboring nations. Yet the truth is that we did intermeddle with those affairs in a way which forfeited to us the esteem which we should have enjoyed, and finally resulted in leaving Mexico to the ravages of revolution without protection of our citizens or the citizens of any other country. We left them to an anarchy which was indescribable, and to a society which will not bear repetition in polite society. I have only recently received the authentic information of the actual instructions that were given with respect to the government of Mexico such as Mexico then had. John Lind was authorized by the executive to state this proposition to a minister of another government, namely—and this is the authorized instruction: 'Huerta will be put out if he does not get out. That it is the preference of the president that it should be accomplished by domestic means if possible, but if it cannot be done by domestic means other means adequate for the purpose will be resorted to.'

"There is no basis for that in the recognition of small states. There is no basis for that in the recognition of the sovereignty of our neighbors. There is no basis for that in a true and correct American policy. We departed from American policy and left our citizens to suffer from the barbarities which resulted when all government was destroyed and anarchy was supreme in Mexico. It is a deplorable recital. I shall not go into the situation at Vera Cruz. We did not go there to get a salute. We got no salute. We did not prevent the shipping of ammunition. We got no reparation. We went there to get rid of the only man that represented any suggestion of government in Mexico, and then we came back without any other result.

"Now I have spoken of promises unperformed; of a record which has exposed us to serious difficulties, reduced our international influence and seriously imperiled our efficacy for good in our international relations. I have spoken of the attitude that we should take.

Economic Problems.

"Now, coming to domestic matters, I desire to say that: We are now to deal with economic problems. We had arrived at a period of great expansion and development in the closing part of the last century. That period of development was under republican auspices and largely aided by republic-lean policies. Along with this extraordinary development there sprang up evils and abuses which demanded correction. It is to the lasting credit of the republican party that in state and nation it furnished agencies for necessary correction while endeavoring to stimulate the development of American prosperity. The interstate commerce act, with its Hepburn amendment for the control of rates and the prevention of unjust discrimination; the prevention of monopolistic practices; the various abuses that had arisen in connection with great aggregations of capital, such as in connection with our insurance companies. In every way where there was evil to be corrected you will find in state and nation efforts made under republican auspices to supply that correction. We established our financial credit beyond question. And now we face the future.

Spirit of Fairness.

"There is a new spirit in the land. It is a spirit of fairness. There is not the disposition that once existed to take the same advantage of public interests. We have determined in this country once and for all time that the interest of the community is supreme. We cherish opportunities for individual talent; but it is decided once and for all that individual initiative and individual talent must find their room for expression without imperiling our great public undertakings or making the public good tributary to selfish advantage. Now, with that lesson learned, we trust to a future which will be a future largely of commercial rivalry. Nations on the other side are organized to a degree never known before and we should be ready and prepared to meet this when it comes."

Reads Labor Record.

Concluding his address, Mr. Hughes read from a labor paper what had been said of his record while governor of New York. The paper said that Mr. Hughes had signed more bills in the interest of labor than any other governor the state had ever known. "I want to see wholesome and safe conditions for the wage-earner," he said. "We must have a sensible view of labor. I can see in the future that the United States will be embroiled in industrial disturbances and we must do what we can to elevate the sense of justice and put forth efforts to prevent these disturbances. I don't say these things because I am a candidate for president. I lived them in New York. I am living them now and I expect to live them if I am elected president of the United States."

SAYS PROSPERITY IS NOT TEMPORARY

Harry H. Hilgeman Addresses Democratic Meeting at Churubusco.

Churubusco, Ind., Sept. 22.—"The United States at the present time is in an era of unprecedented prosperity because of the great policies of reform in domestic affairs," declared Harry H. Hilgeman, of Fort Wayne, Thursday night, speaking before Churubusco democrats at the Olympic theater. "This prosperity is not temporary nor does it depend upon war order." The speaker praised the currency law showing that it was one of the greatest pieces of constructive legislation enacted into law by the present administration. "Business men of high standing, without regard to party politics, have stated in their opinion, panics are impossible under the law." Mr. Hilgeman has refused to state where he stands on the great law. Although asked point blank on numerous occasions whether he is for or against the law, he maintains silence, which Colonel Roosevelt, before the Chicago convention, denounced as 'pussy-footing.' This is one democratic measure with which he finds no fault, but he refuses to commend."

"The American people are going to be asked to vote at the coming election without knowing whether Mr. Hughes would stand for the repeal of the law or maintain it. It is known that the Wall street interest, whose power was curbed by the enactment of this measure, are still opposed to the law."

"In spite of the baiting of such men as Roosevelt and Root and Senators Bacon and Lodge, and the jingo press, President Wilson stood firm for American neutrality and maintained his country in the ways of peace without sacrificing the national honor. In the gravest period since the civil war this country has enjoyed a dignified peace."

INSURANCE MEN MEET.

The state meeting of the Insurance Federation of Indiana, which will be held at Indianapolis, October 23, will be attended by many insurance men of Fort Wayne. A representative of the organization is in the city to arrange the details of entertaining the Allen county delegation. Committees will be named to complete arrangements for the trip to Indianapolis. The federation is composed of insurance men in all branches of the business. An interesting program is to be given. W. C. Grisby, of Indianapolis, and secretary of the organization committee, is in the city making preliminary arrangements.

NEW RECORD MAY BE MADE BY LOCAL MAN

Blum Thinks Biggest Day's Work of Life Possible,
Since Taking Tanlac.

Another interesting statement regarding the merits of Tanlac, the celebrated new medicine, was given on April 19 by Fred Blum, 57 years old, a well-known former resident of rural route No. 15, Ft. Wayne. Mr. Blum found the Master Medicine highly beneficial.

"I have suffered from kidney trouble for the last fifteen years," Mr. Blum said, "and for the last six years I have suffered from muscular rheumatism also. The kidney trouble caused severe pains in my back that prevented me from standing erect and often made it impossible for me to get up after sitting down. The rheumatic pains were especially severe in my knees and elbows."

"I learned of Tanlac through the newspapers and decided to give the new medicine a trial. The third day after I started taking the medicine I began to improve. The kidney trouble has now been entirely banished, the pains in my back having disappeared and the rheumatic pains are practically gone."

"I want to say that the results I have gained through Tanlac are truly wonderful. I feel that I can do a bigger day's work now than ever before. I recommend this medicine because I believe it will help others suffering as I did."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and the like and has proven a fine blood purifier and general system cleanser.

Tanlac is now being specially introduced and explained in Fort Wayne at the four Meyer drug stores—Wayne and Calhoun streets; Calhoun and Columbia; 1420 Calhoun and Broadway and Taylor streets.—Advertisement.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

the Sunday School of the Moody
Bible Institute, Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1916, Western Newspaper Union.)

REVIEW.

READING LESSON—II Cor. 4:1-5:4.

GOLDEN TEXT—We look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal.—II Cor. 4:18.

A map is essential to an understanding of Paul's labors and adventures—especially a present-day map, with its modern names of the places which he visited. It should be used in teaching this lesson, and New Testament history generally.

It will cause the lessons to relate themselves more closely to the world as we now know it. During the past quarter they have extended over a period of about seven years, from approximately A. D. 50 to 57, and are all centered about the life and teaching of Paul. It is difficult to attempt a logical review. A number of lessons have been introduced from the letters of Paul, which are not chronological in the development of the church. It might be well, perhaps, to consider first the leading events in the life of Paul, and second the prominent characteristics of Paul's life as we have had them presented to us, and also to consider six of the cities in which Paul founded churches in Europe, studying their modern names and conditions and looking into the difficulties and dangers which he encountered.

In Lesson One we have the record of Paul's untiring activity, and his persistent use of the Scriptures. Every one of his sermons was confirmed by the Word of God. Lesson Two presents his interest in those who were converted in his ministry; also a suggestion as to his unceasing prayerfulness on their behalf. Lesson Three presents his tact and wisdom in preaching the Risen Christ, and his emphasis upon the need of repentance. Lesson Four gives a suggestion of his untiring activity in the midst of great discouragement and in the face of bitter opposition. Lesson Five reveals his persistent determination to know and to preach nothing save Jesus Christ and him crucified. Lesson Six is Paul's panegyric on love as the supreme gift. Lesson Seven is an exposition of the duty and blessedness of cheerful giving. In it is given a new benediction of Jesus, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," which is nowhere else recorded. Lesson Eight, another suggestion as to his courage. Lesson Nine emphasizes humility, compassionate love and a fearless declaration of the whole counsel of God. Lesson Ten presents his forgetfulness of himself and his eagerness to preach Christ even when threatened by an unrestrained mob. Lesson Twelve again presents his forgetfulness of himself, and his eager seizing of every possible opportunity to preach the Lord Jesus.

Turning to the cities that Paul visited, we first encounter Philippi (now in ruins). This is the first city in Europe where there was a Christian church, and it was one which Paul especially loved. Though he was driven from it by a mob, and escaped by means of an angel, yet his letter to that church is a revelation of his feeling toward his first European congregation. Thessalonica, the modern Saloniki in Macedonia, formerly belonged to the Turkish empire in Europe. Here Paul founded a church, consisting of Jews and Greeks. Paul is accused of turning the world upside down, and teaching Jesus to be the Christian's king. For this he was accused of treason against Rome. Two epistles were written to the church in which he does not record any fault-finding. This church has been called the "Church Beautiful." Athens was then, as now, the chief city of Greece, and one of the three most renowned cities in the history of the world. Paul's famous address on Mars hill was treated with great indifference. His stay was short, and never afterwards do we find him showing forth his learning, but ever after he expresses his determination to know nothing save "Jesus Christ and him crucified." (I Cor. 2:1, 2.) Corinth was a great commercial city. At present the original site is in ruins, but the new Corinth has been built three miles away, and is today a city of approximately 15,000 population. Paul spent a year and a half here, preaching and teaching, and supplemented this with a period of three months of service. It was a worldly and wicked city, and yet Paul here founded his largest church, converted from heathenism.

During this time we have the story of the burning of the books of magic, of the silver shrine of Diana, and of the Ephesian riot which compelled Paul to leave the city.

Paul afterwards revisited the churches he had founded in Europe and about 62 A. D. wrote a letter to the Ephesian churches, some six years after he left them, and while he was a prisoner in Rome.

The journey to Jerusalem, starting from Philippi (now in ruins) where Luke joined Paul with the Gentile church's collection for the poor, is the concluding portion of our lesson.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inner bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, flitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Advertisement.

CHILDREN RAISE 20,000 PURE-BRED PIGS; UNCLE SAM TELLS 'EM HOW.

A "Pig Club" pig, a prize winner, and Jack Starr of Midland, Tex., a "Pig Club" boy who raised it. It is a Duroc-Jersey, weighing 450 pounds at the age of 11 months.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—Twenty thousand pure bred pigs raised by 20,000 youngsters on 20,000 farms! That is the 1916 outcome of the department of agriculture's "pig club" experiment.

The department's nosing around to see why swine husbandry was not profitable in many sections, found poor stock, bungling and improper methods largely responsible.

For years scientific men of the department had been writing learned treatises on hog raising, but farmers didn't pay much attention.

In 1910 E. W. Jones, superintendent of the rural schools of Caddo Parish, La., started the first pig club in the United States. The State Agricultural college became interested and in 1912, the bureau of animal industry in the department of agriculture started, in a small way, to co-operate with the college in the work. By 1913 the clubs had a membership of 2,000 boys and girls.

Under Secretary of Agriculture Houston, the work has been pushed rapidly. By the end of the fiscal year, 1916, the clubs had a membership of 20,000 in thirteen states.

The club members are required to secure a pig, feed and care for it according to instructions, keep records of the amount of feed consumed, the gains in weight, cost of the gain per pound, breeding records, etc.

At the end of the year the members are required to send reports to the state pig club agent, and whenever possible the pig club member must show his or her pig at the county fair.

As a result pure-bred swine are becoming common in many parts of the country where heretofore only poor pigs or none at all were raised. Farmers who used to spend thousands of dollars each year for meat are now producing a surplus. And pork packing plants are springing up in the wake of the "pig clubs."

NEW PROPOSAL FOR MOTHERS' PENSIONS

(BY JUDGE HENRY NEIL, Father of Mothers' Pensions.)

Denver, Col., Sept. 22.—An amendment to the mothers' pension laws providing that working mothers dependent on their own wages for support shall receive a pension of $40 a month for two months before maternity and three months after the child is born will be introduced into the legislatures of the twenty-seven states now operating the mothers' pension system.

Judge Den Lindsey has agreed to write the amendment and introduce it into the Colorado legislature and I will submit it to the legislatures of the other twenty-seven states.

The main object of this amendment is to relieve mothers of work during at least a part of the period when the child needs the nourishment that the mother would not be able to give if it were necessary for her to work.

Judge Lindsey went to Berlin to investigate the mothers' pension system. He says Germany has tried this pension plan and found it both economical and highly humane.

The plan would decrease the number of weak children that would otherwise become permanent public charges and a burden to taxpayers.

The expense of maintaining institutions for the care of feeble minded and under-nourished children is becoming greater and greater and will become an unbearable burden to the taxpayers of the states unless something is done to prevent babies from being weakened at birth by mothers' inability to give them proper nourishment.

This amendment, when enacted into law and put into operation will save the taxpayers millions of dollars now spent to maintain institutions for children and save the lives of millions of babies.

In this country 30 to 40 per cent of the cases requiring charitable relief are due to sickness.

The dye and silk markets could not begin to permit it.
